Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] All the papers out here are headlining how many heat prostrations there are in the East. No use publishing it for it's so hot out here that nobody is able to read it. It's not the heat I mind, it's the perspiration.

Ramsay MacDonald, the new ruler of Great Britain, took an airplane to [illegible] to his work in London. That should be a lesson to some of our great men, who think lives are too valuable to the country to risk flying.

WILL ROGERS.

FORD NEAR FLASHLIGHT EXPLOSION

Three Burned as Sparks Ignite Can of Powder in Photographers' Outfit

NEW YORK, June 21. (Exclusive) With Henry Ford standing only ten feet away, a six-ounce can of flashlight powder exploded on a pier at the foot of West Fourteenth street this afternoon burning two men and a woman who had been watching newspaper photographers snap the automobile manufacturer.

The men, whose names were not obtained, were severely burned and the woman was slightly burned about the legs. The three were taken on board the Berengaria, where they were treated by Ship's Surgeon Doherty.

It is not learned what caused the powder to explode, although it was believed probable that sparks from an exploded charge in a flashlight gun may have dropped in the can.

Mr. Ford had gone to the pier to meet the Berengaria, on which his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Ford, and their two children, were returning from Europe.

Pastor-Writer Passes in East

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—Rev. Thomas B. Gregory, 72 years of age, newspaper columnist and former Universalist minister, died yesterday after a long illness.

Dr. Gregory was born in Edenton, N. C. He served as pastor in Lansing, Mich, retiring twenty-five years ago when pastor of the Universalist Church of the Redeemer of Chicago. For the last ten years he had conducted a column, "Foot Notes," for the New York Evening World.

Britons Lose in London Court

Injunction Barring American Apparatus Refused by Chancery Jurist

Trade Concession, However, Allows of Result Sought in Legal Action

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Herald-Tribune.]

LONDON, June 21. (Exclusive)—As the result of two decisions today—one in court and the other in the industrial world—important changes in the British talking picture industry appear imminent. The court decision might be counted as a setback. Justice Clauson in the chancery division refused to grant an injunction to the British Talking Pictures, Ltd., restraining the Elite Film Theater from using any other apparatus than theirs, "any other" meaning American.

When the injunction petition was filed two months ago it was hailed as the opening wedge for a new combination which the British industry has just made with holders of the continental talking device patents "to combat American domination of the market." Justice Clauson ruled the grounds for the injunction untenable.

While lawyers were arguing the case, however, a result almost the same as the injunction would have accomplished was achieved without legal recourse. A number of the leading theaters were told by representatives of the American film producers that they could present talking films over other than American apparatus. The only reservation was that the other apparatus be proven equally as good. That, according to the British, "breaks the embargo" formed by the insistence of American producers that their films be shown on Western Electric apparatus. The Western Electric and American producers deny that there ever has been an embargo.

Kerry Sails as "Stowaway" to Placate Wife

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—The New York American tomorrow will say that Norman Kerry, film star, boarded the liner Majestic and sailed for Europe tonight without passport, ticket or other credentials, in the hope of effecting a reconciliation with his estranged wife, Rosina, who sailed on the Majestic to visit their daughter in a London school.

Kerry was not permitted to board the boat by way of the gangplank because he had no ticket or passport. He then ran forward, scaled the fence in front of the baggage compartment, and leaped on the escalator used to take baggage aboard. He evaded several of the crew who sought to stop him and went aboard sitting on top of a trunk.

Only a few minutes before, Mrs. Kerry in her stateroom aboard the liner, said she did not expect Kerry, and that she did not expect a reconciliation and that none is pending.

Fortune Missing in Mail Pouches

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) June 21. (Exclusive)—The disappearance of one mail pouch said to contain between $50,000 and $75,000 in cash and another containing checks to the value of several thousand dollars was being investigated here today by postoffice inspectors, according to the announcement made by Postmaster A. W. Jeynes.

The pouch containing the money was sent to this city from Boston along with three other pouches, but according to Esko Burgess, postoffice messenger, only three sacks were taken from the 10:03 a.m. train Wednesday.

The shipment was from the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston and consigned to a local bank.

COURT GIVES DIVORCE TO WILL HAYS

SULLIVAN (Ind.) June 21. (AP)—Will H. Hays, president of the Motion-Picture Producers' and Distributors of America, was granted a divorce in the Sullivan County Circuit Court yesterday from Mrs. Helen Hays.

The divorce was granted by Judge DeBaun. The proceedings were conducted quietly and news of the legal separation did not become known until today.

The action, filed some time ago by Hays, was not contested by Mrs. Hays. She did not appear in the courtroom but was represented by Michael Foley, an attorney of Indianapolis. Mr. Hays was represented by Attorneys Paul Stratton and Alonzo Owen of the local firm of Hays & Hays.

Four Brothers, Missing, Feared River Victims

CHICO, June 21. (AP)—Four boys, missing from their home since Tuesday, were being sought by posses near here today. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stone of Dayton.

Fear that the boys had met with a mishap on the Sacramento River was expressed by their parents, who told authorities the two older boy were believed to have taken a rowboat out on the river. The younger two, they thought, then had taken another boat and attempted to follow their brothers.

PARLEY ON DAM WATCHED

Local Water Group Going to Las Vegas Tomorrow for Conference on Boulder Project

At the conference scheduled to take place in Las Vegas, Nev., tomorrow, negotiations will be opened which are expected to lead to early authorization for beginning of construction work on Boulder dam, according to an announcement yesterday from the Department of Water and Power.

Representing the United States government at the conference will be Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, Reclamation Commissioner Mead, and Chief Engineer Walter of the Reclamation Service. The Metropolitan Water District will be represented by W. P. Whitsett, president of its board of directors, and the local water department will be represented by H. A. Van Norman, its general manager, several of the commissioners and several engineers.

Secretary Wilbur is scheduled to arrive at Las Vegas at 6:15 a.m. today over the Union Pacific on the private car Wildwood, while Dr. Mead and Mr. Walter will arrive about an hour later. The Los Angeles delegation will leave Sunday morning by airplane.

The six months' period following adoption of the Boulder dam bill having ended yesterday, Secretary Wilbur has pointed out that the way now is clear for the start of actual construction work as soon as arrangements are made to underwrite the cost of construction.

Secretary Wilbur will leave Las Vegas for the North tomorrow night, but Dr. Mead and Mr. Walter will stay over until Monday when they will leave for Los Angeles with the local delegation. They will be guests Tuesday evening at the dinner to be given at the Biltmore by the Citizens' Water and Power Committee of Los Angeles and at this dinner Dr. Mead is expected to outline the government's plans definitely and in detail. Joseph Scott, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, will preside.

Model in Air More Than Eight Minutes at Indoor Flight Contest in Detroit

DETROIT, June 21. (AP)—Joseph Culver, 18 years of age, of Oakland, Cal., today is holder of the world record for indoor sustained flight of a model airplane. His monoplane remained in the air 8 minutes 33 seconds in the indoor tournament of the Airplane Model League of America here today. The previous record was 5 minutes 53.6 seconds.

Donald C. Burnham, 14, of West Lafayette, Ind., attained a new world's record for outdoor flight yesterday at Selfridge field when his model remained in the air ten and one-half minutes.

Winners of the indoor and outdoor meets will go to Europe to participate in the international tournament as a prize award. Final flights will be made tomorrow.

Paris Investors Charge Swindle in Local Stocks

PARIS, June 21.—Charges are being investigated here that small investors were defrauded of about $2,000,000 through the sale in Paris at exaggerated prices of 2,000,000 shares of a Los Angeles company which operates copper mines in Arizona. It was stated that nothing indicated that the company itself had anything to do with the affair.

Examining Magistrate Audibert, upon a report from secret service men, summoned Louis Bonhomme, asserted to be the organizer of a high-pressure sales campaign, to explain the situation, and nine small bankers and brokers said to be involved.

It is charged that the shares issued by the company, which was organized in 1926, were sold at ten and twenty times their real value through rigged quotations in the over-the-counter market.

Three Most Distant Ones Ever Studied Speed Away From Us at 3100 to 4900 Miles a Second

BERKELEY, June 21. (AP)—New evidence bearing on the structure of the universe has been laid before the American Association for the Advancement of Science with announcement of a study of three celestial bodies, fainter and more distant than any whose light ever before has been analyzed.

Dr. Milton Humason and Dr. Francis Pease of Mt. Wilson Observatory presented the evidence, which included the measurement of the greatest velocity known in nebulae, 4900 miles a second by one of the bodies.

All three bodies are moving away from the earth, the other two at speeds of 4600 and 3100 miles a second. Two are believed to lie in a cluster near the pole of the Milky Way, while the third is nearer the earth.

The bodies, analyzed by their spectrum in the great 100-inch reflector of the observatory, are 50,000,000 light years away from the earth. Each light year is equivalent to about 6,000,000,000,000 miles.

The significance of the work is thought to lie in the curious relation that, where bodies are moving away from the earth, the more distant they are, the faster they appear to be moving.

This relation has been suggested as a clew to the structure of the universe. The theory is that velocities are illusory and the displacements seen in the spectrum are not actual motions, but distortions in light waves that have traveled enormous distances through space.

The distortions may be due to a curvature of space, predicted by Einstein in his theory of relativity. Thus, it is thought further study may show that the universe is closed, exhibiting a finite volume with no boundaries, just as the surface of the earth is closed in two dimensions.

MEXICAN RELIGIOUS WAR BROUGHT TO CONCLUSION

Portes Gil and Prelates Agree; Teaching in Churches Will be Sanctioned Under Pact

MEXICO CITY, June 21. (AP)—Simultaneous announcements tonight by President Emilio Portes Gil and Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz, senior member of the Catholic hierarchy in Mexico, informed the country which has been at strife for three years that the long-standing controversy between church and state is at an end.

The archbishop, who was papal delegate for the negotiations, told the children of the church that the priests will resume leadership of the services in the churches, as they have not done since August 1, 1926. He called on them "to cooperate with all moral efforts made for the benefit of all people of our fatherland."

PRESIDENT PORTES GIL.

The statement of the President, which the church delegates saw and approved at a final conference this evening, gives the basis on which agreement was reached on the three principal issues.

The terms give the church the right to specify those ministers in charge of property who should register under the laws, give it the right to instruct adults or children within the precincts of the church although not elsewhere in public or private schools, and stress that under the Constitution any citizen may apply at any time for amendment, repeal or passage of any law.

ARCHBISHOP RUIZ

The agreement is broad enough to permit reoccupation of the churches by priests, although it is not a complete settlement of all differences between church and state. The way is left open for future discussion of these if Catholic subjects of Mexico desire to seek a change in the state constitution.

The bishops have not stated when regular services will begin but it is believed that the priests will begin to reoccupy the churches within a few days. In expectation of a favorable outcome of the negotiations people have thronged the churches of the capital for the past several days.

PURPOSE EXPLAINED

The President's statement said it is not the purpose of the Constitution or the government to destroy the identity of the Catholic or any other church, or interfere in any way with their spiritual functions.

With reference to "provisions of the law which have been misunderstood," the President set forth three points.

(1.) That the law requiring registration of the priests does not mean the government can register those who have not been named for that purpose by the church authorities.

BISHOP DIAZ

(2.) While the Constitution prohibits religious instruction in public and private schools, it does not prevent such instruction within the church confines.

(3.) Members of any church resident in Mexico may avail themselves at any time of the constitutional privilege of petitioning for amendment, repeal or passage of any law.

STATEMENT BY RUIZ

A simultaneously issued statement by Archbishop Ruiz, Papal delegate, said merely the conversations with the President had been marked by a spirit of good will and respect and that as a consequence of the President's written public statement the Mexican clergy will resume religious services pursuant to the laws in force.

After holding conference for an hour early this afternoon, the Presi-

Hoover Will Sign Act Monday

Attorney-General Fails to Have Papers Ready for His Proclamation

Conference at Las Vegas on Power Contracts Takes Place Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, June 21. (Exclusive)—President Hoover delayed today until Monday the signing of a proclamation declaring the Boulder Dam Act effective. It was explained that Atty.-Gen. Mitchell had not completed the preparation of the papers.

Under the terms of the act it was to become effective six months after its enactment in case the President issued a proclamation setting forth that six of the eleven States of the Colorado River Basin had ratified the Colorado River Compact. The six months was up today and the necessary six States have ratified.

SECRETARY WILBUR SCORES OIL WASTE

FRESNO, June 21. (AP)—On his way to Las Vegas, Nev., whence he will go to the site of the Boulder Dam project, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior of the United States, scored waste in oil production, commented upon farm relief and termed the power-irrigation development undertaking with which he is immediately concerned, "the largest thing attempted since the construction of the Panama Canal."

In an interview given aboard his private car here Dr. Wilbur said that he will return from Las Vegas on Sunday to make a thorough inspection of the Kettleman Hills oil fields of Fresno county in the interests of working out a plan which will bring about more intelligent and less wasteful oil production.

"An agreement has been reached," Dr. Wilbur said, "under the terms of which lessors of the middle dome at Kettleman have agreed to delay drilling. It is to be hoped that a similar agreement may be made affecting the two other domes in the rich field. The Department of the Interior hopes to make the producers see the wastefulness of drilling when oil is not needed.

"It is all the oil and gas we are ever going to get and yet in some fields wastage runs as high as 85 per cent. Gas is allowed to run out and 15 per cent of the oil is never brought to the surface."

WATER RELATIONS WITH MEXICO TO FORE

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—With its all-American canal, which will take the Imperial Valley's water supply out of Mexico, and its storage reservoir to regulate the flow of the Colorado River before it reaches its Mexican outlet, the Boulder dam project act, which goes into effect with the proclamation of President Hoover, brings international water relations to the fore. Throughout Boulder dam negotiations cognizance has been taken of the fact that the Mexican question must be met.

Dr. Elwood Mead, who, as Commissioner of Reclamation, will supervise building of the dam, also

POLITICIANS PRAY TO TREES

Californians Begin to Find Inspiration in Redwoods 2000 Years Older Than Christianity

BY HARRY CARR
"Times" Staff Representative

EUREKA, June 21. (Exclusive)—Two groves of giant redwoods which were 2000 years old when Christ was crucified today were saved from the ax.

They are located about 250 miles north of San Francisco on the Redwood highway.

One was dedicated to Solon Williams, a pioneer in the movement to save these trees. He came from an old American family, his grandfather having been one of the founders of Williams College. His father was a pioneer of San Francisco. The grove dedicated to his memory is a magnificient wild woods cathedral so dense that the sun filters down in wan veils of light.

The other grove dedicated today will stand as a monument to the memory of William H. Sage, a pioneer lumberman who gave much to Cornell University. This grove comes to the State through the generosity of the Sage Land and Improvement Company, which his son and nephew control.

In both cases granite rocks have been placed with bronze tablets inscribed with the dedication.

FIGHTERS ENCOURAGED

The fight to save these giant trees now is more encouraging. The better part of the trees immediately lining the highway have been rescued or are in a way to be saved.

The present anxiety is to rescue the magnificent grove at Bull Flat. Through the $12,000,000 State bond issue it is regarded as more than probable that these trees will be spared. The law provides that $1 must be raised privately for each dollar of State bond money.

Only about 2 per cent of the entire redwood forest will be included in these gifts and purchases. Those trees back from the highway are doomed. After standing 4000 years dent, Archbishop Ruiz and Bishop Diaz met again at Chapultepec Palace at 4 p.m., to affix their signatures to the declarations prepared for the press. It was more than an hour later when these were finally distributed, and then with the restriction to publication in newspapers of Saturday, the 22nd inst., throughout the world.

GIL'S STATEMENT

The statement of the President said:

"I have had conversations with Archbishop Ruiz y Flores and Bishop Pascual Diaz. These conversations took place as the result of public statements made by Archbishop Ruiz on May 2 and a statement made by me on May 8.

"Archbishop Ruiz and Bishop Diaz informed me that the Mexican bishops have felt that the constitution and laws, particularly the provision which requires registration of ministers and the provision which grants separate states the right to determine the maximum number of ministers, threaten the identity of the church, giving the state the control of its spiritual offices.

"They assure me that the Mexican bishops are animated by sincere patriotism and that they desire to resume public worship if this can be done consistently with their loyalty to the Mexican republic and their consciences.

"They stated that it could be done if the church could enjoy the freedom within the law to live and to exercise its spiritual offices.

DUTY OUTLINED

"I am glad to take advantage of this opportunity to declare publicly and very clearly that it is not the purpose of the constitution, nor of the laws, nor of the government of the republic to destroy the identity of the Catholic Church or of any other, or to interfere in any way with its spiritual functions.

"In accordance with the oath of office which I took when I assumed the provisional government of Mexico to observe and to cause to be observed the constitution of the republic and the laws derived therefrom, my purpose has been at all times to fulfill honestly that oath and see that the laws are applied without favor to any sect and without any bias whatever my administration being disposed to hear from any person, be he dignitary of some church or merely a private individual, any complaints in regard to injustices arising from undue application of the laws.

POINTS LISTED

"With reference to certain provisions of the law which have been misunderstood, I also take advantage of this opportunity to declare:

"First, that the provision of the law which required the registration of ministers does not mean that the government can register those who have not been named by a hierarchical superior of the religious creed in question or in accordance with its regulations; second, with regard to religious instruction, the constitution and laws in force definitely prohibit it in primary or higher schools whether public or private, but this does not prevent ministers of any religion from imparting its doctrines within the church confines to adults and their children, who may attend for that purpose; third, that the constitution as well as the laws of the country guarantee to all residents of the republic the right of petition and therefore the members of any church may apply to the appropriate authorities for amendment, repeal or passage of any law.

(Signed) "President of the Republic,

"E. PORTES GIL."

RUIZ'S STATEMENT

The statement by Archbishop Ruiz said:

"Bishop Diaz and myself have had several conferences with the President, the results of which are set forth in the statement which he has issued today.

"I am glad to say that all conversations have been marked by a spirit of mutual good will and respect. As a consequence of the said statement made by the President, the Mexican clergy will resume religious services pursuant to the laws in force.

"I entertain the hope that resumption of religious services may lead the Mexican people, animated by a spirit of mutual good will, to co-operate in all moral efforts made for the benefit of all people of our Fatherland.

(Signed) "LEOPOLDO RUIZ,

"Archbishop of Morelia and Apostolic delegate."

WOMEN TO BE FREED

All women held at the prison colony on the islands of Las Tres Marias, off the west coast, for violations of the religious laws were ordered released tonight by the Department of the Interior.

The order does not include Mother Superior Concepcion, who is serving twenty years as "intellectual author" of the assassination of Gen. Obregon, or any others convicted of crimes other than violations of laws governing religious activities. There are said to be nearly 100 women at the penal colony who will benefit by the order.

ARCHBISHOP'S STATEMENT

Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz issued a second and less formal statement later tonight.

"I consider this settlement as the beginning of a real era of peace for the republic," he said, "which will feel without doubt the benedictions which come together with harmony and the close union of a whole nation with its government.

"Now, more than ever, I feel most deeply obliged to all those who have interested themselves in this solution and have helped us to reach this solution which, if not complete, is a road by which to reach a complete one."

The archbishop said that acting Secretary of the Interior Felipe Canales, who attended today's conference, would be consulted with regard to details of the reopening of the churches. He thought that this might be done perhaps on the 29th inst.

Asked whether the services would be held simultaneously in the capital, the archbishop answered, "at least in the churches strategically situated, because if there should be services in only one or two churches, the masses would be so enormous that they might break down the churches."

It was not believed that all churches in Mexico could be opened at once for it will be some time before the priests of some of them can reach their posts. Many have been living in the United States and Cuba.

VALUE REALIZED

It is only very recently that the northern counties have been awakened to a realization of the commercial value of these trees as scenery. The unprogressiveness of these towns passes all human belief. The idea finally has penetrated, however, that the great wonders of the world bring tourists; and tourists bring money.

They finally have gotten together on a program to perfect the highways through this primeval forest. At their invitation a delegation of newspaper men, of which I am one, is touring this region.

Tomorrow, Gov. Young will dedicate the new Hiouchi bridge over the Smith River near Crescent City. This will complete the last link of what will be the greatest scenic drive in the world, beginning at the Canadian border and ending in San Diego.

POLITICIANS PRAY

The country is sparsely settled now and even timberland is relatively cheap. But hotels are going up in these great groves and many wealthy families are building fine summer homes where the forest giants stand overlooking the winding rivers.

The road for whose improvement every county in the State ought to be working goes for miles through the very heart of the most magnificent and awe-inspiring forest to be found anywhere in the world. A party of San Francisco politicians went through it recently and stopped by unanimous consent to kneel and pray in the cool majestic age-old silence. If you know what San Francisco ward politicians are like, any further language in favor of these trees becomes pallid and palsied.

Attorneys Get Reprimands

AUBURN, June 21. (AP)—The State Bar Association board of governors, meeting here today, reprimanded three attorneys for unprofessional conduct in handling affairs of clients. Tomorrow further disciplinary matters will be considered, including nine disbarments, four suspensions, twelve reprimands and eighteen dismissals. Those reprimanded today are Carroll S. Bucher and Otto G. Kuklinsky of San Francisco and Harry G. Cohen of Los Angeles.

The next meeting will be held in Watsonville, July 19 and 20, next.

Berlin Cabinet Considers Plan

BERLIN, June 21. (AP)—A Cabinet meeting presided over by Foreign Minister Gustave Stresemann, today deliberated upon the results of the Paris reparations conference and the meeting at Madrid of the Council of the League of Nations.

The Cabinet resolved that "the government of the Reich agrees to regard the Paris experts' plan of June 7 as a basis for a conference between governments. In necessary connection with this a solution of the remaining pending questions which arose from the World War must be sought."

INDIAN RACER AND ONE OTHER HURT BY AUTO

YREKA, June 21. (AP) — Henry Thomas, Indian marathon racer, whose Indian name is Flying Cloud, and Milton Esman were seriously injured today when their automobile dropped over a 100-foot precipice near Happy Camp. The two men were treated at Siskiyou County Hospital, where physicians hold little hope for their recovery.

CHERRY TARIFF SENATE TOPIC

California Asks Increase in Three Schedules

Preservers Say Fruit Too Good for Canning

Bootlegging of Vegetables Offers New Peril

WASHINGTON, June 21. (Exclusive)—California cherries came before the Senate Finance Committee today when Representative Free of San Jose asked for a tariff increase on dried, frozen and pitted cherries. This raise was opposed by the National Preservers' Association and the Dried Fruit Association of New York on the grounds principally that the California cherry is too good for their purposes. This is the first time such a plea has come before the committee. Ordinarily the claim is that domestic product is inferior.

The largest foreign competitor of the California product is Italy. Representatives of the two associations opposed to the increase on cherries argued that imported fruit is more suitable to their purposes. Mr. Free pointed out, and submitted affidavits to prove his point, that the preserving industry used California cherries in 1918 when the imported cherries were too high in price, and found that they could use the domestic fruit.

Mr. Free's statement appeared to be so strong and ably presented that the committee did not complete a first draft of a downward revised cherry schedule which one member started during the testimony of the association's representatives.

VEGETABLE BOOTLEGGING

Other California products coming before the attention of the Senate committee today were green peas, peppers and tomatoes, when A. W. Morrill, representing the West Coast Vegetable Association of Nogales, asked for a tariff cut on these products.

He based his argument on the statement that Mexico and Cuba supply the winter market of these commodities when this country is unable to do so. He said that the two sister nations do not compete with this country in the winter months and that these vegetables would go off the dinner table in America in winter if the tariff rate granted by the House were sustained by the Senate.

With the Mediterranean fruit fly quarantine in force in Florida prohibiting the sale of host fruits and vegetables in the South and West, Dr. Morrill said that he believes vegetable "bootlegging" would begin throughout the country if the Mexican and Cuban supplies of these fresh vegetables were cut off.

If bootlegged vegetables did materialize Dr. Morrill felt that they could easily spread the fly to all sections of the country in spite of the rigid inspection service now in force.

Dr. Morrill did not ask that these three vegetable products be put on the free list, but asked that they be placed under a competitive, rather than a prohibitive tariff.

SEASONAL REGULATION

Senator Ashurst of Arizona has introduced three amendments to the tariff bill exempting these vegetables from the duty specified by the House during certain months when this country is not generally producing them. Tomatoes in their natural state are exempted by the Ashurst amendment from the three-cent duty set by the House from December 1 to May 1. Prepared or preserved tomatoes are left subject to a 40 per cent ad valorem duty all year round.

The Ashurst amendment on green peas cuts the duty on green or unripe peas from 2 cents a pound to 1 cent a pound between December 15 and March 15. Peppers would come in under a 3 cents a pound tariff between January 1 and April 31, under the third Ashurst amendment, instead of under the 3-cent duty set in the House tariff bill.

HIGHER RATES URGED BEFORE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—Rounding out a week and a half of hearings on the House tariff bill, Senate Finance Subcommittees today heard another group of witnesses plead for changes in the measure, principally with respect to agriculture. Half-day sessions will be held tomorrow and on Monday two new subjects, wool and sundries, will be taken up.

Higher rates on flax seed, mill feeds, screenings, and sweet clover, were urged before the subcommittee on agriculture by Representative Burtness, Republican, North Dakota, who said there is much room for improvement of the House bill even though it does contain rates on agricultural products, "better than any tariff bill in history."

A 70 cents a bushel duty on flaxseed as compared with the present rate of 56 cents and the bill rate of 63 cents, Burtness contended, would encourage a greater diversification of crops in the Northwest and bring many thousands of acres now growing surplus crops into the production of a more profitable commodity.

COMPARATIVE COST

Burtness maintained the 56-cent flaxseed duty does not take into account a fair basis of production cost in Argentina, the principal competing country, as it makes allowances for profit. The 70-cent rate, he added, would equalize what he believes to be the actual differences in cost between this country and Argentina.

Latin America also figured in the arguments on live cattle and fresh meat rates.

W. C. Green, Naco, Ariz., representing American interests in New Mexico, Arizona and California, protested against the proposed increase in rates on feeder cattle, declaring imports into this country from Mexico and Canada, are negligible. He asked maintenance of the present 1 1-2-cent a pound duty on cattle weighing up to 900 pounds as against a House rate of 2 cents on animals up to 800 pounds.

Declaring domestic cattle raisers face a menace in the possible lifting of the sanitary embargo against Argentine cattle and meats, C. B. Enman of Ermington, Mo., representing the National Live Stock Producers' Association, sought higher duties than those provided in the measure and suggested feeder and beef cattle be defined by name and grade instead of by weight.

J. M. Walsh, Elliott-Granville Linen Corporation, New York, condemned what he declared as "unscientific methods" in the House provisions affecting linen yarns and threads. Testimony for and against specific rates together with ad valorems, on earthen and chinaware, was also heard.

Dan Sutherland, Alaskan delegate to Washington, appeared before the Senate Finance Subcommittee and asked for a rate of 15 per cent on shrimp meat, which is the same as provided on crab meat; 40 per cent on salmon as against a proposed rate of 25 per cent, and retention of the House rate on herring.

He said the Japanese, with large concessions from soviet Russia, are the greatest competitors in the Pacific-Northwest area.

GARBLED WIRE CHARGE MADE

Pair Ask $3925 Damages as Result of Asserted Error in Telegram

Charging that a telegram relating to the sale of stock on the New York Stock exchange was garbled and sent to the wrong address, P. F. Jann and Gertrude M. Jann filed suit yesterday in the United States District Court against the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company. The plaintiffs ask damages of $3925, asserting that is the amount they lost. It is charged that the message was addressed to Donald McVicar, but that it was not sent to his address. It is charged that, because of the fluctuations in the stock market the plaintiffs lost the amount claimed in damages, together with interest from November 27, 1928.

is American chairman of the International Water Commission.

ON WAY TO SITE

Dr. Mead is en route to Boulder dam-project site, but information from his office in the Department of the Interior indicates he is keenly interested in clearing up the water situation all along the border, and is anxious to deal internationally with the Colorado River question. New developments have made old water treaties with Mexico inadequate.

Since establishment of the International Water Commission by an act of Congress in May, 1924, both countries have been gathering data with a view to negotiating a new treaty on irrigation projects on the Rio Grande, Colorado and Tia Juana rivers.

This preliminary work now is practically completed, and Dr. Mead is said to have fairly well in mind the proposition that he expects to place before the next meeting of the International Water Commission in Mexico City August 20.

PERSONNEL LISTED

At this meeting the United States will be represented by Dr. Mead, Gen. Lansing H. Beach and W. E. Anderson, commissioners, and Miss Mae A. Schnurr, secretary. Mexico will be represented by Fortunato Dozalch, Gustava P. Serrano and Ignacio Lopez Bancalari as commissioner and Federico Ramos, secretary.

Probably what land is being irrigated effectually at present will be a determining factor in the negotiations. Rotation of irrigation to include larger areas now is in effect on the Bay of California, where Mexican lands have been developed by Colorado River waters through American capital. Mexican lands fed by the Colorado are about equal in area to Texas lands fed by the Rio Grande.

MEAD RETICENT ON WAY TO DAM SITE

SALT LAKE CITY, June 21. (AP)—Dr. Elwood Mead, United States Reclamation Commissioner, said it is too early to discuss power rates or the principal features of construction of Boulder dam, as he passed through here tonight en route to the dam site near Las Vegas, Nev.

Commissioner Mead is accompanied by a party of engineers and consulting experts. The fact that the Boulder Dam Act became effective today, has no bearing on the visit of the party to the site, he said.

Gov. Dern of Utah met the party at the train. He plans to go to Las Vegas tomorrow if official business does not interfere.

Dr. Mead and his party will meet Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, at Las Vegas. They will go to Los Angeles Tuesday and leave Wednesday for Yuma to inspect plans for the all-American canal.

DAWES-GIBSON PARLEY SLATED

Ambassadors Will Meet in London Conference

Naval Disarmament Issue to be Surveyed

Observers Forecast Delay in Arms Meeting

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—Hugh S. Gibson, American Ambassador to Belgium, and head of the American delegation to the League of Nations preparatory disarmament conference, has been authorized by President Hoover to go to London next week to discuss naval disarmament with Ambassador Dawes.

An announcement today by the State Department said the conference between the ambassadors will have particular reference to the present status of the disarmament question before the preparatory commission of the League of Nations.

TO EQUIP DAWES

This announcement was supplemented by information in other official quarters that Ambassador Gibson will acquaint the new representative at the Court of St. James with full details of the formula proposed by him for evaluating the relative strength of fighting ships and of what took place at the recent Geneva conference.

With this first-hand information, it is felt Ambassador Dawes will be all the better equipped to carry on discussions of naval disarmament with Premier MacDonald and other officials of the British government before whom the American formula has been laid by the British delegate to the Geneva meeting.

In this connection advices here today are that the British Premier, if he finally decides to come to the United States for a personal discussion of Anglo-American relations with President Hoover, will defer his visit for several months. It is stated that Mr. MacDonald only now is beginning the organization of his government and that in the very nature of things he will be unable to leave Great Britain in the earlier days of his administration.

DELAY INEVITABLE

Incidentally, some officials here expressed the opinion that some observers of international affairs have been shooting rather beyond the mark in indicating that an early naval disarmament conference between the United States and Great Britain is likely.

They noted that there must be a basis upon which to proceed with such a conference if concrete results are to be expected, and that the first step taken by President Hoover looking to a general reduction of the sea power of the leading nations is the presentation of a formula or "yardstick" upon which the various nations might agree.

Details of this must occupy the experts for some months before there could be even another preliminary conference at which an effort would be made to bring together the experts of the sea powers on a common application of the formula.

OFFICIALS IRRITATED

The visit of Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador, to Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, furnished a point of irritation today for high administration officials, but the only formal statement was one by Secretary Stimson embodying a denial by the British Ambassador that he had discussed the freedom of the seas with the Idaho Senator.

After morning newspapers had recorded the call of Sir Esme on Senator Borah, the Ambassador called Secretary Stimson on the telephone and they subsequently had a conference which the Secretary of State said had been brought about in the manner of a joint request.

Mr. Stimson later issued this formal statement:

"The British Ambassador called on me this morning to say, in connection with the article published today in the Washington Post to the effect that he had had a conversation with Senator Borah on the subject of the freedom of the seas, that there is no foundation whatever for this statement, that the subject of freedom of the seas was not mentioned in any way either by Senator Borah or the British Ambassador."

From other sources came the information that naval disarmament had been touched upon briefly in the conversation, which lasted only about ten minutes.

Senator Borah had no comment to offer either on the Ambassador's visit or the State Department statement.

Mayor on Trial for Liquor Plot

RENO, June 21. (AP)—Charged with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act, Mayor Hesse of Las Vegas and three other defendants went on trial today in the Federal court at Carson City. That is why Mayor Hesse was not in Las Vegas today to welcome Secretary of the Interior Wilbur and his party.

R. E. Lake, former Chief of Police of Las Vegas, Roy Neagle, former police commissioner of Las Vegas, and James Ferguson, reputed bootleg king of Clark county and the Boulder Dam district are the other defendants.

C. W. Bradshaw, whose 9-year-old son was shot and killed about a year ago while he was riding with his father in a car that was being pursued by Chief of Police Lake and another officer, was the first government witness called. He told of being convicted three times for bootlegging and said his arrest and conviction came after he had refused to pay $50 a month for protection to Ferguson.

OIL PROBLEMS WILL BE SOLVED

Requa Returns from Meet With Confidence

Settlement by End of Year His Prediction

Land Withdrawal Policy to Stand, Says Speaker

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (Exclusive)—Mark L. Requa, appointed by President Hoover to preside over the recent oil conservation conference at Colorado Springs, returned to this city today with the assertion that "present methods of petroleum production must be so altered as to make possible rational control, rather than the orgy of dissipation which has led to the point that the bringing in of a new oil field is looked upon as a disaster instead of a blessing."

Requa will remain here for a few days before departing for Santa Barbara to prepare plans for further discussion of the points raised at the Colorado Springs parley.

WORK TO CONTINUE

"The work started at Colorado Springs by the oil conference will be continued and undoubtedly some constructive proposal will be developed that will go far in clearing up the present unsatisfactory conditions," Requa declared. "The significant fact is that the conference recessed and did not adjourn. In other words, the members wanted to go on with the discussion.

"No one not familiar with the problem can have an adequate conception of its ramifications or its immense significance as related to the conservation of the mineral resources of the United States, of which petroleum is the most acutely in need of some rational program.

BY END OF YEAR

"The date of the next meeting will depend very largely on the work accomplished during the recess in outlining the necessary legislation, getting expressions from the various States and trying to bring the differing opinions into harmony. I should think that by the next Congress—that is, by the end of the year—the whole matter will be definitely threshed out, final suggestions made and a further meeting of the conference held."

Looking back on the work of the conference, Requa said it "accomplished all that was expected of it.

"There was a wide divergence of opinion, largely caused by lack of information as to what the real objectives were. It is noteworthy that several of the most skeptical and hostile of the delegates left Colorado Springs promising active co-operation in the future. There is a great deal of misconception over the powers to be created under a compact. The addresses, however, by L. Ward Bannister of Denver and Francis C. Wilson of Santa Fe very largely cleared up this question and showed conclusively that such a compact could be anything that might be agreed to. It does not necessarily mean coercion and under no circumstances means an attempt to take away State's rights."

POLICY SETTLED

Requa does not believe that there will be any changes made in the national administration's policy of oil withdrawals.

In October Requa is scheduled to go to Tokio as a delegate to the World's Engineering Congress, but his work in connection with the oil conservation program may interfere with this visit. He has just received his certificate from Secretary of State Stimson as one of President Hoover's appointees.

NEW MEXICO ASKS OIL BAN LIFTED

SANTA FE (N. M.) June 21. (AP)—A petition to President Hoover and Secretary Wilbur for modification of the recent oil conservation policy to permit exploitation in New Mexico was sent to Washington from here today.

The request was signed by Lieut.-Gov. Woodward, Francis C. Wilson, Herman R. Crile, B. C. Mossman and G. C. Staley, who were the members of the New Mexican executive committee to the recent Colorado Springs conference.

Just before the take-off Sergt. Madariaga was cut severely on the head while making a final inspection. An escort plane struck the trans-Atlantic plane with considerable force. The latter was not damaged but a cut was opened in the head of the mechanic which required seven stitches to close. Nothing daunted, he insisted on being taken along as soon as he was bandaged.

Maj. Franco was shaken up and received contusions in the accident.

Fifteen Felons Still at Large

SWEENEY (Tex.) June 21. (AP)—Twenty-eight of the forty-three convicts who kidnaped three guards early Thursday and escaped from Clemens prison farm near here were accounted for today.

Seventeen were captured by posses which formed all over this section when the escape alarm was given and ten were taken in the vicinity of Retrieve Farm.

Mrs. W. M. Hickman, wife of the captain of Clemens Farm, said that the body of one convict had been seen floating in Bernard River below the farm.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. A marriage contract drawn up between George T. Heuter and his wife, Christina, in Los Angeles in which she was to receive a life interest in one-third of his estate at the time of his death, was held to be a valid will by the State Supreme Court today.

The contract will be admitted to probate in place of a will made by Heuter shortly before his death, leaving the entire estate to the wife and which has been held invalid by the Superior Court because of illegal technicalities.

STATE AID TO END GAS ROW URGED

Commission President Wants Administrator to Straighten Out Tangle

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (AP)—Appointment of a natural gas administrator for the entire State of California was the solution advanced today by A. F. Hockenbeamer, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Commission, for the natural gas tangle in Northern California.

Hockenbeamer declared huge quantities of natural gas are being wasted in Southern California and termed it "impossible to serve straight natural gas in Northern California as long as the wastage is continued in the southern area."

Hockenbeamer made his recommendation during the Railroad Commission's hearing on an application of the Western Natural Gas Company to construct a natural-gas line to Contra Costa county from the Kettleman Hills. Officials of the Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company were on the stand today. The western company has offered to retail gas to the coast company at prices below the present schedule.

Labor Minister Raised to Peer

LONDON, June 21. (AP)—A barony of the United Kingdom was conferred by King George today on Sir John Sankey, former Lord Justice of Appeal and now Lord Chancellor in the Labor administration.

He will have the title of Baron Sankey of Moreton, in the county of Gloucestershire. He will thus be enabled to sit in the House of Lords, being without a seat in Parliament.

GOLD MINE PUT UP AS PRIZE

Unusual Award to be Made at Grass Valley's Fourth of July Celebration

GRASS VALLEY, June 21. (AP)—A genuine gold mine—it may or may not turn out to be a gold brick—with a 115-foot tunnel development, will be one of the prizes given away at a Fourth of July celebration here this year. The committee in charge of celebration arrangements says this is the first time in history such a prize has been offered.

threatened the passage of the peace resolution when the reference to military occupation was read. This clause forced certain delegations much against their will to vote against the peace resolution itself.

PROTEST VOICED

The resolution, introduced by Miss Morgan as chairman of the congress peace committee, urged among other measures that "military occupation and measures of oppression, political, economic and cultural, be everywhere abandoned."

Mme. Marie Verone, French lawyer, protested that her delegation could not agree to this statement, as such action would be interpreted as open opposition to the French government. She proposed to substitute a less specific phrase against "every kind of oppression, political, economic and military, anywhere in the world."

Mme. A. Theodoropolou, leader of the Greek delegation, quickly took the floor and declared heatedly: "National politics are sometimes so closely bound up with international that it is impossible to omit reference to them."

VOTE CLOSE

There was a breathless hush throughout the hall as the Verone amendment was put to a vote. The French and the Belgian delegations instantly rose in unconcerted, but unhesitating unanimity to support the stand of their governments on the Rhine.

The delegates of Holland stood solidly with the French and Belgians, as did members of many other delegations, feeling that the French proposal fully covered the spirit of the resolution.

Only a small plurality, including the solid American delegation, defeated the amendment. Nothing then remained for the French and Belgians but to go on record against the unamended peace resolution.

Mme. Verone, however, formally explained: "We are deeply in favor of the principle expressed. There are only certain words we cannot accept. It is deplorable to put us in this position, we, who of all the world most desire peace."

CITIZENSHIP PLEA

Independent citizenship for married women, a matter in which the United States is recognized to have the most progressive legislation of any other country, was urged in a resolution adopted today by the congress.

Increase of legal age for marriage in all countries to 16 years for girls and 18 years for boys was recommended in the same resolution.

Chrystal MacMillan of England condemned changing women's nationality with marriage as "the most pernicious of all anti-feminist doctrines. A woman because she has a husband should not have taken from her the most fundamental of all political rights, her nationality."

Resolutions adopted reaffirmed the adherence of the congress to the principal that "a woman's nationality shall not be changed by marraige or by the change in nationality of her husband."

The congress commended legislation on this subject by the United States, Norway, Denmark, Iceland, Belgium and Rumania. The delegates unanimously voted thanks to Dame Rachel Crowdy of England for her work in representing women's organizations before commissions of the League of Nations.

Federal Government to Keep Within Law, He Says

Ontario Investigating New Patrol Boat Shooting

INTERNATIONAL FALLS (Minn.) June 21. (AP)—The Federal government does not intend in any way to transgress the limits of the law, President Hoover said in a letter received today by the local City Council in response to its appeal following the fatal shooting of Henry Virkkula, Big Falls confectioner, by a border patrolman.

President Hoover's letter, dated the 18th inst., at Washington and addressed to the City Council, follows:

"I have your telegram of today's date. The matter has been referred to the Treasury Department for action. You may rest assured there is no intention on the part of the Federal government in any way to transgress the limits of the law."

George Johnston, City Clerk, today also received a letter from Senator Schall, to whom also had been directed a resolution protesting liquor-law enforcement methods used by Federal agents along the international boundary.

Senator Schall characterized the fatal shooting of Virkkula as "a most terrible thing" and said that "some means should be found to prevent a repetition."

Charges that the smuggling of Canadian whisky into the United States across the border in the vicinity of International Falls is being carried on by "higher ups" were made today by David Hurlburt, Koochiching county attorney.

CANADIAN'S BOAT PATROL CRAFT TARGET

WINDSOR (Ont.) June 21. (AP)—A privately owned Canadian pleasure craft was fired on by United States customs patrol agents in the Detroit River a few days ago, it became known in Windsor today. Alfred E. Cuddy, deputy commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police, is investigating circumstances of the shooting brought to his attention by the owner, who refused to allow him to make his name public.

LUTHERAN LEADER ASSAILS SHOOTINGS

(AP)—Dr. W. C. DOMINION OFFICIAL CALLS FOR CRIME REPORT

TORONTO (Ont.) June 21. (AP)—Alfred Cuddy, deputy commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police, today was under orders to proceed to Windsor and make a report to A. H. Price, Attorney-General, on the crime situation there as revealed by episodes in which rum runners have been the principals.

The provincial authorities maintain that the liquor export business brings these men to the Canadian side of the river and that the dominion government is indirectly responsible for the conditions there. They assert they have been conducting campaigns to keep the district as free as possible from the undesirable element.

Bishops to Defy Parliament in Prayer Book Use

LONDON, June 21. (Exclusive)—A new crisis has arisen in the Church of England over the prayer book which was rejected by Parliament twice because of its Romanizing tendencies.

It now is stated that at the bishops' meeting last week at Lambeth Palace, residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury, it was determined to recommend to the convocation the use of the prayer book in defiance of Parliament.

Poison Pills May Solve Mystery

HAVRE DE GRACE, June 21. (Exclusive)—Pills said to have been administered by Mrs. Hattie V. Stone, supposed strychnine poisoner of members of her family, to her husband, Edward, just before his death, today opened up a new avenue of investigation into the family's five mysterious deaths.

Mrs. Stone, specifically charged with the murder of her 15-year-old son, George, faces new charges if the examination of other relatives' bodies reveals strychnine in the organs.

State's Attorney Hopkins revealed the pill story this afternoon. It was told to him, he said, by Martin P. Grice, who worked with the husband, Edward W. Stone, as a railway signalman.

BLUE LAWS HIT BY LUTHERANS

"Morbid Restrictions" No Help, Code Declares

Old Testament Spirit Cited as Thing of Past

Puritanical Sabbath Day Denounced by Synod

CHICAGO, June 21. (AP)—Overstrict Sabbath observances and blue laws were condemned today at the thirty-fourth triennial convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod as not faithfully interpreting Christianity and as causing harm.

"The Christian religion is not a creed of morbid restrictions and dampening prohibitions," it was declared in a statement of the church's code of belief. "The Lutheran Church believes that those teachers in the outward Christian church who insist upon the Old Testament spirit and legislation for a day and age when 'old things are passed away' not only are misinterpreting the evident intention of our Lord, but are guilty of the more serious sin of keeping men away from Christ."

In denouncing efforts to restore Puritanical Sabbath observances, the Lutheran confessions asserted that the Sabbath era has passed away.

"Further, legislation can only restrain," the statement adds, "it cannot reform. Laws can remove tempetation to do wrong, but they cannot make a man will to do right. They can close up baseball parks and motion-picture houses, but they cannot make a man temperate. Only the spirit of God, working through the gospel, can produce real morality and righteousness."

THOUSANDS IN RUSH FOR DIAMONDS

South Africa Opening of 10,000 Acres Lacks Wild Scramble of Former Days

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune]

CAPETOWN (S. A.) June 21. (Exclusive)—More than 5000 people, including experienced diggers, students and women took part in a diamond rush to the Elizabeth farm of 10,000 acres near Lichtenburg this morning.

Although there was plenty of excitement, the thousands of spectators who had expected to witness repetitions of the wild scenes associated with former rushes were disappointed, for only those who had made previous application at the mine's office were allowed to dig.

Ballot boxes in charge of officials were placed along the 600-yard entrance to the diggings and all licenses were required to be placed in these boxes in exchange for numbered pegs. When the starting signal was givn by the mining commissioner, the ballot officials began drawing out the licenses, calling the names of their holders.

As each man heard his number called he was permitted to rush to a coveted spot, generally at a distance of some four miles. It is said that this system of conducting a "rush" is far more satisfactory than the old way, since it prevents fights, mad scrambles and stampedes, which formerly necessitated the presence of a large body of police.

The rush was over in an hour. Diggers came up to the starting line in motor cars, ox carts, on bicycles, on horseback, and on foot.

They Try to End Senate Hot Air Mechanically

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—Equipment is being installed in the Senate during the recess with the intention of reducing considerably the amount of hot air which heretofore has characterized that chamber during warm weather.

Its efficiency proven in the House of Representatives, the new air conditioning system will be in readiness for the Senate at the end of the recess in August. It will supplant a ventilation system which has been in operation for a half-century.

Banker May Sit on Farm Board

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—It was indicated today at the White House that an outstanding business man or banker of the country will be appointed to the Federal Farm Board.

Inquiries of officials of the great farm organizations and of the leading agricultural colleges of the country brought the opinion that such a man should be among the eight who are to administer the new Federal farm-relief law with its $500,000,000 revolving fund.

San Joaquin Rail Line Plea Denied

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—The Western Pacific Railroad today was denied permission by the Interstate Commerce Commission to construct a branch line in San Joaquin county, California.

The line would have extended from Brack eastward to the west side of Boyce Road for about three miles. The Southern Pacific company opposed the application.

Centenarian Asphyxiated

OAKLAND, June 21. (AP)—Gas is believed to have caused the death of John Phillips, said by friends to be more than 100 years of age, in his home here today.

Friends found him dead. An open gas burner, thought to have been turned on accidentally, had filled the room with gas.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) June 21. (Exclusive) — Robert Girndt, 17 years of age, is Illinois' entrant in the elimination contest by which Thomas A. Edison seeks to select a successor capable of carrying on for him in the field of scientific research. The boy, a ward of the Lutheran orphanage at Nachusa, was named today following an examination at the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He is a pupil at Dixon (Ill.) High School.

FRUIT CROP SHIPMENT GAIN SEEN

Vegetables Also Included in Prediction at Meeting of Transportation Board

SACRAMENTO, June 21. (Exclusive)—A prediction that shipments of fruit, vegetables and manufactured products out of the four southwestern States during the next ninety days will show an increase of 10 per cent over a corresponding period last year, in spite of a short crop in deciduous fruits, was made at a meeting here today of the Pacific Coast Transportation Advisory Board.

The board, headed by Charles E. Virden, has placed detailed information of anticipated shipments in the hands of the railroads so that they may be prepared to meet the situation at the peak period.

The board indorsed a continuation of the clearinghouse plan for shipments that was in effect last year. Members expressed complete satisfaction with the operation of the plan.

An estimate is made that shipments from the West during the ninety-day period will reach the 600,000-car mark, breaking all records for the heavy shipping season. The States included in the area are California, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico.

Deciduous fruits, cut by late frosts and unfavorable weather, are estimated to be 25 per cent below last year. Orange shipments are estimated at 49,739 cars, an increase of 13,808, and lemons at 10,573, an increase of 2769.

An increase of 11.3 per cent in petroleum products is forecast. Vegetables and melons are expected to gain 6.1 per cent over last year. An 8 per cent gain is seen in the automotive line, while an increase in goods of all sorts is anticipated.

NEW RULE HITS ONLY LABORERS

Mexican Decree Names Manual Workers Alone, Examination Shows

NOGALES (Sonora, Mex.) June 21. (AP)—The drastic provision of the recent Mexican decree requiring all persons employed in Mexico to establish residence in Mexico was considerably moderated here today when a translation of the official order disclosed that only manual laborers come under the provisions and that American technical and specialized workers will not be affected by it.

The ruling clearly applies only to Americans employed in Mexico at manual labor and makes an exception of professional and technical workers.

The decree, however, demands strict compliance with the established rule that 80 per cent of the employees of any establishment shall be Mexicans.

Dyers Accede to Union Demands

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (Exclusive)—The cleaners' and dyers' strike ended today when 250 members of the Cleaners', Pressers' and Dyers' Union returned to work after having been granted a 10 to 20 per cent wage increase and a forty-four-hour working week.

The decision followed a conference between union officials and plant owners. Failure of the proprietors involved to stick together was given as a reason for the speedy termination of the strike in the workers' favor.

ITALY'S KING REVIEWS RETURNED AIRPLANES

ORBETELLO (Italy) June 21. (AP)—King Victor Emmanuel, accompanied by officials of the Aviation Department, today reviewed the Italian hydro-airplane which took part in the recent Near East cruise. He visited the base and barracks and then returned to Rome.

Several sections of the squadron returned to their home bases.

MIX THEFT SUSPECT HELD TO GRAND JURY

PORTSMOUTH (N. H.) June 21. (AP)—Russell Everett, 22-year-old negro porter of Peru, Ind., who police said confessed stealing a bag containing $75,000 in cash and securities from the private car of Tom Mix, motion picture actor and circus performer, was held for the grand jury today on a charge of grand larceny. The bag with $4000 of its contents missing was found hidden under one of the circus cars. The police assert Everett mailed all except $200 of the missing $4000 to Peru. In default of bail Everett was committed to the County Jail.

POLITICAL FUND DEMAND SIFTED

Brookhart Puts Kentucky Case in Record

Postmaster Accuses G.O.P. Representative

Senatorial Committee Will Open Texas Quiz

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—After placing in the record letters to the effect that Representative Robsion, Republican, Kentucky, had solicited funds from a postmaster for his campaign, Chairman Brookhart of the Senate Patronage Committee today revealed he is considering the proposal of legislation to ban Federal office holders from contributing to political funds.

The announcement came as a result of the investigation of disposal of Federal appointments in Southern States and on the eve of the committee's departure for Texas in quest of further evidence.

POSTMASTER ACCUSES

Representative Robsion was accused by R. B. Waddle, postmaster at Somerset, Ky., of demanding funds to meet campaign expenses and then filing a statement showing "no expenditures were made."

Waddle added that he refused "certain illegal demands" for Robsion and was not reappointed at the expiration of his term.

Another letter filed with the committee came from Sidney F. Bailey of Madisonville, Ky., and accused the postmaster in that place, whom he did not name, of having been "often drunk on duty."

LETTERS IN RECORD

The Iowan also placed in the records letters relating to the patronage situation in South Carolina and Arkansas.

With Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, concurring, the chairman declared legislation should be enacted that "would stop such methods of collecting from Federal employees" and placed in the record a statement by himslf describing as "coercive" methods used in politics by R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman for Texas. At the same time he filed a letter by Creager denying the charges.

Oakland Nurse to Head Guild

SACRAMENTO, June 21. (Exclusive)—By the overwhelming vote of 362 to 42, Miss D. Dean Urch of Oakland today was elected to the presidency of the California State Nurses' Association, defeating Helen S. Hartley of Stockton.

Miss Harriet Fleming of Los Angeles will be vice-president, winning over Mrs. Blanche McIntire, Stockton, and Olive Hanna of Eureka defeated Elizabeth Beveridge of Fresno for the office of second vice-president. Ruth Wheelock of Riverside was elected secretary and Mary I. Hall, treasurer.

San Diego is expected to be selected as the 1930 meeting place.

Murder Charged to Cassler Pair

VALPARAISO (Ind.) June 21. (AP) Mrs. Catherine Cassler and her adopted son Edward were indicted for first-degree murder today by the Porter county grand jury.

They are accused of slaying Cameola Soutar, whose body was found in a swamp near Hebron, Ind.

BIRTHS IN ARIZONA FAR EXCEED DEATHS

PHOENIX, June 21. (AP)—Arizona births exceeded deaths by 312 during April according to a report of vital statistics released today from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Health. Births during April numbered 780 and deaths were given as 419.

OSTEOPATHIC HEAD RETAINED

NAVY AIR CHIEF RIPS FALLACY

Idea of Planes Supplanting Warships Ridiculed

Skycraft Held to Constitute Merely Adjunct

Moffett Sees Great Future for Trade Flying

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) June 21. (AP) Rear-Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics, told the International Association of Lions Clubs here today that "it is ridiculous to say that aircraft will supplant surface vessels, either merchant or naval," in national defense, and added that "those who say so do so from ignorance."

"Aviation has abolished and replaced nothing," he said. "It will not interfere with other means of transportation, railroads, car lines, busses, steamships and other maritime transport, but is supplemental to them. Similarly in national defense and especially at sea."

SUPPORT URGED

Outlining the development of aviation in the Navy, Admiral Moffett urged the Lions to support the industry "in every way possible for your country's good in peace, and also in war."

"Aircraft production increased more than twofold last year, when 4800 new airplanes, seaplanes and amphibians took the air for their first flight, as compared with but 2000 the year before," he said. "This new industry, which since its birth twenty-five years ago has been fraught with romance, lends itself to exaggeration. At this time last year it was prophesied in some quarters that total production would reach 8000 in 1928.

"Now the prophets are fixing production for the current year at 10,000—and they may be right, for no one can be sure what is happening, much less what will happen, in the development of commercial aviation.

CHANGES MADE

"Technical changes are taking place so rapidly that it has been difficult for some aircraft manufacturers to standardize, consequently their fabrication methods emulate those of a tailor shop more than those of an automobile factory.

"Department of Commerce figures show that the total value of aircraft production, including engines and components, last year was about $15,000,000—three times that for 1927, and four times the value of production in 1926, the year before Col. Lindbergh's flight to Paris."

DENVER SELECTED FOR SESSION OF LIONS

Other officers were moved up one step, R. E. McKeever of Frederick, Md., being elected third vice-president. New directors elected are Joseph R. Adams, Chicago; Roderick Beddow, Birmingham, and A. William Yungstrom, Elmira, N. Y.

Navy Man's Idea Awarded Praise

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—The Secretary of the Navy has commended Clarence Henry Walling of San Diego, Cal., chief machinist's mate, for his invention of a double towing system which enables a plane crew to slip out a new target sleeve as soon as the first target has been destroyed by antiaircraft fire.

In the recent tests one plane flew eleven targets for three battleships to fire at, staying aloft seven hours. Hitherto the plane had to land after each target had been used. Secretary Adams wrote Walling that his ingenuity has "resulted in great benefit to the service at large."

SPANKING URGED FOR JUVENILES

Federal Judge Advocates It as Punishment for Young Offenders

ST. LOUIS, June 21. (AP)—Federal Judge Davis believes the government should have a "spanking department" for youthful offenders.

The court expressed this belief after hearing the cases of Michael Gill, 16 years of age, and Charles Myers, 15, both of Chicago, who pleaded guilty to unlawful interstate transportation of a stolen automobile from East St. Louis to St. Louis, April 4. The judge allowed the boys to go home after lecturing them and sentencing them to the two months and seventeen days they had served in jail, unable to give bond.

DIPLOMAS VOIDED DUE TO RIOTING

Des Moines University Board's Action Blow to Sixty Seniors

DES MOINES, June 21. (AP)—The board of trustees of Des Moines University today declared diplomas issued to the sixty seniors of the school on the 3rd inst. are "null and void." The diplomas were granted by President H. C. Wayman and the faculty after a court ordered Wayman to continue classes when the trustees ordered the school closed.

Miss Edith M. Redman, secretary of the board, was instructed to inform all students in attendance last semester that the board would issue "a proper legal certificate or diploma in exchange for the unauthorized form issued June 3." An exception was made in the case of "such students as are known or on investigation shall be known to the board to have participated in the riot or to have been accessory thereto."

The students started a riot May 11, last, following wholesale dismissal of the faculty by the trustees, who had been called to consider asking the resignations of Dr. T. T. Shields, board president.

A committee, consisting of Dr. Shields, Miss Redman, E. A. Roberts of Cleveland and Rev. H. G. Hamilton of Austin, Minn., was authorized by the board "to investigate the riot, withhold or grant certificates or diplomas, or to exercise such disciplinary measures as may be necessary in respect to any and every student who unmistakably shall be proved to have had any degree of responsibility for the riot of May 11."

Mrs. Gann Eats Her Dinner at Sir Esme's Right

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—The first dinner at the British Embassy for the Vice-President's sister, Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, since the discussion of her social precedence last winter, apparently has been concluded without confusion.

She dined as the guest of honor of the Ambassador, Sir Esme Howard, last evening. She was seated on his right, and was accompanied to the affair by Vice-President Curtis and her husband.

The dinner, it is said, was wet, and it was asserted today by an attache at the embassy that Sir Esme is "not dry nor has he ever said he was."

"The Ambassador declared merely," it was added, "that he would cease to import liquors."

Where Mr. Gann was seated has not been disclosed.

Parent Scores 'Husband' Held in Bigamy Case

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (AP)—Words of censure were hurled at Charles Pillsbury, said to be member of a wealthy Anaheim family, when he appeared in police court today to face a charge of bigamy.

Frederick W. Crockett, Los Angeles attorney and father of Naomi Crockett, whom Pillsbury is asserted to have married illegally three weeks age, rushed to the prisoner's cage, court attaches said, and "talked" to Pillsbury in such a vigorous fashion that bailiffs were forced to lead him away.

And not only was the father angry, but also the bride, who refused to have any conversation with her "husband." The case was continued until Monday.

Japan Counts Volcano Loss

TOKIO, June 21. (AP)—Although the eruption of the volcano Komagatake, north of Hakodate, resulted in only a few casualties, 33,000 acres of field and forest and 3350 acres of arable land were laid waste.

Photographs of the stricken districts arriving here revealed a scene of utter desolation. The entire countryside is buried under a mantle of stones and ashes.

Texas Censure Protest Made

DALLAS (Tex.) June 20. (AP)—Republican State headquarters today announced that R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman, has telegraphed Gov. Moody a protest against signing and evidencing approval of the resolution of the Texas House and Senate criticising and condemning Mrs. Herbert Hoover for the De Priest episode.

YOUNG TO STUDY MOONEY'S CASE

Playa Del Rey to be Summer Capital of State

Governor Will Devote Two Months to Review

Selection of New Boards Scheduled for August

SACRAMENTO, June 21. (Exclusive)—Playa Del Rey, Southern California beach town, will be the summer capital of California, according to an announcement made by Keith Carlin, executive secretary to Gov. Young.

The Governor will devote approximately two months in a beach residence poring over the transcript of the pardon plea of Thomas K. Mooney, San Quentin life-termer, convicted of complicity in the San Francisco Preparedness Day bomb outrage in 1914.

Gov. Young is expected to commence his summer vacation about July 1, following a meeting of his executive cabinet here next Wednesday. He will return to Sacramento during the latter part of August to begin the task of making more than 125 appointments to commissions, boards and individual jobs created by the last Legislature.

In giving consideration to the Mooney case, Gov. Young said that he will peruse every word of the transcript of the case, together with all affidavits and evidence presented to him on the behalf of pardon for the prisoner.

OFFICIAL OF WAR SERVICE BUREAU DIES

Dr. Crossman, Medical Director, Long Figure in New England Politics

BEDFORD (N. H.) June 21. (AP)—Dr. Edgar O. Crossman, 65 years of age, medical director of the United States Veterans' Bureau, died today at his summer home here. He had been ill for two weeks.

A native of Ludlow, Vt., Dr. Crossman was educated in the schools of Plymouth, Vt., the University of New Hampshire and the University of Vermont. He had been active in New Hampshire politics and served in the State Senate for one term. From 1904 to 1914 he was internal revenue collector for Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

He began his career with the Veterans' Bureau when he assumed charge of the Manchester bureau. In 1923 he became district manager of the Boston region. He later became chief medical officer of the West Roxbury (Mass.) Veterans' Hospital, and after that was chief of the Veterans' Neuropsychiatric Hospital at Bedford, Mass.

COMPETING ROADS HELD DESIRABLE

SACRAMENTO, June 21. (AP)—Railway competition is desirable for Pacific Coast shippers, Charles E. Virden, chairman of the Pacific Coast Transportation Advisory Board, declared at that body's conference here today. About 200 railway executives, shippers and transportation experts attended the conference.

"A short time ago we were getting nowhere," Virden said. "Now we have the transcontinental lines fighting for our business and conditions are much improved. One result of this competition is that the lines have cut the time on trains to eastern points."

Railroad business is better this year than last, a report submitted by G. A. Leithner, district manager of the American Railway Association, showed. The increase to date over 1928 is 6 per cent, but only 1-9 per cent over 1927.

While the California peach crop will be only half of what it was in 1928, the canners will require two-thirds as many cars as they used in 1928, Preston McKinney of the commodity committee reported.

Virginian Gives "Spirit of '76" New Meaning

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—Henry St. George Tucker, 76 years of age, Representative from Virginia, is to be married at Culpepper, Va., next Wednesday to Miss Mary Jane Williams, 60, superintendent of the Louise Home for Needy Southern Gentlewomen in Washington.

"You have courage to marry at your age," a colleague at a committee session here told him.

"Remember," replied Mr. Tucker, "it was the spirit of '76 that made these United States."

Aide of Hoover Rushes to Son

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—Walter H. Newton, administrative assistant to President Hoover, was speeding today to his home in Minneapolis to the bedside of his 6-year-old son, John Marshall, who is in a critical condition as the result of a street-car accident late yesterday.

Mr. Newton's son was run down while he was riding a bicycle and the information here is that surgeons found it necessary to amputate one leg and that it may be necessary later to remove the other.

KEARNEY GIVES HOLD-UP STORY

Quotes Colson as Admitting Cash-Car Job

Says He Also Implicated Lee Cochran

Testimony Given in Justice Court Hearing

SAN DIEGO, June 21. (AP)—Jerry Kearney, to whose home here Martin Colson, suspect in the hold-up of the Agua Caliente money car on May 20, was taken, wounded, testified fully today in a justice court hearing about his connection with the case. He said that Colson and Lee Cochran, who are held on murder charges as the result of the shooting of the money car guards, were in his home the day after the hold-up and that Colson said to Kearney:

"Jerry, Cochran and I pulled that job." Kearney continued: "Cochran made an answer, but I don't remember what he said except to the effect that instead of getting about $100,000 in cash as they expected, all they got was about $5000 in cash and a lot of checks they could not cash."

Kearney said he had no knowledge of the facts of the hold-up until this time.

Mrs. Kearney and Mrs. Cochran, who had been held by the police, were set free today, although they still are charged with being accessories in the case.

Kearney testified nearly all the afternoon. Charles W. Forrest, a paint dealer, identified Colson as the man who bought some paint from him about a week before the hold-up. The prosecution holds that Colson got this paint to use on a small automobile which had been stolen and which was used in the hold-up.

FISHING TRIP POSTPONED BY HOOVER

President Delays Start to Virginia Preserve Till Early Hour Today

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—In spite of oppressive heat, President Hoover today postponed until tomorrow the journey he had planned to his fishing preserve near Madison, Va.

Preparations had been made to leave some time late today, but the President found that he was unable to do so. He expects to start early tomorrow. As usual he will be at his desk for a time in the morning looking after his mail before leaving.

He is to be accompanied by Mrs. Hoover, Secretary Hyde, Lawrence Richey, one of his secretaries, and by Lieutenant-Commander Joel T. Boone, his physician.

On his last visit to the preserve, two weeks ago the President found the seldom-used road leading through the forests to his camp in such a poor condition due to rainfall that an hour and a half was consumed in travelling ten miles.

Bright weather since then, the President has learned, has put the road in a much more passable condition.

White-Collar Questionnaire Gets Approval

GENEVA, June 21. (AP)—International labor conference today adopted the form of a questionnaire to be sent to the various governments with a view to measures being taken for the regulation of the hours of work of salaried employees, that is "white collar workers."

The conference further decided to proceed with a discussion of the draft convention for recommendation to the governments at next year's conference. Some members of the employers' group, led by the British employer delegates, opposed this, but the voting was heavily against them. If the convention is adopted next year, it is expected to prepare the way for legislation in different countries affecting millions of workers.

Arizonan Slays Wife and Self With Same Gun

PHOENIX, June 21. (AP)—Slipping into the second-floor porch of a Phoenix hotel early today, Dallas P. Horton, 44-year-old barber, shot to death his wife, Tressie, 35, and then killed himself while two of their three sons slept near by.

One of the children, Cecil, 12, ran into the street and notified an officer of the tragedy.

According to police records Horton had been arrested twice at the request of his wife, the first time for hitting her over the head with a bottle and the second time for threatening to kill her.

Cups Presented by Mrs. Hoover

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover today presented to Helen Drinker of Henrico county, Va., and to John C. Jackson of East Baton Rouge Parish, La., loving cups signifying they best typified 4-N Club work among the 700,000 rural boys and girls enrolled in the forty-eight States.

Before making the presentation Mrs. Hoover, accompanied by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, reviewed the scores of boys and girls who have been holding their third annual encampment on the grounds of the Agriculture Department Building.

Women Will Have Choice of That Many Colors in Fall Offerings

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP) Women's hosiery for the fall will be in a dozen shades, it is indicated by the color card soon to be sent to members of the National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers.

The colors will be romance, suntan, onion skin, sun bronze, almora, sable, allure, buscay nude, afternoon, breeze, crystal beige and duskee.

CROWDS PAY TRIBUTE TO GEN. BOOTH

Long Lines Pass Bier of Salvation Army Leader Who Died Sunday

LONDON, June 21. (AP)—While a line of reverent men and women stood outside, high officers of the Salvation Army today conducted a brief service over the body of the late Gen. William Bramwell Booth, their former commander, lying in state in Congress Hall, Clapton.

Gen. Edward J. Higgins, who succeeded Gen. Booth as head of the Salvation Army after his deposition recently, conducted the service from the platform above the dais on which the body rested. Gen. Booth died last Sunday at Hadley Park after a lingering illness.

When the doors opened for the first public view of the dead leader, women with shopping baskets and solemn men with hats in their hands filed past the great oak coffin and took a last look at the countenance of the former commander.

It was wasted and plainly showed the effects of the long illness which finally brought his death. His opened Bible, his spectacles and cap lay at the lower part of the casket. Four uniformed Salvation Army officers stood guard with bowed heads.

Gen. Higgins and his fellow-officers waited with quiet homage while the public filed by the body. It will lie in state all day tomorrow for the faithful to rejoice that their leader has been "promoted to glory," as Salvation Army officers expressed it.

THOUSANDS GATHER FOR RAIL RALLY

Union Pacific Officials and Employees Have Reunion at Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE, June 21. (AP)—Officials and employees of the Union Pacific Railroad and their families, numbering several thousand, gathered here today for their first old-timers' reunion and picnic.

They arrived aboard a dozen special trains and then filled the "Mormon" tabernacle for a program of music and addresses, while the organ played "Auld Lang Syne."

Among the special trains there panted into the station a diminutive train of half a century ago. Its bell-mouth stack belching smoke, the toy locomotive drew behind it four wooden cars of the sort that opened the road's transcontinental traffic in 1869. And from the steps there descended a group of figures that might have emerged from the pages of an album of the same decade, the women in hoop skirts and poke bonnets and the men in beaver and silk hats, stocks and long coats.

The central feature of the program was the presentation of fifty-year gold buttons to seven employees of half a century or more of service, including D. S. Spencer of this city, E. R. Breisch, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Charles Hill, La Salle, Colo.; James Coughlin and Charles Adamson of Pocatello, Idaho, and Henry Pugh and William McCullough of Salt Lake.

Students Ousted as Rioting Result

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) June 21. (AP) With the statement that "the university does not condone the faults of its students, nor claim for them special immunity under the law," Dean of Freshmen Kenneth O. Mason today announced the dismissal of twenty-five men, as a result of the rioting on May 29, last, when two persons were shot and twenty injured in a clash with police.

Indians' Pitcher Wed, It Seems

Heflin Grieved by Son's Acts

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—Senator Heflin of Alabama issued a statement today saying he is deeply pained and grieved to learn that his son has been drinking again, but reiterated he will help him in every way that he can.

OIL MAN'S LOVE NOTES BURNING

Divorce Puts Him on Griddle in $250,000 Balm Suit

She Slyly Admits He Had His Arms Around Her, Tee, Hee

CHICAGO, June 21. (Exclusive)—Life was just one love letter after another to Ann Livingston, Tulsa divorcee, after she met Franklin S. Hardinge, millionaire oil-burner manufacturer, it developed today in Judge Miller's courtroom. Now Hardinge is defendant in a $250,000 breach of promise suit. He wrote them. And Ann, beyond dispute, is the kind of a girl who keeps them.

Attorney Benjamin H. Ehrlich, for the plaintiff, occupied the major part of the day in reading eleven of these missives to the jury, with his star witness, Miss Livingston, on the stand identifying each as it was presented to her.

ALL GOES SMOOTHLY

As viewed through the correspondence the progress of the wrecked romance was smooth enough up to the point where Judge Miller rose and signified that court was over for the day. His interruption left the faltering witness figuratively in the arms of her elderly admirer in an apartment in Tulsa. She had just told of his arrival there to visit a petroleum exposition and to see her, and of their going to his rooms after an evening spent dining and dancing.

"Did Mr. Hardinge dance well?" Attorney Ehrlich queried slyly.

The witness replied almost defiantly: "He was a divine dancer."

The perfect witness stand manner of the attractive plaintiff became less assured as she was requested to tell of the tete-a-tete in Hardinge's rooms.

"He—made love to me," she faltered.

STILL LOVES BIG BLUE EYES

"He put his arms around me very tightly and told me I was beautiful and charming and had a marvelous personality," she recited. "He said he had come to Tulsa to find out about my environment and my friends, and that I was everything and more than he expected. That he was lonely and that he was much in love with me. And he kissed me—and I let him."

A different version of the acquaintance will be presented by Attorney Bussian when his client takes the stand, he told the jury in his opening statement. He stated that he expects to show them that all the advances had been made by Miss Livingston, that it was she who urged Hardinge to visit Tulsa, that she followed up the friendship and finally proposed marriage, and that Hardinge refused to go through with the ceremony only after she refused to sign an antenuptial contract giving her $100,000 of his estate.

At one recess the plaintiff glanced regretfully at the defendant and confided within earshot of the press:

"Those big blue eyes—and his smile; I still love them."

But, she hastened to explain, she would not marry him now. All that was over. Besides Mr. Hardinge inconveniently has since acquired a wife, though the woman he married was not present to hear the story of the woman he didn't wed.

VICTIMS OF FLOOD FACE STARVATION

Assam Province in India Has Suffered Great Loss in Sweep of Torrents

CALCUTTA (India) June 21. (AP) Advices from the flood area in Assam province today revealed the extreme plight of villagers. All are on famine rations, while many have seen homes and relatives swept away from them.

A report from Chittagong Hill Tracts states the bazaars on the river side have been swept away and shop keepers have taken refuge in trees. Many corpses and pieces of furniture have been seen floating by.

A vast area stretching like an inland sea from Subarnapur westward is under water with crops invisible and harvest prospects negligible. Residents took refuge in the highlands.

As a result of a breach in the Kathalia district embankment the railroad there is under water for five miles and train service is disrupted.

Sioux Chieftain Visits Hoover

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—Attired in full regalia, Chief Red Tomahawk of the Sioux Indians today paid a courtesy call on President Hoover and presented him with a handsome beaded leather tobacco pouch.

The chieftain, 79 years of age, was presented by Senators Frazier and Nye, Republicans, of North Dakota. Red Tomahawk, who engaged in many of the Indian wars in the latter half of the nineteenth century, is credited by many historians with having killed Sitting Bull, who led the Indians against Gen. Custer in his famous last fight.

Wales Gets No Birthday Party

LONDON, June 21. (AP)—The Prince of Wales will pass another milestone on the age record Sunday when he will be 35 years of age.

He will spend his birthday quietly at his country estate of Sunningdale, where he has lived during the past week, driving over to Ascot daily for the races. No arrangements have been made for any special celebration but the Prince will motor to Windsor Castle to see the King and Queen.

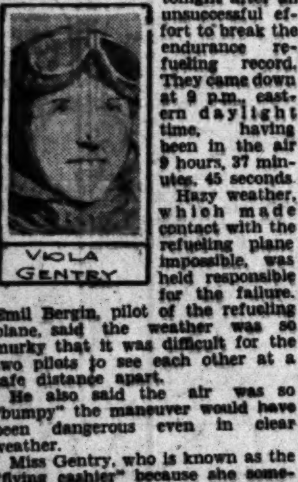
Viola Gentry and Man in New York Plane Stay Up for Only Nine Hours

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) June 21. (AP)—Viola Gentry and Charles W. Parkhurst landed their plane tonight after an unsuccessful effort to break the endurance refueling record. They came down at 9 p.m., eastern daylight time, having been in the air 9 hours, 37 minutes, 45 seconds.



VIOLA GENTRY

Hazy weather, which made contact with the refueling plane impossible, was held responsible for the failure. Emil Bergin, pilot of the refueling plane, said the weather was so murky that it was difficult for the two pilots to see each other at a safe distance apart.

He also said the air was so "bumpy" the maneuver would have been dangerous even in clear weather.

Miss Gentry, who is known as the "flying cashier" because she sometimes works in a restaurant to finance her hobby, flying, said after alighting that she will practice refueling drilling during the next few days and make another attempt.

She took off with Parkhurst, a flying school instructor at 11:22:13 a.m., in a 110-horsepower biplane.

WICHITA FLYER ON WAY TO OAKLAND

WICHITA (Kan.) June 21. (AP)—Stearman Aircraft Corporation announced today that Franklin Rose, in a Stearman biplane, took off here at 4:45 o'clock this morning on a secret attempt at a nonstop flight to Oakland, Cal. The plane was to be delivered to Walter Varney, air lines owner, at Oakland.

Student Flyer Escapes Death in Plane Crash

SANTA BARBARA, June 21. (Exclusive)—Although his plane was completely demolished in a forced landing early this evening on a high, rocky eminence known as the Riviera near the Santa Barbara Mission, Lieut. R. H. Blessley, a student flyer from March Field, escaped with only a few scratches.

Along with about forty other student flyers, Lieut. Blessley set out this morning from March Field on a cross-country flight to Santa Maria. After having lunch there, the student squadron took off on their return flight. While flying over this city at a height of 4000 feet the motor in Lieut. Blessley's plane went dead but he was able to make a perfect landing at Casa Loma Flying Field.

Two of the lieutenant's companion's who had noticed his trouble descended with him and the three student flyers worked on the motor until they thought it was in perfect shape again. Lieut. Blessley took off again but he had reached a height of only 400 feet and was directly over the Riviera when his motor went dead and his plane crashed on the rocky slope. His two companions descended at the flying field and when he was brought back to them safe and sound they took him on their plane and resumed their flight back to March Field.

CARPENTER FALLS FROM SCAFFOLDING

PASADENA, June 21.—Monroe L. Baker, 40 years of age, 41 Esther street, a carpenter, today fell twenty feet from a scaffolding in a building being remodeled at Lake avenue and East Colorado street. He struck on his head on a tile floor, fracturing his skull. At Pasadena Hospital it was reported that his condition was critical.

TAX REFUNDS UPHELD

TULARE, June 21. City Attorney Fred J. Heid has ruled in favor of tax refunds to citizens who paid taxes on unsecured personal property at the $1.73 rate before the 1928-1929 rate of $1.60 had been fixed. The City Council had referred the matter to Heid when applications for refunds were presented at the last meeting of the body.

APRICOTS SHIPPED

ARMONA, June 21. — More than a dozen carloads of apricots and plums are leaving here for the coastal and eastern markets. Also growers are cutting their apricots at many orchards for drying and many hundreds of workers are engaged in the harvest.

SPOUSE SLAYER ACQUITTED

FORT SCOTT (Kan.) June 21. (AP)—Mrs. Maude Bruner today was acquitted by a jury here of a charge of first-degree murder in connection with the shooting to death on January 29, last, of her husband, William H. Bruner. The Bruners had been married only about four months when the tragedy occurred.

LONDON CABINET HOLDS MEETING

Ministers Report Plans for Reforms

Relations With Russia to be Resumed

Trotzky's Admission Up for Discussion

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune]

LONDON, June 21.—Prime Minister MacDonald held his first Cabinet meeting today. All ministers were present, and it is understood that each was called upon for a report on his work so far and his plans for progress and reform in his own department.

Naval disarmament also was discussed as well as resumption of diplomatic relations with Russia and the admission of Leon Trotzky, former Russian war commissar, who has petitioned to be allowed the right of asylum in England.

One of the first steps is said to be a resumption of relations with Russia. This must not be confused with recognition. The Russian government was recognized for once and all when Labor was in power before, the recognition never being withdrawn. All the Tory government did was to interrupt diplomatic relations.

The next order is likely to be negotiations for the evacuation of the Rhineland.

Sinclair to Know Length of Jail Sentence Today

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—Harry F. Sinclair will know tomorrow whether he will be a free man before Thanksgiving or a prisoner until after the new year.

Chief Justice McCoy of the District of Columbia Supreme Court will act tomorrow under the United States Supreme Court mandate sustaining the six-months' sentence imposed upon the oil millionaire for contempt of court because of the shadowing of jurors in the first Teapot Dome conspiracy trial, and decide whether it is to run concurrently with the ninety-day sentence for contempt of the Senate which he is now serving in the Washington Asylum and Jail.

If Judge McCoy rules that the sentences are to be concurrent, Sinclair can, with possible allowance of five days a month for good behavior, be a free man about November 22, next. If he decides they are to run consecutively, Sinclair will have to stay in jail through the Christmas-New Year's holidays.

Ganna Walska Gets $3,000,000

PARIS, June 21. (Exclusive)—Under the terms of a divorce settlement with Ganna Walska, the singer now comes into possession of $3,000,000 as the result of the death yesterday at Saranac Lake of Alexander S. Cochran.

OSBORNE QUITS TO TAKE BANK CHAIR

BAKERSFIELD, June 21. — Ending thirty-three years of association, A. D. M. Osborne, manager of the land department of the Kern County Land Company, has resigned to become president of the First National Bank here, it was announced today. His resignation as an official of the land company becomes effective July 1, next, although his duties at the bank will be assumed immediately. At present no changes in the personnel of the institution will be made, the new president announced. R. F. Barnett of Hollywood, was elected vice-president of the bank.

VISALIAN HEADS FEDERAL WORKERS

VISALIA, June 21. — C. L. Bradley of this city was elected president of the Tulare County Federal Business Association at the annual meeting held at Hospital Rock in Sequoia National Park. He succeeds A. M. Becker, local postmaster. Jack Scott, Porterville postmaster, will be vice-president, while Ross C. Odell, Tulare postmaster, will serve as secretary. Following the business session, members of the association were entertained in Giant Forest by Col. John R. White, superintendent of Gen. Grant and Sequoia National parks.

ENVOY CLAMPS LID ON LIQUOR

Sir Esme Howard Will Sign No More Permits

Ruling Not to Disturb Rum Already in Transit

Prospect of Arid Embassy Faces British Aides

WASHINGTON, June 21. (Exclusive)—No more liquor will be imported into the United States for the use of the sixteen members of the British Embassy staff so long as Sir Esme Howard represents Great Britain in Washington.

A few more shipments of choice wines, liquors and whiskies, ordered prior to the Ambassador's decision to stop temporarily the importation of liquor, will be delivered within the next few days. No objection to the delivery of these consignments was made by the British envoy.

FINAL DECISION

As a result of rumors that the Embassy was about to slip off the water wagon, the British Ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps was asked tonight if he had reached a final decision on the diplomatic liquor situation.

"I will not approve any more permits for the importation of liquor for members of my staff," the Ambassador replied.

"Does that mean," Sir Esme was asked, "that you will not permit small quantities to be imported for personal use?"

ARID PROSPECT

"It means," the Ambassador replied, "that so long as I am assigned to Washington I will not approve any more liquor importations."

The Ambassador added that such importations as were ordered when he first discussed the matter with his staff a short time ago will be allowed to come in.

After that the thirsty staff members will have to wait until a new Ambassador is appointed, probably in February, and if he is dry, the Embassy will be on the wagon for good.

Ermert Again Faces Charge Over Shooting

BAKERSFIELD, June 21.—Goalie Ermert of Wasco was indicted for manslaughter last night by the Kern County Grand Jury in connection with the shooting of Dale Lane, printer and prize fighter. Ermert, who had been waiting in the corridors of the Courthouse for two days to testify if called by the grand jury, was with Deputy Sheriff Fred End when Judge R. B. Lambert issued the bench warrant for his arrest and fixed his bail at $10,000.

At the preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Frank Whalen several weeks ago, a felony charge against Ermert was dismissed with the consent of the District Attorney. Lane was shot in the temple on January 8 at a wedding party. The party was reported to be a moderately hilarious affair and during the excitement of the evening some one was reported to have flourished a gun believed to have been unloaded. In the merriment of the wedding celebration there was the sudden report of a shot and Lane was fatally wounded.

TULAREANS ACCEPT FRESNO INVITATION

TULARE, June 21. — Members of the Tulare county unit of the California State Irrigation Association, which waged a strong fight for the State-wide water plan, will attend the San Joaquin Valley meeting in Fresno on the 28th inst., in a body, it was decided at a meeting of the Tulare county unit at Hotel Tulare last night. The meeting at Fresno is called by the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce. More than 200 representatives of the Tulare county unit are expected to be present. Among them will be J. T. Crowe of Tulare, president of the county unit; John Turner of Lindsay, vice-president, and Harry W. Perry of Tulare, secretary-treasurer.

SHIP'S OFFICER AND CHINESE ARRESTED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (Exclusive)—Boarding the Java Pacific freighter Modjokerto as she warped to the Encinal terminal in Alameda tonight, Dep. U.S. Marshal O'Farrell and three other deputies arrested First Officer John D. Visser and eighteen Chinese of the crew, charging them with conspiracy to import Chinese illegally.

BUSINESS MEN HELP GROWERS

George Eastman, Angeleno Financier, Held Slated to Direct Grape-Control

FRESNO, June 21.—Responding to a call from the executive committee of the grape stabilization campaign, more than fifty leading business men of this city today pledged to provide manpower to aid in the grower canvass during the next three weeks.

GEORGE L. EASTMAN.

In each instance the merchants and industrialists agreed to lend their best salesmen and other employees until the movement is "over the top."

The meeting, a luncheon session, marked the first appearance of D. S. Ewing, veteran Fresno attorney, in his new capacity of director-general of the campaign, and of A. Setrakian, grower and shipper, as campaign manager.

Stressing the economic importance to the San Joaquin Valley of the success of the stabilization program, Ewing appealed to the business men to lend every possible moral and physical support to the movement.

There will be no coercion or force, such as was experienced in some similar campaigns in the past, Ewing said.

"I believe the growers are beginning to realize that this is the only well-grounded proposition ever submitted to them, that it is definite, positive and certain, and in addition, has the active support of the Federal government."

With the election of officers of the stabilization corporation scheduled to be held in San Francisco next Wednesday, it was generally believed here today that George L. Eastman, Los Angeles financier and business man, will be named president or general manager of the corporation.

Those in charge of the preliminaries to organization of the stabilization machine professed ignorance on the matter of the election, but it is the general belief that Eastman will at least be offered the post.

ONE DEAD IN AIR CRASH

ST. LOUIS, June 21. (AP)—Sidney Crutcher, chief inspector for the Curtiss-Robertson Aviation Company, was killed, and Alfred (Columbia) Dunlap, 18 years of age, a transport pilot, was injured here tonight, when their plane crashed from a height of about 100 feet.

RUSSIANS WAR ON ILLITERACY

Country-wide Campaign for Education Begins

MOSCOW, June 21. (AP)—The all-soviet union congress for the liquidation of illiteracy opened today as the first step in a country-wide campaign to reduce illiteracy in Russia.

The congress met with the determination to mobilize all the country's cultural and educational forces in a general attack on the ignorance of the population against which the comprehensive and elaborate industrialization plans of the government have been unable to cope.

The congress will organize an army of 1,000,000 workers to be trained during the summer for an initial attack in September.

A special commission will print 4,500,000 popular A-B-C books, 36,000,000 exercise books and a vast quantity of popular literature.

Newspapers specially written for beginners in the art of reading will be published.

All That's Red Isn't Blood

PORTERVILLE, June 21.—Red stains on the upholstery of both seats and walls of a small automobile, towed into a local service station following an auto collision on the old Poplar Road, brought visions of a serious, perhaps fatal, accident with excited queries as to what had become of the bodies.

Investigation, however, revealed the "gore" to be stains of overripe strawberries, flung about the machine from their baskets by force of the impact. This car was driven by Mrs. Ada Betts, while the driver of the machine which struck her's from the rear was V. Cadona. Both machines were badly damaged but the drivers escaped unhurt.

BOY TRIO DIES IN CAVE

ANDERSON (Ind.) June 21. (AP) Three boys ranging from 7 to 11 years of age, were killed here today when a cave-in of one side of an open sewer trench buried them alive. The dead: Eugene Snyder, 11; Frederick Walter Haney, 7, and Charles William Jones, 8.

SNOOK AWAITS ARRAIGNMENT

Co-ed Slayer Held Without Bail After Indictment

COLUMBUS (O.) June 21. (AP)—Indicted today on a charge of first-degree murder of Theora E. Hix, 24-year-old Ohio State co-ed, Dr. James H. Snook, who yesterday confessed he hammered her unconscious and then cut her throat with a pen-knife, was held without bond tonight awaiting his arraignment in criminal court Monday.

The whole story of Dr. Snook's relations with Miss Hix was laid before the jury. Except during the afternoon when he was taken to City Prison to have Bertillon records made, Dr. Snook remained in his cell in the County Jail.

Although he has confessed the killing he refused today to signify what he will plead on arraignment.

COUNTY ESPEE DEADLOCKED

Railroad Commission Finally Calls Hearing to Settle Grade-Separation Dispute

FRESNO, June 21.—Inability of the Fresno County Supervisors and officials of the Southern Pacific Railroad to agree upon a division of costs on the proposed White's Bridge road-grade separation on the railroad's Kerman-Biola branch line has led to the calling of a special hearing by the State Railroad Commission.

The hearing will be held at the Courthouse here at 10 a.m. next Friday before Examiner Satterwhite, the Supervisors were advised today.

The railroad's engineers have recommended that the county pay 25 per cent and the railroad 75 per cent of the cost of the proposed subway. The Supervisors decline to agree to payment of any part of the cost with county funds, their position being that the railroad created the hazard necessitating the grade separation by constructing the new branch line, and therefore should pay all of the cost.

Action has been held in abeyance for several weeks by the Railroad Commission to give the railroad and county officials time in which to attempt to reach an agreement.

MURDER RECORD EXPLAINED

Chicagoan, Comparing London Killing Rate, Says Lack of Punishment to Blame in Illinois

CHICAGO, June 21. (Exclusive)—Henry Barrett Chamberlin, managing director of the Chicago Crime Commission, today answered the question:

"Why does Chicago have a murder rate twenty times that of London?"

"Only one out of eighty murderers in Chicago pays the death penalty for his crime," Mr. Chamberlin said. "This is on the basis of one killer to each homicide. When it is realized that two or three are involved in a premeditated slaughter, the ratio is greater—probably one execution to 100 murders."

Mr. Chamberlin had been reading the story from London which stated that the 1928 homicide record showed only eighteen killings and a 100 per cent record in clearing them up; eleven persons being found guilty and seven committing suicide.

Then he turned to the record of Cook county for the last ten years, which showed 3007 persons murdered and only thirty-nine killers executed.

Let this tooth paste take you and the kids to a party

Take the youngsters to the movies on what you save by using Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢ instead of dentifrices in the 50¢ class. The average saving is $3 per year per person, assuming each person uses about a tube per month. Spend it as you please.

Remember this, you young mothers, who are keeping a budget

IT is good news to most young people starting out in married life that a dentifrice of such outstanding merit as Listerine Tooth Paste can be bought for 25¢.

That saving of $3 per year per person (see top of page) is appreciated when there are so many old and new expenses to be met.

When we decided to produce a tooth paste we were determined that only the finest ingredients should compose it. We wanted it to be worthy of the Listerine name. And we determined to sell it at 25¢ because that is the price intelligent people think is a fair one for a dentifrice. Its reception was enthusiastic. Now millions use it, discarding older and costlier favorites.

We urge you to try Listerine Tooth Paste one month. Note how brilliant and white it leaves your teeth. How it tones up your gums. And note particularly that delightful after effect which you associate with Listerine itself. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

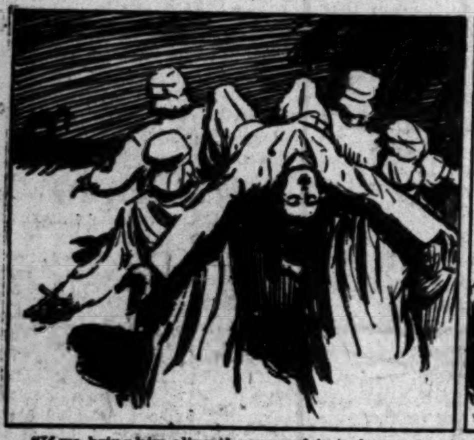
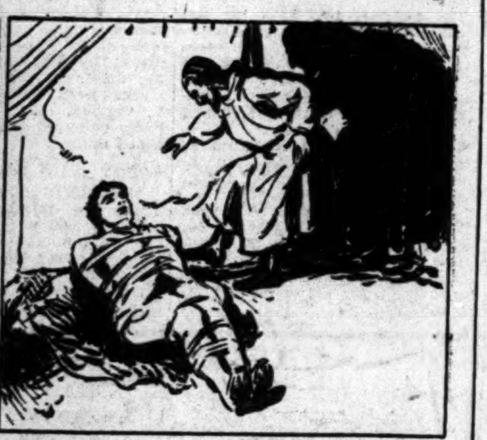
THE RETURN OF TARZAN

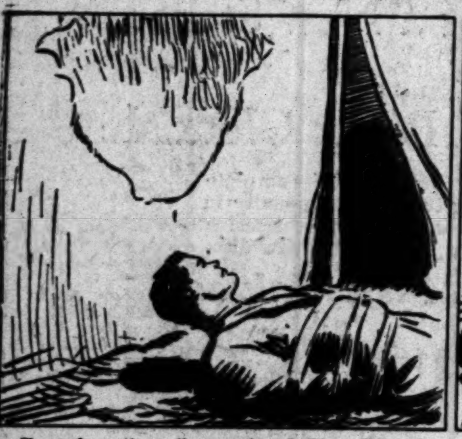
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



"If we bring him alive, the reward is to be greater," exclaimed their leader, knocking aside the deadly gun. So they bound Tarzan and rode away with their unconscious captive. Hours later, when he regained his senses, he found himself securely tied, lying on a piece of carpet, alone in a dirty goatskin tent.



He could not move his mighty muscles. Before long a man approached. Tarzan recognized the evil features of Rokoff, the Russian. "Ah, m'sieur, this is a pleasure," he sneered, kicking the ape-man repeatedly. Tarzan made no reply, and at last the villain went out.



For a long time silence reigned. Then Tarzan's trained ear caught the sound of a stealthily moving body. Nearer it came. Turning his head, he saw the tent flap rise, forced up by the head and shoulders of something looking all black in the semidarkness. Closing his eyes, he waited for the mighty paw to fall.

Instead he felt the gentle touch of a soft hand. Then his name softly whispered. "Who are you?" he asked. "The dancing girl of Sidi Aissa!" came the reply. Then he felt the cold steel fall swiftly upon his flesh. A moment later the thongs that bound him were severed and Tarzan of the Apes stood upright—once more free.

HORSE SHOW PLANNED AT FAIR

Orange County Exhibit Set in August

Prize Riders Will Perform for Fairgoers
John Wagner of Placentia shown receiving cup from Miss Dorothy Chesley of Fullerton, both of whom are members of El Rodeo Riding Club, which will put on horse shows at county fair.

SANTA ANA, June 21.—The El Rodeo Riding Club will stage a horse show as one of the entertainment features at the thirteenth annual Orange County Fair to be held August 28 to September 2, inclusive.

At a recent meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast Club at the county fair grounds at which several hundred guests were present, the El Rodeo Club staged a complimentary show that met with unqualified expressions of enthusiasm. The club will give its services to a two-night program during the fair. The show will include both stock and gaited horses together with a number of unique features.

Two afternoons will be devoted to racing while Friday, Saturday and Monday, both afternoon and evenings will furnish opportunity to see a wild west rodeo. The Sunday entertainment in part will consist of an American Legion drum corps contest.

Tents for this fair placed end to end, cover a distance of more than a quarter-mile. The interiors will be filled with feature exhibits, industrial showings, displays of autos, airplanes, and machinery. Liberal space will be allotted for the different shows of live stock, poultry, pigeons, rabbits and dogs.

stead of the customary two-thirds is wrong in principle; that the construction of the whole project has too many unknown factors to permit of a correct cost estimate or permit of true estimates as to the amount of water to be conserved, and that the indebtedness proposed to be assumed far exceeds the benefits to be derived.

Meetings have been held in all parts of the county to discuss the question and the attendance and interest proves that the citizen generally is more interested in this election than any other ever held in Orange county, and it is reasonable to conclude that the vote next Tuesday will be far in excess of that generally polled at a bond election.

BATTLE FOR BALLOTS

The battle for ballots will continue until the last vote is in the box Tuesday night. Special meeting of service clubs and other organizations are scheduled for every day and evening while the mail and the telephone are being utilized to the limit to influence votes.

Engineer Bailey was the principal speaker this noon at a meeting of the Knights of the Round Table and spent the greater part of an hour answering questions from interested members of the club and their visitors.

Whatever the outcome of the election may be, all eyes will be on Orange county Tuesday as a matter of vital importance seriously affecting the future progress of one of the richest counties in the State is at issue.

Throng Hears "Pied Piper"

REDLANDS, June 21.—Three thousand people filled the great outdoor bowl here tonight for the comic operetta, "The Pied Piper," in which 300 local children and fifty adults appeared. It will be repeated tomorrow night.

Emil Morhardt, formerly of this city and of Pomona College, carried the male lead and Miss Ruth Grinnell, the feminine lead. J. Francis Smith, the author, was in charge and Hans Linne of Hollywood was conductor of the orchestra.

which was dedicated November 11. Three pastors have been called to the California Yearly Meeting, Herschel J. Emminger of Oakland from the Indiana Yearly Meeting, Paul P. Younger to Fresno and John Howard to North Holtville, both from the Kansas Yearly Meeting.

Mrs. Grace H. White of this city, president of the Women's Missionary Board, gave an interesting report of the work under her direction. She told of the increase in membership and of the interest taken in the Alaska mission, as well as many other missions which the church maintains.

Charles F. Bruce, chairman of the peace, legislation and social service committee, explained the work of seeking a feeling of international good will and understanding.

L. Clarkson Hinshaw, pastor of the Friends Church at Berkeley, who is giving a series of evangelistic addresses during the Yearly Meeting on the general subject of "The Church," told of the progress of "Quakerism" during the past century.

VENTURAN THRILLED BY CHECKS

Assessor Saunters Into Bank and Deposits Paper Worth $841,578.59

VENTURA, June 21.—Will Reese, County Assessor, admitted this noon that he was enjoying a real thrill as he casually flipped into a teller's window at a local bank a check in the amount of $506,518.12.

Then, just for good measure, he passed along another one for $335,060.47.

The first check, the largest ever received by Ventura county, was in payment of current taxes by the Associated Oil Company. The second was from the Shell Oil Company.

Each of these payments was about $10,000 more than last year's, indicating that the Ventura-avenue field, on whose production they were based, had shown a greater output in the last twelve months, in spite of the oil shut-in program.

The Associated must pay in $6000 more for another piece of Ventura county property.

OIL DOCUMENT FILING REQUIRES $102.60 FEE

SANTA ANA, June 21.—A trust-deed document of immense size, requiring a recording fee of $102.60, was filed with County Recorder Justine Whitney today by the Richfield Oil Company, representing security on a bond issue of $75,000,000 just floated by the oil company.

The trust deed, which covers all property of the company in California, was recorded simultaneously in forty-four counties of the State, it is said. It describes in detail the property in each of the counties, comprising a volume of 1012 folios.

Councilman Wins Air Race

LONG BEACH, June 21.—Councilman B. B. Stakemiller won a race against time to prevent ouster by an opposing faction in the City Council when he arrived at the City Hall this afternoon after an airplane dash from San Francisco.

By the margin of three minutes, Stakemiller caught a passenger plane in the Bay district after disembarking from a Matson liner which docked from Honolulu this morning. The airplane dash was the result of a radio message which informed him of the apparent intention of the majority faction of the Council to refuse to extend his leave of absence, which would have automatically ousted him from the Council.

PETITIONERS HIT BAN ON DANCING

SANTA ANA, June 21.—A petition signed by seventy-five residents of Westminster, asking the County Supervisors to reconsider their action of refusing to renew a dancing license to the Bear Cafe, at Westminster, today had failed to get action. The petition, filed with the board late yesterday, was followed by a brief executive session of the Supervisors but no move was made.

A. D. Nash, proprietor of the cafe, has operated it in a proper and law-abiding manner for two years and the cafe is regarded as an asset to the community, the petition stated. No liquor has been permitted on the premises and the cafe is above reproach, it was said.

M'CLURE CHANGES STORY

Admits Own Head Wounds Were Self-Inflicted and Declares Mrs. Crossairt "Killed Herself"

SANTA ANA, June 21.—John McClure, Long Beach real estate man, charged with the murder of Mrs. Myrtle Wood Crossairt, admitted tonight that the three bullet wounds in his head were self-inflicted. McClure also admitted to officers that he was present when Mrs. Wood "killed herself" with a revolver near Emerald Bay on the county coast line a week ago.

McClure, who was arraigned today, told his story after he had been taken to the County Jail from the County Hospital. His preliminary examination was set for July 10 at 10 a.m.

He said that he drove his car to San Diego immediately after Mrs. Crossairt "killed herself" and stored it in a garage. How he got to the vicinity of Tia Juana he does not say but he declares that he shot himself there "the day after Mrs. Crossairt killed herself." He ascribed the reason for Mrs. Crossairt's act as despondency.

In view of the new statement, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Sam Collins and Sheriff Jernigan said a new hunt would be started at once for the gun with which McClure says he shot himself.

McClure's automobile, for which police have been searching since his arrest, was located tonight in the Coast Inn Garage at San Diego, local officers were advised tonight by San Diego police. McClure had told police here today that the machine would be found there.

DEFAULTER GETS RARE PROBATION

After Serving Sentence in Jail, He Must Split Salary for Nine Years

LONG BEACH, June 21.—After serving eleven months in jail, Frank P. Rocco, former accountant for the Griffith Company of San Pedro, must pay one-fourth of any salary he earns for nine years in an effort to make restitution for a $25,000 shortage, Judge Walter J. Desmond ordered in Department A of the Superior Court today. Rocco must also pay to the Griffith Company immediately $2000, which is all he possesses.

Judge Desmond sentenced Rocco to ten years in San Quentin prison and suspended the sentence under the above conditions. The court also ordered Rocco to pay back the entire amount if he is able to do so at any time. Rocco pleaded guilty to one of four counts of grand theft.

G. E. Patton, former secretary of the Long Beach Barbers' Union, pleaded guilty to one of two counts of forgery and admitted one of two prior convictions charged by the State. Sentence was continued until Monday. Patton admitted forging the signature of the president of the union to a check with which he sought to cover a shortage in his accounts.

Frank A. Coffey pleaded guilty to attempted burglary and asked for probation.

Joseph Abilez of San Pedro pleaded guilty to grand theft in an automobile case and applied for probation.

Lumberman Seeks $50,000 Over Arrest

SANTA BARBARA, June 21.—A claim for $50,000 for asserted embarrassment suffered through imprisonment in the City Jail was made against the city yesterday by J. A. Brewster. Brewster was recently asked to remove a lumber yard from his property in the southwestern section of the city, since the property was not zoned for business. A warrant for his arrest was issued by S. J. Bingham, former City Attorney, after City Building Inspector L. L. Pope is said to have repeatedly asked the removal of the yard.

Brewster charges that the city officials acted illegally since they were working under Ordinance 1345 which was shortly afterward declared illegal because of nonpublication of its map.

Complaint on Border Officer Investigated

CALEXICO, June 21.—Charles W. Salter and George Isaacs, customs officials, representing the district headquarters in Los Angeles, spent the morning in this city interviewing local business men in connection with a resolution passed by the Chamber of Commerce asking the removal of Harvey L. Sheperd, deputy collector in charge of the local office, on accusations involving discourtesy and interference with legitimate traffic across the international boundary at this port of entry.

The chamber action was taken a week ago after two instances of asserted discourtesy toward Gov. Rodriguez of Lower California, in which Sheperd was held responsible, threatened a break in the friendly business relations between business men on the two sides of the line.

During the hearing today Sheperd expressed a general denial of the accusations. Salter stated that the decision of the department would be announced at a later date.

Fainting Man Plunges Hand Under Wheels

Alumnus Gets Coaching Post

MONROVIA, June 21.—As a successor to Harold (Hobbs) Adams who resigned as athletic coach at Monrovia - Arcadia - Duarte High School, to go to San Diego High School, Willard (Bill) Bronson, onetime Monrovia athlete and later a football star at the University of Nebraska, has been selected as the new grid mentor for next year, high school officials announced today.

Bronson graduated from the local high school in 1922. For the past two years he has been coach in the high school of Pedro, O.

Valley Blooms on Exhibition

VAN NUYS, June 21.—The third annual flower show of the San Fernando Valley Horticultural Society opened here this afternoon in Athletic Hall on Van Nuys Boulevard. R. French, president of the society and manager of the exhibit, with his committee of workers has turned the interior of the hall into an artificial garden with the effect that scores of annuals and perennials, appear to be growing in their beds.

Among the judges who will award prizes for the best in the various exhibits are Dudley Corlet of the California Botanic Gardens; Eric Niles of Hollywood; H. Todd of Pasadena; Mrs. W. B. Alpin of Ventura; Mrs. Helen King of Los Angeles, and John Van Barneveld of Montebello.

STUDENTS ORGANIZE

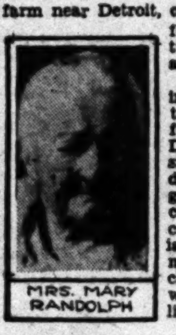
BELL, June 21.—Verne Taylor is to be president of the Bell High School student body for the first semester of the new school year, beginning in September. Mildred Burress has been chosen for vice-president and Thelma Wigle, secretary. Keith Frazier has been selected as commissioner of athletics, and Kenneth Ball commissioner of regulations.

DEATH TAKES CENTENARIAN

Monrovia Woman, Who Passed Hundred Mark Last February, Outlives Five Children

MONROVIA, June 21.—A century old, Mrs. Mary Randolph of 212 North Myrtle avenue, who celebrated her 100th birth anniversary on February 18, last, died yesterday at her home, following a protracted illness.

Born in New York State she spent the greater part of her life on a farm near Detroit, coming to California about twenty years ago.



MRS. MARY RANDOLPH

She had no immediate relatives in California, but in Detroit she has six grandchildren and two great - grandchildren. The centenarian was the mother of five children, all of whom she outlived.

At the celebration of her last birthday she declared to friends and newspaper reporters that she felt younger than she had in years and believed herself entering a second childhood. She had an unusually alert mind for a woman of her age, and was able to be up and about until a few months ago. Funeral services in charge of Burns-Temple will be announced later.

LAGOMARSINO HEADS VENTURA BANKERS

OXNARD, June 21.—John Lagomarsino, Ventura branch manager of the Bank of Italy, was elected president of the Ventura County Bankers' Association at the dinner meeting last night at the Masonic Temple here. Other officers elected were E. O. Green of Hueneme, vice-president; L. D. Webster of Santa Paula, secretary, and H. B. Speer of this city, treasurer. Lagomarsino succeeds Joe Levy of the Bank of A. Levy, Inc., here.

LONG TREK TOGETHER FETED

Couple Married Sixty-three Years

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Nichols

SIERRA MADRE, June 21.—Happily married more than threescore years Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Nichols of 45 Olive avenue, while celebrating their sixty-third wedding anniversary, declared to their friends that they expected to enjoy their wedded bliss for at least seventeen years more.

Although Mr. Nichols has reached the advanced age of 8., he is hale and hearty with a keen sense of humor and the joy of living evident. Mrs. Nichols will celebrate her eighty-third birthday anniversary on October 12, and like her husband, is of a jovial nature and unusually active for her age. Both have keen minds and take an interest in current events and the divorce problem.

Expressing a desire to talk on the divorce situation Mr. Nichols cited that happy marriages do not come fitted to order, they are made when the respective participants in the life bargain realize their new responsibilities and accept them generously. He declared that selfishness is one of the greatest curses in the downfall of marriage.

The Nichols have three great-grandchildren, and five grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. I. N. Ward, lives here.

EL MONTE OFFICERS GET ACTION

While Checking Report of Abandoned Baby, Screams Send Them on New Trails

EL MONTE, June 21.—While Chief of Police L. C. Burdick and Officer R. Foell last night were investigating the report of Mrs. Mary Cassillio, Mexican woman, that she had found an abandoned newly born white baby in an orchard south of this city, they heard the terrifying screams of a woman.

Jumping in their car they drove in the direction of the sound and at Tyler and Weaver avenues found Mrs. Mary Garcia and Mrs. Guadalupe Garcia in hysterical condition at their home, exclaiming that two Mexicans had broken out a window and attempted to assault them during the absence of their husbands.

Chief Burdick and Foell obtained descriptions of the men and later arrested Marciso Ramirez and Jesus Moralez at the Bodger brothers' ranch. The men were identified by one of the women, Chief Burdick said, and were charged with attempted assault. The women were so terrified they could hardly talk coherently when the officers first arrived, Chief Burdick said.

No trace of the baby was found. The officers said Mrs. Cassillio told them she discovered the infant, wrapped in a red sweater. She said she left the child where it lay and rushed to call police. When they returned to the spot nothing but the sweater was found.

Santa Anan Gets Medal

SANTA ANA, June 21.—William J. Murphy of this city has received a bronze medal from the French government in commemoration of the visit of the American Legion to France two years ago, and in appreciation of Murphy's work with the war veterans in French hospitals.

Murphy was the Santa Ana Legion post, the Forty-and-Eight and the Disabled Veterans' delegate to the Paris convention. At that time he was presented with the Legion of Honor. Murphy left this afternoon for Detroit, where the national American Legion convention is to be held.

Ranger Finds Bed Partner

PASADENA, June 21. — Paul Gray, forest fire lookout at Mt. Gleason, changed the sheets on his bed in a lonely mountain cabin today following an unusual experience last night.

When Gray, tired out by a day, spent in searching the horizon for smoke puffs, pulled back the bed covers preparatory to obtaining some well-earned rest, an object lying in the center of the mattress caused him to do a backward flip.

In the bed, snoozing contentedly, was a four-foot rattlesnake. Recovering from his surprise at the strange bedfellow, the lookout killed the rattler before it could rattle even one of the seven buttons on its tail.

APRICOTS RIPENING

CHATSWORTH, June 21.—The apricot crop in San Fernando Valley is fast ripening and soon will be on the market in wholesale quantities. G. H. Prince, pioneer fruit dryer, will handle 500 tons of the fruit at his drying yard on Devonshire street, east of here.

CONCERTS START 27TH

UPLAND, June 21.—Fred Wilding, Jr., and his municipal band will open the annual summer season of concerts in City Park here, Thursday evening, the 27th inst. Ten concerts will be played by Wilding's band.

GARDENA CHAMBER POSTPONES DINNER

GARDENA, June 21.—The annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce and associated organizations of this district which was to have been held tonight has been postponed until the 28th inst., it was announced this morning. The last-minute change in plan was made to accommodate Dist.-Atty. Fitts, the speaker of the evening. He is now in the north and was unable to be here tonight. The dinner, for which several hundred reservations have been made, is in charge of W. J. Whittington, general chairman, and various service and civic organizations are co-operating in the arrangements.

POLICE NAB CAR WHEN OWNER GOES FOR GAS

PACOIMA, June 21. — W. H. Lewis of 12424 Sheldon avenue had bum luck with his car. He ran out of gas on Victory Boulevard and Pacoima avenue and walked down the road for a mile to a gas station. When he returned the auto was gone. Later when he went to report his loss he was informed by the police that they had impounded the car and brought it to the station in the belief it had been stolen and abandoned on the highway.

Arizona Man Loses Life as Car Goes Over Bank

SAN DIEGO, June 21.—One dead and three seriously injured was the toll exacted by a head-on automobile and truck collision near Fifty-ninth street and Imperial avenue early today. Mrs. Ava Gillette, 30 years of age, of 3002 Logan avenue, died in the County Hospital early this morning, Coroner Kelly said.

Raymond Gillette, 8-year-old son of the dead woman, is in the same hospital recovering from a broken jaw and numerous lacerations and abrasions. A man identified through effects on his person as Robert Perry, 124 West Ash street, is suffering from serious injuries. He had not regained consciousness early today. Perry was the driver, police say.

Gordon Thomas Finley, 27, U.S.S. V-4, is in the Naval Hospital, suffering from injuries of an undetermined extent. Finley said he was waiting for a bus when he was picked up by the persons in the automobile.

Police are seeking two other passengers of the car who witnesses said apparently escaped unhurt and fled from the accident before police arrived.

George W. Kildow, 839 Melrose street, was the driver of the truck, police said. Kildow said Perry was weaving his car from one side of the road to the other, and was on the wrong side of the highway when the crash occurred.

Dr. Paul R. Brust examined Perry and said he was under the influence of liquor.

ACTIVE ELK KILLED HURRYING TO LODGE

HEBER, June 21.—John Frithe, Yuma (Ariz.) business man and officer in the Elks Lodge in that city, was killed almost instantly at 8 o'clock last night along the highway one mile east of here when the car in which he was rushing to El Centro to take part in lodge initiation work, missed a turn in the road and plunged over a high canal bank where it caught fire and burned.

E. H. Dean, his companion, was only slightly injured. C. Sanchez, a dairy truck driver, saw the accident and pulled the two men from beneath their car just before flames enveloped it.

According to Dean's explanation today, they failed to see the turn in the road and were going too fast to stop.

TWO WOMEN AND BABY INJURED

EL MONTE, June 21.—Miss May Houston, daughter of Thomas Houston, dairyman, and Mrs. Ellen Moranda and her 14-months-old baby, who reside on Lexington Road, were injured, the first two seriously, when the automobile in which they were riding overturned at Durfee Road and Magnolia avenue, south of this city, last night. Chief of Police L. C. Burdick said their car was crowded off the road by a passing truck. Miss Houston is in the White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles with one ankle fractured, her hands and face badly cut and a possible skull fracture.

Mrs. Moranda and baby are in the General Hospital. Mrs. Moranda suffered cuts on the face and a fracture of a shoulder. The baby was bruised.

MONTEBELLO CLUB INSTALLS OFFICERS

MONTEBELLO, June 21. — Mrs. Walter F. Malone was installed as president of the Montebello Women's Club at the annual meeting here, succeeding Mrs. J. H. Prescott. Mrs. Malone for many years has been an active civic worker. Miss Jane Cole, on behalf of the Junior Woman's Club, presented the senior club with $40 for additional furnishings. Mrs. Willis G. Higby was installed as vice-president and the others were Mrs. W. W. Clark, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. C. H. H. Parker, financial secretary.

HUNDREDS GET DIPLOMAS

Pasadena Junior College and High School Classes Presented to 40,000 in Rose Bowl

PASADENA, June 21.—Forty thousands persons assembled in the Rose Bowl this afternoon to witness the presentation of diplomas to 1100 Pasadena Junior College and John Muir Technical High School graduates.

Stores were closed early so employees could see the elaborate commencement pageant, which conceived five years ago, by Miss Ida E. Hawes, dean of girls at the junior college, takes second place as an annual city event only to the Tournament of Roses Parade.

MISS IDA E. HAWES.

Three hundred girls, distinctively costumed, enacted the pageant, symbolic of peace and of a day when men shall be citizens of the world. Dances, tableaux and choral selections made this year's exercises excel previous efforts.

At a silvery trumpet call, groups of girls in blue, red and white dresses filed from the six entrances and converged toward the center of the football field. Mary Jenkins, as "Columbia," led six flag bearers who placed the emblems upon the graduation stage. Girls who played other prominent roles in the pageant were: Dorothy Wolfe, "Spirit of Patriotism;" and Jean Tarner, "Spirit of Peace." The flag bearers were: Lyvonne Adams, Maurine Moore, Louise Norton, Marjorie Sturges, Josephine Hare and Virginia Zebold.

Rufus Mead, principal of John Muir, presented candidates from the high school and candidates for graduation from the junior college were introduced by Principal John W. Harbeson. Supt. John A. Sexson responded and Mrs. Louise B. Hoblit, president of the Board of Education, presented the diplomas.

Music played an important role in the commencement program. A male chorus of 150 voices sang Cadman's "The Builder," and a choral paraphrase, "Seraphic Song," was presented by the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs of Pasadena Junior College.

MERCURIES IN FINAL TRIALS

Track Athletes Work Out at Coliseum Today

Officials to Pick Team of 35 Men for Meet

L.A.A.C. to Defend Title at Denver

Final track and field trials for places on the Los Angeles A.C. team, which will defend its national A.A.U. championship at Denver July 3, 4, 5, will be held at the Coliseum this afternoon. Following the trial meet Mercury Club officials will go into conference and will officially name the thirty-five men who will carry the club honors in the junior and senior championships at Denver.

BOB MAXWELL

The practice meet will start at 2 o'clock, while decathlon tryouts are scheduled to begin at 9 o'clock this morning with the final five events in the afternoon.

Today's meet will be in the form of a workout for the majority of the men, who have already cinched berths by splendid work during the current season. However, there are plenty of athletes who will be forced to "come through" or they will not be taken to Denver.

Among the stars who will compete are Frank Wykoff, Charles Paddock, Herman Brix, Eddie Moeller, Bob Maxwell, Jack Williams, Jeddy Welsh, Ken Grumbles, Swede Leistner, Clyde Blanchard, Bill McGeagh, Cliff Halstead, Jess Hill, Bob Patton, Dick Barber, Harry Chauca, Alma Richards and forty more.

Two more men announced their intentions yesterday of competing today. They are Charles Kaster, a hurdler, who was graduated this week from Fresno State College, and Ken Kelley, a quarter-miler from Washington State College. Kaster has a 1929 mark of 14 3-5s. for the high hurdles, while Kelley, who hails from San Bernardino, has run the 440 in 49s.

Two Portland Stars Enter Golf Finals

SEATTLE, June 21. (AP)—Malcolm McNaughton and Frank Dolp, both of Portland, entered the finals of the Pacific Northwest Golf Association tournament when they won their semifinal matches today. McNaughton eliminated Chandler Egan of Medford, Or., 6 and 5 and Dolp eliminated Bon Stein of Seattle, 3 and 1.

Missions Finally Defeat Rivals as Mails Victim of Boone's Homer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (AP)—The Mission Reds clung to their league leadership by winning their first game of the series today, 4-2, from the Seals, runners-up. The Reds hit Mails for fourteen hits, one a home run by Ike Boone. Herman Pillette, on the mound for the Mission, allowed the Seals nine hits but they were well scattered. Score:

Lavelle Faces Culver City Star in Semifinals

Mixed Foursomes Scheduled by Prayor Tomorrow

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Fay Coleman nominated himself as a favorite to win the seventh annual invitation tournament of the California Country Club yesterday afternoon when he defeated Dick Russell of Rio Hondo, 3 and 2, in the quarter-finals of the championship flight.

FAY COLEMAN

Just take a peak at this line-up for the semifinal round today: Coleman vs. Paul Lavelle of Fox Hills, and Jack Gaines of Girard vs. Winston Fuller of Los Angeles. Then the victors in the thirty-six-hole finals tomorrow.

RUSSELL WILTS

From an impartial viewpoint it looks like Gaines and Coleman in the finals, with a fifty-fifty break that Fuller or Lavelle, or both, may sneak in to win. Take your pick.

Coleman, playing over his home course, has been setting the pace in this tournament. Russell, the medalist, who has been playing close-to-par golf, wilted before the former Southern California amateur champion and was behind from the first hole.

Gaines played a slashing game yesterday to trample Southern California's junior champion, Harry Eichelberger, Jr., of Los Angeles, 7 to 6. It is interesting to note that Gaines was runner-up in the championship flight a year ago, while Eichelberger won in the first flight.

Russell "Buddie" Thompson, Southern California intercollegiate champion, had an off day, while Fuller burned up the first nine with a 34, two under par. Fuller won the match, 3 and 2, after being 5 up at the nine-hole mark. Winston had two birdies and seven pars going out, while Buddie wound up with a 42, the poorest golf he has played during the tournament.

Lavelle barely nosed out Frank Delcot of Wilshire on the nineteenth hole. Delcot has played some fine golf during the tournament after being out of tournament competition for some time.

All flights with the exception

JUNIOR OLYMPIC CHAMPIONS AT DEAUVILLE CLUB TODAY

Southern California's Junior Olympic Games champions will perform today as part of a sports program at the Deauville Beach Club in Santa Monica. Vane Baker, Jerry Deal, Fernando Ramos and Robert San Jose are the four youngsters who will be seen in action by members of the club and their friends. The Deauville will honor Baker and Ramos by presenting them with life memberships. Baker won the junior title and Ramos the senior. All four boys leave next week for Atlantic City, where they are to take part in the national meet. The two national titles last year were won by John Falcon of Azusa and Mushy Pollock of San Diego.

YALE OARSMEN TRIUMPH OVER HARVARD BOATMEN

Eli Varsity Trims Crimson Rivals by Four and One-half Lengths; Blue Wins Junior, Frosh Races

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW LONDON (Ct.) June 21. (AP)—Propelling their slim racing craft for all the world like so many robots of rowing, Yale's oarsmen smashed the challenge of Harvard's gallant fleet today with exhibitions of skill and power that were as impressive to watch as they no doubt seemed invincible to the Crimson.

Morning and evening, it was mostly blue sky and all Blue victory as the ancient Thames River played host to the greatest and most colorful fleet of visiting craft in the regatta's history.

The Yale varsity, rowing a front race all the way after the first quarter mile, brought the regatta to a climax with a one-sided triumph in the four-mile pull upstream measured by four and a half lengths after the Eli freshman and junior varsity crews had raced to triumph in the preliminary events in the morning.

As a crowning gesture the brilliant Yale varsity, as if it had not had enough exercise in the long upstream pull, kept on rowing without the slightest let-up until they reached the Harvard wharf at Red Top on the opposite side of the river. There the Elis, apparently satisfied to call it a day's work, stopped to greet with a cheer the tired losers, most of whom had slumped over their oars as the Crimson shell finished.

ADD TO RECORD

The statistics of this regatta add remarkable luster to Yale's rowing prowess and the great record that the Elis have compiled, particularly since the advent of Ed Leader as head coach. It was the fifth

Basque Goes "Collegiate" But Suffers in Silence at Organ Solo

HOOSICK FALLS (N. Y.) June 21—Paulino Uzcudun, the playboy of the Pyrenees, went away out of his way—twenty-five miles, to be exact—to inject his pleasant carefree personality into the collegiate atmosphere of Williams College at Williamstown Mass., but instead of finding the town lashed into a frenzy of enthusiasm over his coming he found the natives strangely apathetic and the hand of welcome tucked away in pants pockets.

PAULINO UZCUDUN.

The great reception for which the Basque had prepared for two days consisted of a visit to the college gymnasium with, as guides, a few rah-rah boys, who were lolling about when he arrived, some posing for a group picture with a lot of students hurriedly summond and

SIMMONS SLAMS PAIR IN FIRST TILT OF SERIES

Bambino Drives in Seven Markers as Hugmen Take Second Clash, 8-3; Lose in Opener, 11-1

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—Babe Ruth was just a ball player in the first game of the series of double-headers between the Yankees and the Athletics and the A's won, 11 to 1. In the second he was Babe Ruth in person, not a convalescent invalid, and the Yankees squared the day's play, 8 to 3. With two home runs and a single the big fellow accounted for seven of the Yankee's eight runs.

The two games and Ruth attracted a crowd of 66,145. The big Babe went to the bat six times before he reached first base but thereafter he was very much in evidence. He singled to drive in a run in his seventh appearance and on his eighth and ninth chances he drove the ball far into the right-field beachers. Of the three Athletic pitchers he shot at during the afternoon, Bill Shores was his favorite, the two circuit clouts coming from the delivery of George Earnshaw's relief.

GROVE IN FORM

Against Robert Moses Grove in the first game, Ruth had no luck but the same was true of most of his mates. A run in the first inning, through the medium of Robertson's single and Gehrig's triple was all the damage the world champions could do to the lean left-hander, who turned in his eleventh victory against a single defeat.

The league leaders, who retained a seven and one-half-game advan-

MISS GLADMAN ANNEXES TITLE

Santa Monica Girl Wins Net Laurels at Wilmington

WILMINGTON (Del.) June 21. (AP) Marjorie K. (Midge) Gladman, Santa Monica, Cal., captured her second singles title in a week today, when she won the Delaware State women's lawn tennis championship by defeating Miss Virginia Hilleary, Philadelphia, 6-3, 6-1, in the finals. Miss Gladman won the Pennsylvania championship last week.

Tamio Abe, Japanese Davis Cup player, and J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., will meet tomorrow in the final round of the Delaware State turf court tennis championship tournament at the Wilmington Country Club.

The Japanese star upset the dope today by defeating Fritz Mercur of Bethelehem, 9-7, 6-2, in the semifinals, while Hall disposed of Bradshaw Harrison, University of Oregon, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.

In the second round of mixed doubles, Mrs. De Lloyd Thompson, Washington, Pa., and Bradshaw Harrison defeated Miss Anne Page, Philadelphia, and John Doeg, Stanford University, 10-8, 7-5.

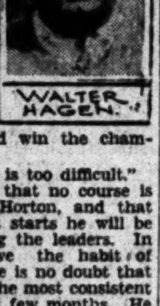
British Open Champion Says Man Who Wins Championship Must Get His Share of Breaks; Horton Smith in Good Form for Play at Mamaroneck

BY WALTER HAGEN
British Open Golf Champion

NEW YORK, June 21. (NANA)—With eleven exhibition matches played in the last twelve days, Horton Smith and I feel that we have had sufficient golf to keep us on edge and will go to Mamaroneck, where next week the open championship will be contested.



WALTER HAGEN.

Horton slipped down to Winged Foot one day last week, when we had an off day and played the course. Asked if thought he would win the championship, he said:

"No, the course is too difficult."

I have an idea that no course is too difficult for Horton, and that when the big test starts he will be right there among the leaders. In golf, winners have the habit of winning, and there is no doubt that Horton has been the most consistent winner in the last few months. He is playing well, hitting a very long tee shot and doing everything about right.

MUST HAVE BREAKS

There is always a certain amount of luck in winning a golf championship. Of course, a man has to play well to win—very well; but he also must get the breaks, for there are so many good golfers contesting that

FORGIONE WHIPS SHERIDAN

Philadelphia Boxer Forces Fighting and Finishes Strong to Win Verdict in Hollywood Bout

Vincent Forgione, Philadelphia middleweight, made his Pacific Coast debut a successful one last night at the Hollywood Stadium, where he gained a decision over "Poison" Homer Sheridan after ten rounds of exciting milling.

Forgione, who is a willing battler, forced the fighting throughout and it was probably this that influenced Referee Benny Whitman to raise the Italian's mitt. According to the round score, the fight was fairly even, Sheridan having a shade, if any, but it wouldn't have been a fight at all had not Forgione kept forcing the going.

Sheridan got off to a flying start, winning four out of the first five rounds and getting an even break in the second. Sheridan dropped Forgione for no count in the second, but the Italian came up fighting and earned an even break in the session.

Sheridan opened a cut over Forgione's eye in the fifth and that seemed to make the Italian scrapper mad for he came back strong from then on to win the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth rounds. The tenth was a fairly even session, with Sheridan, as was the case throughout the bout, landing the cleaner punches.

The fans didn't take so kindly to the verdict, showing their disapproval by tossing papers into the ring.

Before the main event started, John Salo, winner of C. C. Pyle's cross-country jaunt; Peter Gavuzzi, who finished second, and Arthur Newton, who was forced out of the race when hit by an auto in Ohio, were introduced by Dan Tobey.

Pittsburgh Slaughters Chicago, 14 to 3, to Regain First Place in National League

GRANTHAM HITS CIRCUIT CLOUT

Bases Filled as First Sacker Gets Wallop

Giants Win Fourth Straight by Beating Phils

Robins Thump Braves in Fifteen Frames

CHICAGO, June 21. (AP)—Pittsburgh regained first place in the National League by defeating the Cubs, 14 to 3, today. Burleigh Grimes went the route for the winners, gaining his eleventh victory of the season.

The Pirates got off to a four-run start in the first inning when Wilson dropped a fly and Cvengros was hit hard. Jonnard stopped them until the seventh when Grantham sent a home run into the right-field bleachers with the bases filled. Wilson hit a homer in the third, his seventeenth of the season. Score:

PHILADELPHIA, June 21. (AP)—The Giants made it four straight by defeating the Phillies here today, 11 to 5. Whitney and Fred Leach were the home-run hitters today.

Bob McGraw, starting pitcher, was knocked out and Elmer Miller, a southpaw from Battle Creek, Mich., received a trial. After pitching smart ball for several rounds, the youth weakened in the ninth when four runs were scored against him. Miller passed six.

BRAVES UPSET

BOSTON, June 21. (AP)—Johnny Cooney weakened in the fifteenth inning here today and the Robins scored four runs to win their first game of the season in Boston, 7 to 3. The Robins previously had been defeated six times at Braves Field. Rube Bressler's home run into the left-field bleachers with two on base capped the winning rally. Cooney should have won by 1 to 0, in union hours, but an error by Lester Bell permitted the Robins to score. The visitors got two in the twelfth only to have the home team tie it up in the last half of the inning. Score:

MUNICIPAL HORSESHOE STARS IN TITLE MATCH

Horseshoe pitchers of the Los Angeles Municipal League will play the final championship match at the conclusion of their season this afternoon when the Hollywood tossers meet the shoe-flinging experts of Long Beach at the new Exposition Playground horseshoe courts. The match will take place as part of the formal dedication of these courts, which will begin at 1 p.m. In a special team match the Southern California all-star horseshoe pitchers will face a picked team of the Playground and Recreation Department.

maulers. Some left-handers have started and won games from the Angels, while others have started and finished but not won their games against the Seraphs, so the Hollywood southpaw set quite a precedent yesterday.

By winning yesterday, the Sheiks made it three out of four over their local rivals and took a commanding lead in the series. If the Stars capture one more game out of the next three, which they figure to do, it will mark their first series victory over the Angels since the second week of last year's race.

The Stars collected only seven hits yesterday, but they bunched six of their safeties in the scoring rounds. Big Will Rumler accounted for the last two tallies off Walsh when he clouted one of Augie's fast ones into the center-field bleachers with Cleo Carlyle on the paths.

The Angels got to Johns for a run in the first inning when Jigger Statz slapped a lazy single to left, took second on Haney's sacrifice and romped home when Walter Berger squirted a lucky hit off the end of his bat between Burkett and Heath. Johns then whiffed Schulmerich and retired Jacobs on a roller to Burkett to retire the side.

Hollywood put on its four-run splurge in the second, the excitement starting after Rumler had popped to Jacobs. Eli Funk began the activity by slashing a hot drive through Dittmar before the Angel shortstop had a chance to get his hands down for the ball. Heath fiddled around and fouled a few until he finally worked Walsh for a walk. Red Rollings, who is playing this week despite a badly spiked big toe, followed with a two-base belt to right center and both Funk and Heath ankled over the plate. Sypher dropped a single in right to send Rollings to third. Johns then squeezed Rollings home with a run by laying down a bunt that Walsh fielded and tossed to first. Dud Lee's smash off Haney's shins brought Sypher in with the fourth run of the round.

RUMLER CLOUTS HOMER

Neither side did any more threatening until the sixth, which opened with Carlyle drawing a pass. With the count three and one, Walsh served up one a little too fat and Rumler clubbed the ball on a line into the center-field stands. That gave the Sheiks a 6-to-1 lead and definitely settled the struggle.

In the Angel sixth Haney singled and Schulmerich singled after one was out, but Rollings snagged Jacob's grounder, stepped on third and then whipped the ball to Heath for a double play that wiped out the Seraph rally. Dittmar got a single in the seventh, but Burkett speared Sandberg's line drive and turned it into another double play to retire the side.

Earl Webb batted for Baecht in the eighth and paved the way for the Angels' other run by dropping a double into left center. Carlyle tried to make a shoestring catch of the ball after a long run from deep center, but couldn't quite reach it. Stats then drove a long fly to Carlyle and Webb advanced to third after the catch. Haney hit down to Lee, who ignored Webb as he dashed for the plate and tossed the Angel infielder out at first. Lee also threw out Berger, and then Johns retired the Angels in order in the ninth to preserve his victory.

FUNK PUT OUT OF GAME

Funk put up too strong a protest on Umpire Fanning's called third strike in the eighth and was eventually shagged to the showers by the arbiter. Wally Rehg finished the game in left field for the Stars.

Another one today, folks, with Lefty Peters delegated to try and stop the Sheiks. Vitt will probably start Buzz Wetzel, but may get another hunch and shoot Walter Kinney, another southpaw, against the Angels. Vitt was going to pitch Wetzel yesterday, but got a hunch and decided to work Johns. The score:

Oaks' Winning Streak Halted

SEATTLE, June 21. (AP)—Ending Oakland's winning streak of eleven straight games, the Seattle Indians today batted the visitors' four hurlers hard to win the game, 9 to 3. "Buzz" Arlett, Oakland fielder, and former pitcher, finished the game on the mound. The series stands 3 to 1 for Oakland. The score:

Tilden Meets Hunter Today

LONDON, June 2.—"Big Bill" Tilden and Francis T. Hunter, No. 1 and No. 2 ranking in American tennis circles, will dispute for a foreign tennis championship tomorrow at the Queen's Club. Both of the American net aces won their semifinal matches yesterday. Tilden conquered J. S. Oliff of England easily in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, and Hunter had but little more trouble in disposing of Ohta, the Japanese Davis Cup player, 6-3, 6-4.

MISS COLLETT SETS NEW COURSE RECORD

DEL MONTE, June 21. (AP)—Glenna Collett, national women's golf champion, who is a Monterey peninsula resident, established an unofficial course record for women at Cypress Point links today, scoring a 76—three over men's par.

San Diego Net Players Score Triumphs Here

Dolph Muelheisen, winner of the La Jolla open title and Los Angeles county championship last year, carried San Diego's colors to the fore with a speedy 6-0, 6-1 victory over Bob Brashear. Ted Easton advanced at the expense of Paul Goodman, while the third San Diego entrant, Hugh McArthur, annexed a 6-1, 6-0 win over Orville Scholtz. Semifinals were reached in the ladies' singles play, the men's doubles narrowing to the quarter-finals.

Ellsworth Vines and Ted Easton meet in a delayed second-round match at 9 a.m. today, with action promised by both. Vines is favored but will not find Easton an easy opponent to repulse.

Yesterday's results follow:

MEN'S SINGLES

J. De Lara defeated C. McPherson, 6-2, 7-5; H. McArthur defeated J. Fowler, 6-1, 6-3; T. Easton defeated P. Goodman, 6-1, 6-3; L. Dworkin defeated D. Charnock, 5-7, 9-7, 6-1; D. Muehleisen defeated B. Brashear, 6-1, 6-0; B. Little defeated E. Smith, 6-8, 7-5, 6-4; H. Williams defeated C. Weesner, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4; J. De Lara defeated C. Miller, 6-2, 6-2; H. McArthur defeated O. Scholtz, 6-1, 6-0.

LADIES' SINGLES

L. Moulton defeated M. Reed, 6-1, 6-4.

MEN'S DOUBLES

De Lary and Westsmith defeated McMillan and McMillan, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

FISHERMEN CONTINUE DRIVE ON BARRACUDA

Anglers visiting the Olympic Barge, the live bait boats and the Hermosa pier the past fortnight have experienced the most consistent run of barracuda experienced in years with the pleasure fishermen getting a big play out of the speedsters. A counterpart to the barracuda has just arrived to further add to the pleasure of the fishermen for the balance of the season as yellowtail have started to show and are daily taken in more sizable quantities. Halibut continue to offer large rewards for the pier angler with catches going as high as two to three dozen to the individual. All night conveyor boat service to the Olympic over Saturday will have the added feature of a full moon over this week-end, with seasonable weather and the best fishing ever to be experienced from the big ships two miles offshore.

YALE OARSMEN TRIM HARVARD

Eli Varsity Defeats Rival Crew by Big Margin

Fifth Clean Sweep Made by Blue Over Crimson

New Haven Boys Pull to Gala Regatta Triumph

clean sweep of all the races for the Blue in seven years. It was the sixth time in that same period that the Elis captured both morning races and, as a final touch of supremacy, the eighth time in nine years that honors in the classic varsity race have gone to Yale's sweep swingers.

There was just one thrill for Harvard in the whole regatta and it came in the first race of the day, for freshman crews. With barely a half-mile of this two-mile event to go, the Crimson yearlings spurted into a lead and looked like winners only to yield to a spectacular finish by the Eli cubs, who came on as though inspired in the last quarter mile to win the three-quarters of a length in the most exciting race of the regatta.

It was not even close in either of the other two races. Over the same two-mile course, Yale's junior varsity won easily by four lengths to complete the morning events. This evening the Eli big eight clinched the regatta with an even more impressive victory.

WIN EASILY

To those of the crowd of 60,000 spectators, it appeared that Yale's varsity won as it pleased with sufficient power in reserve to have put many more lengths between it and the struggling Crimson boatload had it desired. The margin of four and a half lengths, represented a reduction of the approximate six lengths margin that the Elis held after three miles had been covered. The difference was accounted for by Yale's apparent let-up as well as by the desperate effort of the Crimson to close as much of the big gap as possible. Its result was to make the defeat for Harvard, decisive though it was, considerably less crushing than last year, when the Blue finished ten lengths ahead.

For barely the first 440 yards it appeared as though Harvard might do something about this Blue machine that has been grinding out victories by the wholesale. The Crimson was first to settle into racing stride and stick its prow in front but that was all. As if to give their rivals a taste of what was to come the Yale oarsmen responded to the call of Coxswain E. B. Loomis of Convene Station, N. J., and the powerful pacing of Strokeart Palmer of Glen Ellen, Ill., to shoot their shell in front. In less than a furlong Yale had a half-length. Inside of a mile, nearly a length separated the rival craft. Open water showed soon afterward. From then on it was just a procession.

NAVY CREW'S STOCK TAKES BIG JUMP

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 21. (AP)—With only two days left before the I.R.A. regatta on Monday afternoon, the Hudson River today again buzzed with rumors that are usual to the close of a training season.

The most consistent of these reports concerned the Navy varsity and the stock of that crew took a big jump as a result. According to unofficial reports along the river, the Navy varsity turned in the fastest time of any varsity crew that went over the course Thursday evening, topping the mark turned in by Columbia, favored with California for first-place honors.

The day also witnesses the final two-time trials of the season, the Wisconsin varsity covering the course upstream this morning and the Californian freshmen taking their two miles in the early evening.

The regatta will get under way unofficially, tomorrow afternoon with two substitute races. The first will find four eight-oared shells racing a mile and a half.

A combination crew of Wisconsin oarsmen is entered. The second event will be for one mile for four-oared shells. California and the Navy are entered.

CLYDE VAN DUSEN RACES AT LATONIA

COVINGTON (Ky.) June 21. (AP)—Ten horses, headed by Clyde Van Dusen, Kentucky derby winner, and the crack colt African, will race tomorrow in the Rich Latonia derby for three-year-olds at a mile and a half. The race is worth $25,000 added.

ARCHERS TO STAGE TOURNAMENT TODAY

More than 150 archers will participate in the two-day tourney, starting today, at the Clover Field range. Medals and trophies are up for the winners in the men's, women's and juniors' divisions. The annual event is under the auspices of the Southern California Archery Association, of which H. W. Carter and Phil W. Clancy are president and secretary, respectively. Clinton Douglas, Dr. Roberts and Art Young are among the notables entered.

GIANT FISH LANDED BY LOCAL SPORTSMAN

James Halliday landed a 450-pound jewfish yesterday off Santa Monica after a two-hour struggle. Halliday, a salesman for Sears-Roebuck, has been after the giant fish for a week he declared last night. He sighted him several days ago but he did not hook him until yesterday.

RUTH SMASHES TWO CIRCUITS

tage over the Yankees through the even break, made enough home runs to win the first game, Simmons cracking out two and Haas one.

But for the late volcanic eruption in a big way by Ruth the customers would have gone home with the name of Al Simmons on their tongues. Simmons blasted five hits and scored five runs in the first game and added three out of four hits, two doubles, in the second.

Ruth played seventeen of the eighteen innings on the day's program, being spelled by Cedric Durst in right field for the last half of the ninth.

The first of two double-headers and a single between the two leading clubs developed two great pitching performances and some others not so good. Grove and Hoyt, who were credited with bringing home the bacon, did their work well. Grove held the Yankees to seven hits and the A's could get no more from the delivery of Hoyt. It was Hoyt's ninth triumph with three on the debit side.

PENNOCK UNLUCKY

Herb Pennock, another convalescent who has been a victim of boils, pitched well enough in the first to win a lot of games but suffered from ragged support and was finally removed from the picture to make way for a hitless pinch-hitter. Sherid and Moore served to add only to the scenery when they took charge of the pitching assignment.

George Earnshaw, with a record of six straight victories, was staked to a three-run lead in three innings but later he too ran into trouble, part of it not of his own making. Max Bishop paved the way for the Yankees' first two runs when he dropped a throw at second base. With the visitors leading, 3 to 2, in the seventh, Robertson singled and Gehrig was walked.

The pass to Gehrig finished Earnshaw and Shores came in just in time to have Ruth hit his first home run since he was forced out of action June 1 after hitting his tenth homer. There were two on in the eighth when the second blow landed among the patrons in the bleachers but that was not vital to the ball game.

NAKAMURA TO FACE JOE BOROLA TONIGHT

Kano Nakamura, Japanese featherweight socker, will attempt to score his first victory over a Mexican opponent when he meets Joe Borola in tonight's chief battle at the Main-street Athletic Club. In 75 bouts, two-thirds of which he has won by knockouts, Nakamura has never fought a Mexican. Borola has won 40 bouts in 43 starts and has yet to be knocked down. He has the advantage tonight in height and reach.

Five other bouts are also on tonight's card, with Kewpie Hernandez and Billy Cain, 115-pounders, in the semi-wind-up.

DAN HAY NAMED CHAIRMAN

It has been announced by President Kennedy Ellsworth of the Junior Chamber of Commerce that Dan Hay will serve as committee chairman in charge of the 1030 winter sports program. Hudson Drake will serve as vice-chairman.

LA BARBA WILL RESUME BOXING

Fidel Goes Back to Training Grind Today

Tackles Earl Mastro Tuesday in Olympic Ring

Heat Cuts Down Weight of Eastern Boy

Fidel La Barba will return to work today at the Manhattan gymnasium after laying off yesterday. He was scheduled for a rest by his manager, George Blake, because he has boxed nearly two weeks in preparation for the Earl Mastro bout.

Mastro switched to more rugged sparring partners in his workout, after starting off with the boxer type, like Jackie Mandell.

Art Winch feels that La Barba is about twice as strong as the average fellow his size, and is very likely to make it a slugging match instead of a battle of science.

In all of La Barba's come-back bouts he has forsaken the boxer style for the rushing, fighting method. He knocked out three men in Australia.

While no one expects to see a knock-out in the La Barba-Mastro fight in the Olympic Tuesday, oddly enough both boxers are talking of a kayo.

"If it was a fifteen-round fight instead of ten I'd bet on myself to stop Mastro," says La Barba. "I may be underestimating Mastro because I beat him once before. They say he has improved. I know he can hit with a right hand."

Mastro has run into some difficulty wtih his weight. He came here after boxing Midget Mike O'Dowd in Chicago practically in shape. He weighed 123 for O'Dowd and that is the scheduled poundage for La Barba.

All the Chicagoan wanted to do in training was to hold his weight. Instead, the heat wave that has enveloped the city for the last few days cut him down to a bantamweight.

For this reason Winch said that Mastro might not do any more boxing after today except light set-up exercise on Monday.

To be right, Mastro ought to be weighing 124 pounds right now, instead of under. The three-day rest will put him back on edge, Winch believes.

WALTER HAGEN READY FOR OPEN

it is practically impossible for one man to get so far out in front to enable him to control the situation without the help of the breaks. No one golfer is that good.

My own game is working to my satisfaction. I have been doing some low scores in exhibitions and have had a good putting touch.

They tell me that Winged Foot is "too long" for me. I think that many people misjudge my driving. I seldom hit as hard as I am able, for I believe in saving myself all I can. There are very many golf holes where it is not necessary to wallop the ball for all the distance there is in it.

Of course, some of the boys are longer off the tee than I am even when I hit one of my best ones, but these players come from the younger brigade. I do not expect to be able to hit quite so far now as I did a few years ago, and I presume that my tee shot will decrease in length as I add on years.

NOT WORRYING

However, I am not worrying about the length of the Winged Foot course. I am wondering just what the greens are like and what they hold out in the way of getting on in two, or in getting placed with the second shot so there is some chance of getting the third shot near enough to go down in one putt.

I am a great believer in playing a safe second shot, if I can get to some spot from which I have a very good chance of getting my third up close enough for one putt. I often prefer this method to taking a chance with a long second, if the trouble ahead is of the sort that sixes may develop.

I have met with some success in getting up and in the hole, and if the Winged Foot course seems to me to call for this type of play I will pass the glory of knocking full brassie shots and long irons up to the hole to some of the other contestants.

On the other hand, if there is no rain before the match I understand the course will be baked and the ball will run so far from the tee shot that there will not be such long and testing second shots to play.

Horton and I have just read a dispatch which states that Bobby Jones has played a 69 at Winged Foot from which I gather that he is very much on his game and ready to make it tough for all of us. As far as Bobby is concerned, I think that all the professionals are now feeling like the big coal miner who played on a municipal links team in a Pennsylvania city, and one Saturday afternoon made a journey to another city for a team match.

The big miner walked into the clubhouse of the neighboring city and said:

BOBBY JONES SHINES AT WINGED FOOT

MAMARONECK (N. Y.) June 21. (AP)—So far in the preparations for the national open golf championship, which will be held over the Winged-Foot course here next week, Robert Tyre Jones, the young Atlanta lawyer, has gained a monopoly on the fine performances. He had a 69 yesterday. On Wednesday he did 39-31—70. Bobby's partners yesterday were Joe Kirkwood, Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell. Farrell had an approximate medal score of 75, Sarazen 76 and Kirkwood 77.

THOMAS, WIELAND RECOVER

CHICAGO, June 21. (AP)—Alphonse Thomas and Bob Weiland, White Sox pitchers who have been out of the game for a month because of injuries, have recovered and will rejoin their team at Detroit next week.

BODY SLAM WORRYING STASIAK

Polish Wrestler Seeks to Avoid Hold Used by Nick Lutze

For the next few days Stanley Stasiak, the giant Polish grappler, who is scheduled to meet Nick Lutze in the finish feature event of Lou Daro's all-star wrestling card at the Olympic Wednesday night, will attempt to work out a way to avoid his younger opponent's backward body slam, a hold which has proven as effective as the one used by Joe Malcewicz.

In a match with the Utican here several weeks ago, Stasiak, who had worked out in secret against the devastating backward slam, was able to keep clear of the hold for more than forty-five minutes. The mat panther was finally forced to use the grip in a different manner in order to apply it.

Lutze's backward slam hold is applied differently than Malcewicz's. He has been able to score victories over his last three foes with it, and he hopes to make Stasiak the fourth. His method is to apply the grip when his foe reaches for a front headlock. The Pole, who is an expert with the head grips, may decide not to use this hold at any time rather than risk the possibility of being tossed on his head as he was by Malcewicz.

The Utican will clash with Don De Laun, the Long Beach cradle-lock exponent, in one of the other big finish matches. De Laun, who has been beaten only since he has been appearing here, hopes to score the biggest mat upset of the year by a victory over the Pole.

Dick Daviscourt, the rough Kansan, and "Wild Bill" Beth, the man-mauling Canadian lumberjack, will clash in the other bout. It will be the first meeting between this pair, and the match is expected to develop into one of the wildest ever seen here.

Teddy Miller Substituted in Polo Tilt

Teddy Miller, one of the Midwick Country Club's famous big four, will replace Eric Pedley tomorrow on the Uplifters' polo squad when the Ranch team faces the Hurricanes at the Rustic Canyon Field, Santa Monica. Pedley will be unable to play because of last-minute preparations for his trip East to the open championships. Pedley will leave Monday for the East on an early train.

In Miller the Uplifters will have a very capable substitute for Pedley. Teddy is one of the longest hitters in the game. He often drives the pill half the length of the field. Miller was a member of the Midwick team that won the junior and senior open championships in one month in 1924. Young Will Rogers, C. B. Wrightsman and Howland Paddock will ride with Miller on the Uplifters' four.

Hal Roach will lead Snowy Baker, Scott Hackley and Clair Brunson into action for the Hurricanes. Roach is expected in from Chicago early tomorrow morning. If he is delayed Dr. Harry Wilson will take his place in the line-up. The game will get under way at 2:30 p.m.

"MOX" HAS HOLIDAY AT SEASIDE

ATLANTIC CITY, June 21.—What Max Schmeling had needed for some days, a complete change and a holiday, he got today in the form of a motor trip from his sultry Lakewood camp to this resort. He spent most of the afternoon rolling up and down the boardwalk in a wheelchair, jabbering German to Max Machon, his trainer and confidant. But at an amusement pier his expert technique among the complicated concessions was an indication of a youth misspent in similar frolic parlors in Germany. He won a lot of useless prizes and generally behaved himself like a Coney Island racketeer on his day off.

Nearly everywhere he went he was recognized as a celebrity and a few mistook him for Dempsey and hailed him as "Jack," but not many appeared to spot him as the German heavyweight of renown.

LOVEJOY TO COACH AT COMPTON HIGH

After coaching the Fairfax High School track squad to two consecutive Minor City League track and field championships during his two years as track mentor at the colonial institution, Coach Harold Lovejoy, former University of Southern California half-miler, will leave Fairfax at the conclusion of the term to take over the duties of head track coach at Compton High.

Lovejoy in his two years of coaching at Fairfax has developed several Southern California interscholastic cinderpath champions, and brought Fairfax the track supremacy of the Minor League.

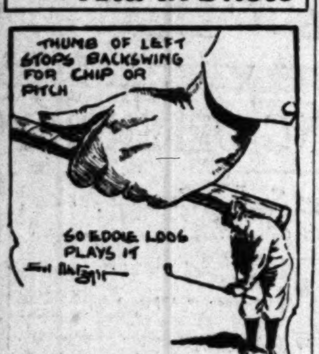
Left Thumb Aid in Shots



THUMB OF LEFT STOPS BACKSWING FOR CHIP OR PITCH
SO EDDIE LOOS PLAYS IT

BY SOL METZGER

Little chips and pitches, played with the wrists, give the average golfer lots of trouble. He is inclined to let the club get a bit away from him on the backswing as he has no guide to determine how far back to take his club.

One of the best ways employed to handle this problem is quite commonly used by many of the leading golfers. They grip the club with the left hand so its thumb is down the back of the leather. With this thumb they automatically stop the backswing. You see as you take the club back with the wrists only you'll find that the left thumb, so placed, will soon stop the backswing for you. You can't take it any farther back. So, you automatically prevent overswing and wobbling and have a firm left wrist to hit with.

Par golfers make their approaches stick. Metzger's printed and illustrated leaflet, "The Art of Pitching," explains in detail how to do this. Send stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, in care of The Times and ask for it.

FORGIONE WINS LEGION BATTLE

The semi-wind-up ended in the third when Referee McFarlane counted out Omar Wright, Irwin Bige getting a knockout win. Wright was on one knee when counted out and claiming a foul. Bige was guilty of low punching no less than six times during the short scrap, but Wright did not appear badly hurt from the final blow.

The fans also showered the ring with papers as McFarlane dashed out without giving Wright an examination.

Nat Codon, a substitute, was given an unpopular decision over Vearl Whitehead, Santa Monica High School lightweight, in the second four-rounder. Codon was dropped for one count in the second and took some hard wallops in the fourth, but forced the fighting in the first three rounds. The fans, however, figured Whitehead's knockdown and strong finish entitled him to a draw. Tony Bevo, subbing for Eddie Dominguez, got the nod over Cliff Hattinger in the curtain-raiser, which was a mauling contest.

Big Six

By the Associated Press

Jimmy Foxx of the Athletics and Frank O'Doul of the Phillies' continued their merry fight for the Big Six leadership yesterday, Foxx retaining the top place by lifting his average to an even .400 through a four-hit spree against the Yankees. O'Doul got three out of five against the Giants and rose to .397. Babe Ruth ran riot with a pair of home runs and a single in the second game at the Yankee Stadium, but had done nothing in the opener and remained stationary at .319.

Harlow Hurley won the qualifying round of the Midwick Country Club championship yesterday with 72-4-68. Match play starts today with two eighteen-hole rounds and winds up tomorrow with the final thirty-six holes of play.

FISHING CROWDS TAX BARGE TO CAPACITY

Crowds going aboard the big fishing barge Billings off Santa Monica are so large that extra employees have been taken on to care for the anglers' wants, it was learned yesterday from Capt. Jack Dugan. Also, 2000 gunny sacks were taken aboard to supply a means for fishermen to take their catches home.

Small bass fishing has turned exceptionally good off Santa Monica, fishing in the early hours after sunrise proving best, Capt. Dugan also declared. The ships Ameco and Palisades have been returning from their trips during the last week with hundreds of the small bass included ir the catches.

NEWSBOY BROWN AND ERNIE HOOD MATCHED

Newsboy Brown and Ernie Hood will furnish the fireworks in the feature event at the Pasadena Arena Thursday night, Matchmaker Morrie Cohan announced yesterday. Cohan expects this match to break all records at his Pasadena Club. A good supporting card is being lined up by the Crown City promoter.

TONY FUENTE STOPS SEIFERT IN FIFTH

ERIE (Pa.) June 21. (AP)—Tony Fuente, 190 pounds, Los Angeles, knocked out Sandy Seifert, Pittsburgh, 189, in the fifth round of a ten-round bout here tonight. The Mexican had his man down three times in the fifth before the kayo punch.

SHIPPING NEWS AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

CARGO SERVICE TRAFFIC GROWS

Oceanic-Occidental Company Ends First Year

Local Superintendent Tells of Gain in Period

Plans for Larger Increases Already Under Way

BY WALDO DRAKE

Summary of the exceptional increase in trans-Pacific freight handled by the Oceanic and Oriental Navigation Company's two oriental services during the first year of operation, just completed, was made yesterday by R. A. Stewart, terminal superintendent here for the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, joint owner with the Matson Navigation Company of the Oceanic and Oriental fleet.

Freight inbound to Los Angeles Harbor from the Orient on O. & O. steamers has increased 50 per cent, or in excess of 10,000 tons monthly, said Mr. Stewart, while oriental exports from Los Angeles Harbor have increased 20 per cent during the year, or approximately 15,000 tons monthly. Entirety of these traffic increases has been developed since the O. & O. fleet of twenty-three ships was purchased from the Shipping Board in 1928, having previously been operated in the same trade as the American-Australia-Orient Line.

EXPANSION PLANNED

"We feel that our first year's business offers splendid evidence of the vast trade opportunities being developed throughout the Orient," said Mr. Stewart, "and we are preparing to handle still further traffic increases. We have had so many requests for refrigerator space—for transport of California fresh fruits and vegetables to the Near West—that we are immediately converting three of our ships for that service."

The first of these, the Golden Dragon, upon her arrival here from China on the 28th inst., will go to the yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation to have refrigeration equipment installed, and, as they arrive, her sister ships Golden Peak and Golden Sun will be similarly equipped. The Oceanic and Oriental Line has two sailings per month in its service, the Philippines and South China, and monthly sailings to North China and Japan. Both China fleets are handled by the American-Hawaiian Line, while the seven ships in Australia-New Zealand trade, on a fortnightly schedule, are operated by the Matson Line.

RECORD CARGO TO SAIL

Six thousand tons of Los Angeles products, one of the largest shipments ever sent to the Orient, will be dispatched from the port on July 9 aboard the O. & O. liner Golden Forest for South China ports. It will include 155,000 cases of gasoline and kerosene and 1000 tons of canned goods and general freight.

The Golden Star, now in port discharging 1000 tons of vegetable oil from the Philippines and 800 tons of general oriental freight, will sail on July 6 for North China with 65,000 cases of oil and 800 tons of general freight, loaded here.

DREAM ISLAND SHIP JOB NEARLY FINISHED

The Peary, former French trawler and Arctic exploration steamer which M. F. Bramley, Cleveland millionaire yachtsman, brought here two months ago, is nearing completion of conversion to an oil-burner at the Craig shipyards, Long Beach. She will be returned to commission early next week, the job costing $12,000.

Mr. Bramley reiterates his intention of creating a dream island on top of a submerged bank which he discovered off the Baja California coast while cruising in a seaplane eighteen months ago.

John Azamonti, "The Poet of the Sole" and known also as "the King of Bootmakers," who has made footwear for Mussolini, Duse, Bernhardt, Sir Henry Irving, Booth, Barrett, Andrew Carnegie and Jacob Schiff, will be among the 125 passengers sailing tonight for New York, via Central American ports and Havana, aboard the Panama Mail liner Ecuador.

Although he is now retired, Mr. Azamonti for many years made footwear costing from $65 to $3000 per pair. He is now on the last leg of a tour of the world.

Others of prominence sailing on the Ecuador will include Raymond A. Wohlrabe, professor of geology and zo-ology at the University of Washington, who is on a scientific research expedition to Quiraga, Nicaragua, center of the lost Mayan civilization which flourished there 1400 years ago, and Arturo Araujo, Salvadoran coffee king, returning with his wife and daughter.

Lassco's trans-Pacific liner City of Honolulu brought in 376 cabin passengers yesterday morning from Hawaii and a heavy consignment of islands freight. Prominent among her passengers was Amelita Galli-Curci, opera star, with her husband, Homer Samuels, and her manager, Lawrence Evans; Daniel Devine, Hawaiian engineer; Avard Fairbanks, Ann Arbor (Mich.) sculptor; Charles Hansen, Greeley (Colo.) publisher; Richard Robinson, owner of the El Cortez Hotel, San Diego, and Horace Miller, president of the Union Iron Works.

Included in the City of Honolulu's cargo were 12,436 cases of canned pineapples, 3000 sacks of sugar, 500 cases of honey, 100 bags of bagasse, or crushed cane, and 100 bags of fresh pineapples.

Joseph Schenck, motion-picture magnate, has chartered F. C. Hubbell's 110-foot Diesel cruiser Black Swan for the three months' season. She was placed in commission yesterday at the Long Beach yards of the Craig Shipbuilding Company.

San Francisco Bridge Company's derrick barge No. 1, which was being towed from the port to San Francisco by the Nelson Line steamer Griffdu, yesterday broke away from the steamer in heavy weather north of Point Concepcion, capsized and sank. The barge, including buckets and tractors being transported on board, was valued at $30,000.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (AP)—Carrying a list of 665 passengers, one of the largest on record for a summer eastbound voyage, the liner Virginia is to leave here tomorrow bound for New York, via Los Angeles, Panama and Havana. The vessel will sail with 275 passengers in the cabin class and 390 in the tourist class. California canned and dried fruits will comprise a large portion of the vessel's huge cargo.

A. P. Hammond, president of the Hammond Line, Inc., with headquarters in Los Angeles, opined today that the intercoastal conference is in a more critical condition now than it has been for some time. He declared that unless the existing differences within the conference are adjusted between now and the time the Luckenbach Line's resignation becomes effective on August 9, there is little hope for the continuance of the conference.

SEATTLE, June 21. — The new Norwegian motorship Villanger, first vessel in the direct refrigerator service of the Westfal-Larson Line from Seattle to ports on the east coast of South America, will arrive here September 1, it was learned today. The Villanger will be the first vessel of the fleet to be rerouted under plans for speeding up its service.

PORTLAND, June 21.—Initiating direct service of the Kawasaki Kisen Kasha from the Orient to Portland, the Japanese steamer Bordeaux Maru is nearing the Columbia River with a cargo of 1461 bales of silk to be transferred here for reshipment to the East. The Kawasaki Line will maintain a monthly service for direct movements of silk to Portland. The next vessel to arrive in the service will be the Rhine Maru, due in July.

WELLINGTON OIL INCOME HIGHER

Estimate for Six Months is Equal to 63 Cents

Total Net Earnings Placed at $190,000

Increased Deep Sand Output Explains Profits Rise

Net earnings of Wellington Oil Company for the first six months of this year will be approximately $190,000 as compared to $30,329 for the corresponding period of 1928, an increase of more than 500 per cent, according to a statement issued yesterday by D. S. Setnan, secretary-treasurer of the company.

Estimated net of $190,000 is equivalent to 63 cents a share on the 300,000 shares of $1 par capital stock outstanding, as against per share earnings of 10 cents a share on the same number of shares in the first half of 1928. The company had 200,000 shares outstanding up to May 1, 1928, when the number was increased to 300,000 shares.

Gross earnings for the month of May amounted to $35,360 and expenses totaled $12,412, leaving net earnings of $22,948, as against $4965 for the same month last year, Mr. Setnan announced.

For the first five months of this year, the gross earnings aggregated $186,529 and expenses amounted to $43,722, leaving a net of $142,807, as against $24,884 for the first five months of 1928.

The sharp gain in earnings is the result of increased production due to deep sand wells in the company's Long Beach properties, Mr. Setnan explained. Prior to July of last year, the company had no deep sand production, but since then a number of deep wells have been producing oil.

The Delaney No. 3 well which was brought in the first part of May is averaging 2535 barrels of oil daily. The cost of drilling this well was repaid out of the May production so that the Wellington Company is now receiving its full 25 per cent interest, Mr. Setnan said, and this will substantially increase the monthly earnings. There are five wells being drilled on the company's holdings at present, the Wellington No. 1, which is down 6761 feet, being expected to come in the first part of July. Three of the other wells are below 6200 feet, Mr. Setnan added.

Illinois Bankers Hit Branch Idea

AURORA (Ill.) June 21. (Exclusive)—The Illinois Bankers' Association, in the closing session of its annual convention here today adopted by an overwhelming vote a resolution condemning chain or branch banking systems, which were declared likely to place the control of the financial resources of the entire country in the hands of a few gigantic city banks.

Another resolution passed by the bankers' association commended the Federal Reserve Board for its "attempt to correct, control and regulate the credit situation, and thereby curb what has been termed a nation-wide craze in stock speculation."

WARNER HONORED BY AUDITORS' CHAPTER

P. E. Warner, auditor, Bank of America of California, was elected president of the Los Angeles chapter of the California Auditors' Association at the annual dinner held Thursday evening at the Chevy Chase Country Club. A. L. Cavell, First Trust and Savings Bank, Pasadena, was chosen vice-president; A. W. Scougall, Federal Reserve Bank, Los Angeles, secretary-treasurer; R. D. Gordon, Bank of Italy; C. T. Wienke, Security First National Bank, and D. L. Wyland, California Trust Company, members of the executive committee.

SALES OF VENDING MACHINES INCREASE

NEW YORK, June 21. (Exclusive) Officials of Autosales Corporation reported yesterday a 50 per cent increase in sales volume for May over the same month last year and that the outlook for the current month indicates the business pace will be maintained. Recent railroad contracts have resulted in operation of plants at capacity with a monthly production of 10,000 vending machines. Officials would make no estimate of year's earnings which in circles close to management are placed at $6 a share on basis of present business and outlook.

CHARTER SOUGHT BY SALINAS BANK

WASHINGTON, June 21. (Exclusive)—The First National Bank of Salinas, Cal., has applied to the Comptroller of Currency of the Treasury Department for permission to organize and the granting of a charter, the department announced today. The capital specified in the application is $250,000. The correspondent is A. R. Patrick of Salinas.

PACKARD NET INCOME REGISTERS INCREASE

NEW YORK, June 21. (Exclusive). Net income of the Packard Motor Car Company for the nine months ended May 31, last, was reported today at $23,473,684 after depreciation and Federal taxes, equal to $7.82 a share, as compared with $17,803,304 and $5.92 a year ago.

NET INCOME OF AIR LINE GROUP TOLD

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—Nine air transport companies made money during the last six months of 1928, but ten apparently operated at a deficit.

Reports today to a Department of Commerce questionnaire showed that the nine companies on the right side of the ledger had a total income of $3,233,057 with expences of $1,646,148, leaving a surplus of $1,591,909. The planes of these nine concerns flew 2,373,165 miles at an average cost of 69.4 cents a mile.

Despite the ten who took the air for a loss, the nineteen taken as a whole operated at a profit. Their revenue was $3,858,020, while expenditures were $2,652,052, leaving a balance of $1,204,968.

There are about forty-one air transport companies in the United States, but many of them were reluctant to respond to the government's questions as to earnings and expenditures.

During 1927 revenue of seventeen companies was shown to have totaled $2,201,130, with expenditures of $2,151,340.

Payments to air transport companies made by the government during the last six months of 1928 for carrying the mail on twenty-eight routes totaled $5,168,925.

Warm Weather Brings Better Tone to Trade

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

Less irregularity appears at this time in the business situation than is customary at this season, and conditions have been benefited greatly during the past week by the first extended period of real summer weather.

There is little evidence of any unusual dullness in the leading markets. Retail distribution is on a very wide scale and reports from all leading centers tell of activity in summer, holiday and sporting goods lines. Buying had heretofore been deferred, but many needed supplies in the wholesale dry-goods market have now been cleaned up quickly, and reorders have been substantial, particularly for articles of apparel.

Production in cotton mills is beginning to lessen and the usual curtailment of output for the first week of July has been directed. Cotton consumption in May was well up to the peak of earlier records. Silk production is lighter in some centers and finishing plants are over the rush period. Weekly bank clearings, $12,174,744,000, a decrease of 2.9 per cent from a year ago.

Weber Fixture Sales Point Up

Sales of Weber Showcase and Fixture Company, Inc., for the first half of this year will approximate $2,250,000 as compared with $2,011,097 in the same period of the previous year, officials of the company reported yesterday. Based on the business already done and on the anticipated volume for the remainder of the year, 1929 should average $400,000 sales monthly, it was estimated.

While the officials declined to estimate the net earnings for the current year, they declared the profits would exceed those of last year when net earnings of $239,417 amounted to nearly three times the dividend requirements on the 40,000 shares of first preferred stock listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

New Merger of Banks Brewing

NEW YORK, June 21. (Exclusive) Recent strength in stock of the Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Company is understood to be based on negotiations for a merger between this bank and Bank of America.

Usually well-informed bank stock houses are of the opinion that these negotiations have reached a stage where their favorable conclusion is probable.

DIVIDEND RUMORS CURRENT

BY EARLE E. CROWE

As confidence in the stock market returns, the retailers in rumors are giving an increasing amount of their attention to the California oils. despite the somewhat unfavorable trend in the curtailment program. Yesterday was given over largely to the touting of such popular companies as Mexican Seaboard, Union Oil, Richfield and Standard of California, all on stories that the companies are about to hand out extra compensation to their stockholders.

Mexican Seaboard comment was stimulated by the report that the well-known New York operator who sponsored the move from $6 to the middle 30's is back in the stock with a new pool. The reason for this operation, it is explained, is the early prospect for the completion of Elliott No. 2 in the Kettleman field, which has already been proven as a flowing well but has not been finished to the deep sand.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT

If Elliott No. 2 turns out as successful as the discovery well, the supposition is that Mexican Seaboard, already obtaining substantial earnings from Kettleman operations, will be in a position to consider dividends. Revenue will be substantially increased when the company turns natural gas into the new pipe line of the Pacific Gas and Electric near the end of next month.

After several weeks of complete neglect by the rumor market, Union Oil came into its own yesterday when it was reported that the directors are scheduled to meet on Monday to declare an extra cash dividend. Whether this story is true or only another fabrication, it is understood that Union has been enjoying a very successful second quarter, and will have an interesting earnings story to tell in its statement for the second three months of the year.

Favored by satisfactory earnings and a strong cash position due to the payments under the subscription rights, there may be some logic in the conjectures of extra disbursements on Union shares.

The Richfield expectations of a boost in the rate from $2 to $2.50 or better revolve around the improvement in earnings that should follow the physical consolidation with Pan-American Western; the expansion of the marketing system to the east coast through the formation of Richfield of New York, and the incentive to encourage higher stock prices in order to facilitate the conversion of bonds recently issued.

STANDARD ACTION DUE

So far as Standard of California is concerned the belief is current that this company is anxious to order an extra disbursement in some form to stockholders whenever the general situation in the industry justifies. The older oil companies undoubtedly realize that their stockholders have waited patiently for the last few years for substantial returns of the character they could have obtained in other groups of stocks. Any number of possible actions have been suggested along the line of extra distributions, but official comment is entirely lacking.

From its Kettleman Hills possibilities alone, Standard of California stands to harvest attractive earnings, and this field is only one of the prize assets this company has. Its faith in Kettleman is indicated in the announcement the other day of plans to build a new pipe line from Kettleman to tidewater, probably at San Luis Obispo. With very little difficulty the Standard company could hook into its main San Joaquin Valley pipe line system, but apparently the management expects to take more oil from Kettleman than the present facilities can efficiently handle.

Security-First Starts Dividends

Directors of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, yesterday voted the first quarterly dividend of that organization since the consolidation of the former Security Trust and Savings Bank and the former Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank. Stockholders will receive $1.12 per share, payment to be made on July 1 to stockholders of record the 22nd inst.

The dividend is the same which had been paid by the Los Angeles-First National and the First Securities Company. Taking into consideration the stock dividend to stockholders of Security Trust and Savings Bank at the time of the consolidation, the present dividend is somewhat larger than the Security Bank and the Security Company paid.

Day's Dividend List Reported

National Power & Light, regular quarterly of $1.50 on $6 preferred, payable August 1 to stock of record July 12.

Cudahy Packing Company, regular quarterly of $1, payable July 15 to stock of record July 5.

American Radiator-Standard Sanitary, regular quarterly of 37½ cents on common, payable September 30 to stock of record September 11, and $1.75 on preferred, payable August 31 to stock of record August 15.

Abraham & Straus, regular quarterly of 1¾ per cent on preferred, payable August 1 to stock of record July 15.

Gemmer Manufacturing Company, regular quarterly of 75 cents on "A," and 30 cents on "B," payable July 1 to stock of record the 25th inst.

Household Finance Corporation, regular quarterly of 75 cents on common, payable July 5 to stock of record the 25th inst., and 75 cents on participating preference, payable July 15 to stock of record July 1.

Merchants Petroleum, regular quarterly of 2 cents, payable July 10 to stock of record the 28th inst.

Marchant Calculating Machine, regular semi-annual of 35 cents on preferred, payable July 15 to stock of record the 30th inst.

Transamerica Corporation, regular quarterly of $1 and 1 per cent stock dividend, both payable July 25 to stock of record July 5.

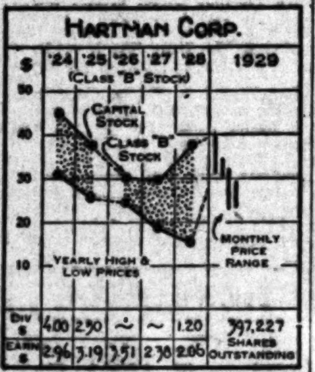
I. Magnin, regular quarterly of $1.50 on preferred, payable July 10 to stock of record the 28th inst.

Anglo National Corporation, initial semi-annual of $1 on Class A common, payable July 15 to stock of record July 2.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK

HARTMAN CORPORATION

Complete elimination of its mail order division and concentration on the retail furniture and carpet store business are the developments which have featured the Hartman Corporation's recent years. The corporation—a holding company—owns the capital stocks of subsidiaries operating some thirty stores. Recently, in furtherance of expansion plans, it was announced that the company had opened a store at Danville, Ill., and that eight other new locations on which leases had been signed would be opened within a few weeks.



It has been announced that exclusive agencies in all cities where the company has stores have been secured by the corporation for the sale of Radiotrope radio sets, a product of the United States Radio and Television Corporation.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt, $1,613,250; Class A stock ($2 cum.) 58,546 shares; class B stock (no par,) 397,227 shares.

Current data: Recently the company announced that a composite structure which displayed numerous full-size examples of house building and materials had been effected in the salesroom of Hartman custom-built house department in the main Chicago store, and it was planned to extend this service to all cities in which its chain furniture stores were located.

For the quarter ending March 31, 1929, net retail sales of $3,440,489 have been reported. This is an increase of 5.8 per cent over the corresponding period of 1928.

Extra in Stock Announced by Transamerica

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (AP)—A. P. Giannini, president of the Transamerica Corporation, today announced that organization would pay an extra quarterly dividend of 1 per cent in stock in addition to the regular cash dividend of $1, payable July 25, to stockholders of record July 5.

Strength of the stock on exchanges today was attributed to the report that the stock dividend would again be paid, it was said. The announcement was generally accepted as tantamount to an official declaration of policy that Transamerica will continue for the present to pay an extra dividend of 1 per cent in stock each quarter or 4 per cent per annum, in addition to the cash distribution.

With the cash dividend, this amounts to $9.60, or a return in excess of 7 per cent on the present market. Officials of the company said that while the organization did not officially announce the stock dividend would become a part of the corporation's fixed policy, it was considered optimistic as it leaves the corporation free to share with the stockholders the undivided earnings at any time such division is considered advisable.

Over 9,100,000 fractional shares will be issued to take care of the special dividend, while the total dividend stock and cash will amount to $20,000,000.

INSURANCE AGENTS BIDDEN TO PARLEY

R. Truman Dawes, Fred Siegel, John H. Sigler, Paul E. Sigler and Herbert J. Kempker, Los Angeles representatives of the Travelers of Hartford, Ct., have been invited to a three-day convention of the insurance company's leading agents to be held at Colorado Springs from the 25th to 27th inst. Each of the five won honors last year as outstanding salesmen in The Travelers' organization.

NET REVENUES OF DOLLAR OIL GIVEN

Net income of the Dollar Oil Company for the first five months of 1929 yesterday was reported at $75,277, equivalent to a monthly average of more than $15,000. June earnings are expected to increase this amount substantially, according to officials.

PROGRAM OF KINNER AERO ADVANCING

Warrants for Rights to be in Mails by July 6, Manager Announces

Following the receipt of a permit from the State Corporation Commissioner to issue 1,500,000 additional shares of $1 par capital stock, Kinner Airplane and Motor Corporation yesterday announced through Robert Porter, general manager, that warrants for the stock rights would be mailed July 6, next, to stockholders of record on that date. The rights will expire August 10, next.

Letters will be mailed to all stockholders on the 26th inst. to inform them of their rights. Mr. Porter said that application would probably be made to list the stock rights on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange where the Kinner stock is quoted.

The stockholders of the company on May 27, last, approved the directors' proposal to increase the stock from 600,000 shares authorized and issued to 2,100,000 shares authorized and issued. Each stockholder will receive the right to subscribe to 2½ shares of the additional stock for each share now held at a price of $1 per share.

The company has asked each stockholder to waive the right to one-half share out of each 2½ shares in order that stock may be available to airplane manufacturers and distributors dealing with the company. With the right to the half share waived, the theoretical value of two-for-one rights is $1.67 based on the closing price of $3.50 per share of Kinner stock on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday.

In the event the stockholders do not subscribe for all the additional stock offered them, the remaining portion will be sold to bankers, it was stated.

New Venture Makes Bow in Aircraft Field

Another aircraft manufacturing enterprise for Los Angeles was announced yesterday by Louis P. Vremsak, Los Angeles airplane designer, in the organization of the Amphibian Aircraft Corporation, a Deleware corporation capitalized at $1,500,000. Mr. Vremsak is president of the new company, which does not intend at present to sell stock to the public, he stated.

Preparation of more than one year has preceded the formation of the company, according to the announcement. Experimental work has been carried on at a plant on West Washington street, and from this beginning the new company intends to build a factory in Los Angeles as the first amphibian manufacturing plant on the Pacific Coast.

Plans call for the manufacture of amphibians in three different modes, one designated as a four-to-six-place ship; the second a ten-to-twelve-place ship; and the third a sixteen-to-eighteen-place ship.

Other directors in addition to Mr. Vremsak include S. LeRoy Putnam, Baldwin Park automobile merchant and former transcontintal air racer; C. B. Kerr, president, Master Service Corporation and Hollywood Paper Box Corporation; Stuart L. Klingelsmith, vice president Hammel Advertising Corporation; Paul Whittier, Whittier Oil Company; Leo LaGasse, Los Angeles, and T. C. Heyl, attorney.

Apricot Prices Set by Canners Show Increases

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (Exclusive)—Growers of apricots are proffered from $37.50 to $75 per ton for the fruit desired for canning purposes, it was announced today by the Canners' League of California.

This price is considerably in advance of the price for the 1928 crop, proffers for which ranged from $27.50 to $55 a ton. The prices were fixed by a number of individual canners, who are members of the league only for the purpose of handling the cling peach crop. Apricot growers are comparatively independent for their product is marketable fresh, canned or dried, and this year the crop is short because of frosts.

PARAMOUNT RENTALS IN APRIL INCREASE

NEW YORK, June 21. (Exclusive) Domestic film rentals in April of Paramount - Famous - Lasky Corporation are reported to have been 17 per cent ahead of the same month of 1928, and in May were 20 per cent better than May a year ago. So far in June the film rentals are believed to have run well ahead of the 20 per cent shown in the previous month.

FIDELITY-PHENIX FIRE CAPITAL PLAN RATIFIED

NEW YORK, June 21. (Exclusive) Stockholders of the Fidelity-Phenix Fire Insurance Company today ratified the plan to increase the authorized capital from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 partly for the purpose of acquiring jointly with the Continental Insurance Company the control of the Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York.

NEW TIDE WATER LISTED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. —Effective Monday the San Francisco Stock Exchange will list 1,863,509 additional common shares of Tide Water Associated Oil Company.

Listing of these shares brings the total to 8,490,306 shares listed of 10,000,000 authorized.

CROP REPORTING DEFENDED

Secretary of Agriculture Says System Created for and Benefits Farmers of America

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, June 21.—In the July number of the Bureau Farmer, Arthur M. Hyde, United States Secretary of Agriculture, defends vigorously the issuing of crop reports by the government. This article, "Crop Reports Are For the Farmer," shows how much worse off the farmer would be if he had no such reports to guide him.

"Crop information," says Secretary Hyde, "since it is bound to get out somehow, is best obtained from a competent source which has no object in distorting the facts. Without government crop reports the farmer would be compelled to deal with buyers in the dark. The buyer would know the facts—the farmer would be in ignorance of them."

Crop forecasts do not increase speculation in the agricultural markets. They have the contrary effect.

"For," Mr. Hyde continues, "when production is known with approximate accuracy the higgling of the market takes place within a narrow range, and prices throughout the marketing season more nearly express true supply-and-demand values.

"Government crop reports come from a disinterested source, and the record proves that the information they contain reaches no one before it reaches the public.

"Authentic crop information reduces the influence of misinformation or rumor—and minimizes the chance for fraud."

Investment trusts are getting larger. Ten years ago there were none. If present plans are completed there will be at least one investment trust with a paid-in capital of more than $250,000,000.

Many people are wondering if a number of these investment trusts have not been organized for the primary purpose of purchasing stocks from the pools at the high valuations.

Up to date there has been no regulation of investment trusts. Many people who have seen the large profits made in recent years have put hundreds of millions of dollars into these trusts.

One shrewd market observer has stated that, in the event some of the stocks that have been turned into the investment trusts turn "sour," a lot of harsh criticism might be avoided if more of them "put some of their own hard cash into their trusts."

How could this be done? One way would be to create an issue of convertible cumulative preferred stock, to rank ahead of the common, in assets and dividends. They might secure this preferred by paying cash for a block of common.

But Maurice Holland of the National Research Council, believes that many of the investment trusts today are going at the matter of future commitments in a really scientific way. The investment holdings are so enormous that thorough knowledge of any new product which might affect the industry in any way is now being acquired through careful research and study.

Research will play a most important part in the future of the successful and well-managed investment trust.

Acquisition of Chain Systems Formally Made

MacMarr Stores, Inc., yesterday formally completed the acquisition of the business and assets of three California chain grocery concerns including Heller's stores in San Diego, Economic Food Company in Fresno and Piggly Wiggly Laws Company in Modesto. The addition of these three groups of stores by MacMarr will bring the total now operated by the chain to 1000.

The negotiations were concluded by Charles E. Marr, representing MacMarr Stores, Inc., Henry James, New York attorney representing Merrill, Lynch & Company, bankers, and Matt F. Heller, John W. King, Sr., and H. F. Laws, representing the acquired units.

Heller's, which was organized in 1916 to take over the business established by Matt F. Heller in 1892, operates forty-two stores, one warehouse and a bakery in San Diego and vicinity. Both Matt F. Heller and Milton F. Heller, his son, will continue to be associated with the MacMarr chain. Economic Food Company, which conducts thirty-nine stores and a warehouse in the Fresno territory, also owns Piggly Wiggly Kern Company, Inc., with seven Piggly Wiggly stores in Fresno. John W. King, Sr., and Earle Hughes, present heads of the unit, will remain with MacMarr.

Piggly Wiggly Laws Company, a copartnership operates seven stores, four meat markets and a warehouse in Modesto. H. P. Laws and C. H. Laws were partners in the business and H. P. Laws will continue with MacMarr.

CAPACITY ORDER PLACED

NEW YORK, June 21. (Exclusive) An order approximating $1,250,000 has been received by General Electric Company for the manufacture of capacitors for Victor Talking Machines, the radio manufactured by the Victor concern and the combination radio and talking machine. The order was received by the Pittsfield (Mass.) works and represents the largest single order received by that unit.

MERGER PLANS RATIFIED

NEW YORK, June 21. (Exclusive) Directors of the American Cyanamid Company and the Kalbfleisch Corporation have approved a consolidation of assets of the two companies subject to the approval of stockholders. Kalbfleisch Corporation will continue as a separate organization.

GAIN NOTED IN INQUIRY FOR WOOLS

Actual Buying Reported Light, Particularly of Fines; Price Easy

BOSTON, June 21. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: More inquiry is reported for wool this week but sales are far from satisfactory, especially on the finer qualities, which favor the buyer in price. Medium wools are fairly firm.

Operations in the new clip have lessened in consequence of reduced limits. Some wool, however, is being bought in the clean range of 85@88 cents, as against 88@92 cents formerly for fine and fine medium wools.

The manufacturing position is not unhealthy but it continues slow so far as new business is concerned. Were prices better stabilized in wool it is possible business might be better in tops, yarns and piece goods.

Mohair is rather quiet but prices keep fairly firm.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1 to June 20, 1929, inclusive, were 84,671,000 pounds against 81,738,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1929, to June 20, 1929, inclusive, were 128,682,285 pounds, against 152,398,700 pounds for the same period last year.

Scoured basis — Texas, fine twelve months (selected,) 93@95; fine eight months, 88@90. California, northern, 85@88; middle county, 83@85; southern, 78@80. Oregon, fine and F.M. staple, 94@95; fine and F.M. Fr. clothing, 92@93; fine and F.M. clothing, 89@90; Valley No. 1, 90@92. Territory, Montana and similar, fine staple choice, 95@97; ½ blood combing, 94@95; ⅜ blood combing, 88@90; ¼ blood combing, 78@80.

Pulled—Delaine, 1.05@1.07; AA 1.03@1.05; fine A supers, 97@1.02; A supers, 95@97.

Mohair—Good original bag Texas spring, 61@62; Texas kid, 80@82.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—Continued favorable weather and crop advices were reflected by liquidation and scattered selling in cotton today and a lower level of prices. Trading was inactive and the market showed a fairly steady tone during the greater part of the day. It looked a little easier around 2 o'clock when active months showed losses of about 6 to 13 points.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, June 21. (Exclusive)—Trading in rubber futures at the local exchange today was dull, but a steady tone accompanied by underlying strength made for a recovery of the losses which took place in the previous session, and deliveries wound up unchanged to 30 points higher. Sales aggregated 364 contracts, or 910 long tons.

London spot was steady and 1-16d lower at 10 7-16d. Outside spot was 20⅛c.

UTILITIES LOSE LEAD IN BUYING

Heavy Profit-taking in Group Brings Reaction

Rail and Industry Lists Take Trading Laurels

General Price Trend Higher on Light Sales

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)— prices made further recovery in to- day's market with the rails and in- dustrials supplanting the public utilities as the leaders. While trad- ing showed only a moderate expan- sion in volume, due to the uneasi- ness over the possibility of a money pinch next week, the demand for stocks was more varied than it has been at any time this week. Total sales fell just short of 3,200,000 shares, or slightly more than 900 above yesterday's total.

Inasmuch as about $400,000 in stock "rights" had to be taken up in the last ten days, the increase of $136,000,000 in Federal Reserve brokers' loans was disregarded, ther was any attention paid to the decline in the Federal Reserve bank holdings of bill and government se- curities, which apparently dispelled rumors that there had been a re- laxation in Federal reserve credit policy. Meanwhile, money rates were unchanged, call money holding steady at 7 per cent all day and the undertone of the market characterised as firmer.

UTILITIES EASE

The Chicago Federal Reserve Bank followed the action of the New York institution in announcing no change in the 5 per cent dis- count rate.

Public utilities, which had been in the forefront of the advance ear- lier in the week, ran into heavy profit - taking. Commonwealth Power dropped 4½ points, Ameri- can Power & Light, Detroit Edison, Pacific Lighting and Peoples Gas dropped 2 to 3 points and Consol- idated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey and several others yielded a point or more. Meanwhile Brook- lyn Union Gas, and Columbia Gas & Electric moved into new high ground.

Announcement of a large merger by the J. P. Morgan & Co. interests was hailed as a bullish de- velopment, but curiously Fleisch- mann and Royal Baking Powder, the stocks directly involved, lost ground, probably on "selling on good news." There was little in the day's news to influence price movement. Weekly mercantile reviews continued optimistic in tone stressing the impetus to seasonal goods trade given by the heat wave this week.

RAIL ALLIANCE

Speculative interest veered decidedly toward the rails in the trading. Atchison ran up 6 points and retained most of its gain. Pacific and New York Central advanced about 5 points and a

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Transamerica, Douglas Air and Union Oil Capture Lead in Stock Market Trading Here

Trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday behaved reminiscent of the days before the recent disastrous break. The popular issues reasserted themselves in almost aggressive fashion with such stocks as Transamerica, Union of California, Douglas, International Re-Insurance and Byron Jackson making the best Transamerica's sharp rise to a high of 140 3-8 was inspired by the report that Bank of America, N. A., Transamerica subsidiary, would merge with the Chatham Phenix National Bank of New York. No confirmation was available from Transamerica officials, although it was said on the street that the merger was virtually assured. The stock ended the day at 140 1-4, representing a net advance over the previous session of 2 7-8 points.

The 1 1-4-point rise in Douglas Aircraft to a high and close of 39 was prompted by the story that negotiations are under way in the East for the combination of Douglas with Wright Aeronautical, following the physical consolidation of Douglas with Travel Air Company and possibly other aircraft makers.

Dividend rumors centering around the yarn that an extra might be declared next week were chiefly responsible for the gain of 1¼ points scored by Union of California. The stock closed at the high of the day of 48 7-8.

Fractional advances were hung up in Standard of California, Richfield and Rio Grande. Lower priced issues like Macmillan, Gilmore and Republic sold off slightly.

Expiring of the rights was advanced as the reason for the recovery in International Re-Insurance to 51, a gain of 1½ points. Golden States Milk, another of the miscellaneous issues, dropped off 2 3-4 points to 55½.

Trading in the public utility shares calmed down after the recent bulge, both Edison and Pacific Gas selling off slightly. The latter receded 1 1-4 points to 68 and the former 3-4 to 63½.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—Convertible rail and telephone obligations, advancing on the strength of the stocks, accounted for most of the activity on today's ragged bond market. Issues without a speculative flavor eased slightly, although the charge for long-term time loans dropped to 7½ per cent. It had ranged on Thursday between that figure and 8 per cent.

Railroad securities exchangeable for stocks showed considerable improvement. The largest gain was made by the Atchison 4½s, up 1⅛ on a large turnover. Erie convertible 4s mounted 1¼ and fractional advances were made by Baltimore and Ohio 4½s, Missouri Pacific 5½s and Southern Pacific 4½s, with warrants.

American Telephone convertible 4½s moved within a range of more than 2 points, closing at 129½ for a net gain of 1⅞, while International Telephone 4½s climbed 2¾ to a new high at 133, closing a shade under its best price of the day. Public Service of New Jersey 4½s made a new 1929 high at 234, but reacted to 230, the previous close.

The remainder of the list, including the United States government issues, was spotty. Although quotations tended toward the down side, changes were mostly insignificant and the volume of business continued light. Minor strength appeared in Consolidated Gas of New York debenture 5½s and in Pacific Telephone 5s, but North American Edison 5½s and 5s, which had been selling higher this week, met fractional declines.

In the rail section, only the secondary and speculative issues, aside from the convertibles, traded to an appreciable extent. Fair attention was paid to the St. Paul 5s and the Seaboard bonds, the Consolidated 6s of the latter line advancing ½ and the refunding 4s 1⅛.

Several representative industrials met with selling, which carried American Beet Sugar 6s down 2 points to a new 1929 low. Armour real estate 4½s, Goodyear Tire and Rubber 5s and United States Rubber 5s declined fractionally. Walworth issues were strong, the 6½s climbing 2¼.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

BAY CITY CURB

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (AP)—Although trading was comparatively light on the San Francisco Curb Exchange today, prices as a group moved fractionally higher.

American Telephone and Telegraph rights, which for the past few days has been rising sensationally from its all-time low, was easily the most interesting issue. Opening at 10c lower at 4.50, it soared quickly to a high of 4.75, closing with no change at 4.60.

Comparatively large volumes, as well as fractional gains, were scored by Columbia Steel, Durant Motors, Fokker Aircraft, Lockheed, Forrest Gilmore and United Air.

Southern California Edison continued to rise to higher levels, touching 64½, but at the close was forced down to show ½-point loss at 63½. Both the 6 per cent and 7 per cent preferred stocks of this company sold fractionally above the previous closing price.

In the oil group gains were recorded by nearly every one of the issues. Italo Petroleum up 5c at 4.65, Universal Consolidated no change at 1.70 and Occidental up 5c to 3.35.

LOS ANGELES CURB

While trading on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday showed an increase in volume and value of shares transferred over the previous day, the price movements continued to be small and mixed for most of the active stocks.

Bach Aircraft, as a result of a fire at the company's plant Thursday, was under pressure and sold down to a new low for the year of 1.40 and then climbed up to a closing price of 1.60, off 20 cents. A total of 8300 Bach shares changed hands. Officials of the company during the day issued statements to the effect that the fire loss was fully covered by insurance and that production would be only slightly hampered.

Fokker Aircraft moved up 1½ points to 50½ and Electrical Products rights jumped 15 cents to 65. Aviation Corporation of Delaware touched a new low for the year of 17½, off 1-4, as did also Magnavox in closing at 3.90, off 60 cents.

In the oil stocks, Mexican Seaboard advanced 1 1-4 to 44. Wellington Oil gained 15 cents to close at 2.40. Exeter dropped 2½ cents to 1.42½ while other oils traded remained unchanged from their previous closing prices.

Sales totaled 154,483 shares, valued at $215,959.

en others advanced 1 to 3 points, with New Haven and Norfolk & Western reaching new high ground for the year.

U. S. Steel common and Anaconda were two of the most popular standard industrials, the former closing 2 5-8 points higher at 180 3-8 after having crossed 181, and the latter showing a net gain of 3 1-4 at 115 1-4, which contrasts with the low of 99 touched on the recent decline.

Wide gains were registered by some of the high priced specialties. Adams Express soared 39 points, Federal Mining & Smelting jumped 33 points on one sale, Allis Chalmers retained all but a point of its 19-point gain and Allied Chemical closed 14 points higher at 306 after having sold 5 points above that figure. Air reduction, Underwood Elliot Fisher, Childs Co., Mackay Radio Co., and Youngstown Sheet & Tube reached new nigh ground.

OIL IN DEMAND

Mexican Seaboard common and "rights" were heavily bought on the bringing in of another well on its Kettleman Hills property in California and Pan American B recovered more than 2 points of its recent loss, but the other oils continued sluggish.

Baldwin, A. M. Byers, Commercial Investment Trust, Commercial Solvents, General Electric, Greene Cananea Copper, May Department Stores, United Air Transport common and preferred and Wright Aero all sold 4 to 10 points higher.

Commodity markets were mixed. Cotton declined about $1 a bale on selling influenced by excellent growing weather. An early gain of 1⅛ cents a bushel in wheat futures, based on a better export demand, was canceled by subsequent liquidation inspired by favorable weather forecasts. Corn futures also lost ground after an early advance.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—Conflicting price movements marked today's trading on the curb market, with practically the entire list selling off after the opening. Boosting of several middle western utilities and holding company issues into new high ground in the mid-afternoon brought about a recovery, with prices winding up the day well above the low levels.

Traders again exhibited nervousness over the credit situation as a result of the big increase in brokers' loans, although call money held at 7 per cent despite predictions for a squeeze this week. Favorable earnings report by Packard helped the late afternoon recovery. The motor group, with exception of the taxi issues, influenced by the turmoil in New York over cut-rate cabs, was active and strong. Oils also displayed an improved tone, with stocks of two of the smaller companies selling at record prices.

Electric Investors, American Superpower new and American Light and Traction were the outstanding strong spots in the mixed utility group, the first and last soaring to record levels. Electric Investors, which holds stocks in such companies as Public Service of New Jersey, Columbia Gas and Electric, Brooklyn Union Gas and International Telephone and Telegraph, ran up 11½ points to 191½ and closed at 190. Duke Power was another spectacular performer, mounting 13½ points to 107½, within 2½ points of its record price. Shares of United Gas Improvement, which holds some Public Service of New Jersey stocks, sold at peak prices.

The three up-State New York utilities merged by Morgan & Co., broke from 2⅞ to 6½ points, while St. Regis Paper, which controlled one of the companies, dropped 9⅞. All issues of Niagara Hudson Power, the new holding company, yielded to selling pressure.

Stock of the latest Morgan & Co. consolidation venture was admitted to trading under the name Fleischmann, Royal. No name has been decided upon yet for the company which united Fleischmann Company, Royal Baking Powder and E. W. Gillett Company of Canada. A block of 1500 shares changed hands at 35½ on the initial transaction at noon. From 35½ the price eased to 34⅛ and closed at 34⅝.

The trend toward electrification of industry is reflected in the 7-point advance of Crocker Wheeler, maker of generators and electrical machinery, to 323, a record price.

Packard Motors, new, was strong on the earings of $23,473,684 for the nine months ended May 31, compared to $17,803,304 in the corresponding 1928 period. Franklin sold at a new peak as the company's plants are kept operating at a record pace. Paramount Cab dropped to 17, a new low, and closed at 18 for a net loss of 1⅞.

Radio shares were well supported, and chain stores, reflecting increased sales, were strong.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—The raw sugar market was firmer early today and while no sales were reported buyers showed interest at last-paid prices of 3.52 for July shipment, but holders asked 1-6c more.

A better withdrawal demand for refined was reported, but new business was light and supplied through second hands at from 4.80@4.82½. Refiners' prices were unchanged at 4.85.

Futures closed steady; approximated sales, 44,750 tons. July, 1.74; September, 1.84; December, 1.92@1.93; March, 2.01; May, 2.08@2.09.

Profit Taking Halts Advance on Wheat Mart

CHICAGO, June 21. (AP)—Assertions that crop damage reports from the Southwest may prove to be exaggerated led to heavy selling to realize profits in the wheat market today. Fresh advances in price which had been scored were thus offset, despite announcement that exporters had purchased 2,000,000 bushels of North American wheat, almost altogether from Canada, but including some domestic wheat at the Gulf of Mexico ¼@½c under the cost of Chicago July delivery.

Closing quotations on wheat were irregular, ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed at ⅜@⅝c net decline, oats ⅛c off to ⅛c up and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10c.

New upturns in wheat values today came early, hand in hand with enlarged buying, together with an authoritative estimate that world wheat production for the 1929-1930 season would be 5 per cent smaller than for 1928-1929. This estimate was taken to imply that as a result the 1928-1929 carryover of wheat would be more than counterbalanced. It was also noted that the Liverpool wheat market today closed 2@2½d up, an advance which exceeds predictions based on gains this side of the Atlantic.

Adverse crop reports from domestic winter wheat territory Southwest were meanwhile unabated, and drought complaints from spring wheat sections Northwest were even more pronounced than heretofore. One current estimate today placed the Oklahoma probable yield as low as 27,000,000 bushels to 30,000,000 bushels, compared with 35,000,000 bushels forecast a month ago and 60,000,000 bushels harvested last year. Specific details today from Canada showed the moisture supply for two and one-half months back to be far below a ten-year average.

In the late dealings, however, and notwithstanding that an expert went on record that Kansas would do well to make twelve bushels per acre, the wheat market felt the weight of big profit-taking sales. Early gains were then about eliminated, but in view of the tremendous total of wheat sold the market was regarded by many traders as having given a good account of itself from the standpoint of friends of higher prices.

Increased country offerings of corn to arrive here made the corn market droopy and had considerable effect as a weight on the price of wheat. Favorable weather for the cultivation of the new corn crop was prevalent, and shipping demand here for corn was less active. Oats were governed by conflicting influences that sprang from the action of other cereals.

Provisions averaged higher, chiefly on account of scattered commission-house buying.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, June 21. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Some uncertainty still prevails regarding prices of sheet bars, billets and slabs for third quarter. The market has not settled and both producers and consumers are waiting for further developments. Some of the valley and Pittsburgh makers have not been able to book contracts for third quarter at $36 and one or two of them are reported at $35. Some observers believe this figure will be representative of the market, though very little business has been closed to date.

Sheet mill operations in the Chicago district are being hindered by the hot weather. Third quarter buying of this material is progressing steadily and many of the leading customers now are under contract for that period.

METAL PRICES

Gar Wood Will Have Air Yacht

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—A man who fifteen years ago was a midwest garage mechanic with no money beyond his daily wage sailed on the Majestic today to superintend the last touches on a $125,000 air yacht being built to his order in Germany.

The erstwhile mechanic is Gar Wood, speedboat manufacturer and racer, capitalist, and more recently aviation enthusiast and pilot.

The new plane is a Dornier seaplane and will be the largest seaplane in America. It will have sleeping accommodations for twelve, three washrooms, a full-sized shower bath, and a regular stateroom with a bed in it for the owner.

DAWES BRITONS' GUEST

LONDON, June 21. (AP)—Ambassador Dawes today accepted the invitation of Empire Council of the British Empire Service League to attend the dinner to overseas delegates, the 25th inst., at its biennial conference. The Prince of Wales will preside.

DE PRIEST HAS RECEPTION

More Than 3000 Negroes and Dozen Whites Attend Affair Given by Illinois Representative

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—More than 3000 negroes and a dozen or so whites attended a musicale and reception given here tonight by Representative De Priest, negro Republican member of Congress from Illinois, to which most of the Republican members of Congress had been invited.

Representative Yates, former Governor of the State which De Priest now serves, was among those present.

De Priest, in a brief speech, said he will ask the negroes "to repeat this again next February when everybody is over their summer vacation." Most of the members of Congress left Washington yesterday after the adjournment of the two houses for a summer recess.

There was a brief reference in the speeches which prefaced the entertainment to the comment that followed the recent attendance of De Priest's wife at a White House tea.

James Weldon Johnson, New York negro, secretary of the National Association for Advancement of the Colored People, said the statement made by De Priest had been "the only dignified and statesmanlike thing that has come out of all the buncombe and moonshine that has been thrown out in Washington in the last few days."

De Priest, a few moments later, declared there has been too much said in the press recently.

"I gave out a public statement in which I said everything there was to say," he added.

His wife was cheered vigorously as she went to the stage to receive a bouquet.

MOODY SAYS PRECEDENT SHOULD HAVE BEEN BROKEN

AUSTIN (Tex.) June 21. (AP)—The "precedent" pleaded by R. B. Creager, Republican, Republican National Committeeman from Texas, under which Mrs. Hoover entertained the wife of Oscar De Priest, Chicago negro Congressman, is one that should have been broken, Gov. Dan Moody declared today in answer to the committeeman's request that the Executive veto the Texas Legislature's resolution censuring the White House party.

"If the precedent had been broken and the people of the Illinois district took offense they should have been told to elect a white man to Congress and his wife would have been accorded all the social privileges of the White House," Gov. Moody said.

DIVERSION OF WATER UPHELD

Judge Rector Denies Plea for Injunction

Agreement to Swap Waters Declared Legal

Jurist Admits Kings River Structure "Unknown"

HANFORD, June 21.—In handing down a decision in the Foothill Irrigation injunction suit tried here this spring and taken under advisement by the court, Judge E. N. Rector of Merced, who sat in the Superior Court here, grants the Foothill district, the Murphy Slough Association and several ditch companies operating in the Laton, Conejo and Riverdale sections, the right to proceed with their agreement for the exchange of water diversion rights. The decision was filed with the clerk of the court here today.

The People's Ditch Company, Last Chance Water Ditch Company and the Lemoore Canal and Irrigation Company, the three principal irrigation companies supplying Kings county ranchers with water, were plaintiffs in the action, seeking to enjoin the Foothill district and its codefendants from carrying out the exchange agreement.

The plaintiffs had sought to enjoin the Foothill Irrigation District and the Murphy Slough Association from entering into a water exchange agreement, whereby the Murphy Slough Association was to divert to the Foothill district a certain amount of its water in Kings River and, in exchange, the district was to sink a battery of wells near Conejo, northwest of the Murphy Slough territory, from which a supply of water was to be obtained to take the place of the river water diverted by the association to the district higher up the stream.

In the decision the right of the proposed diversion is disposed of by the statement by Judge Rector that the law does not withhold from the appropriator of water the right to change the point of his diversion, this being true whether it be the total amount of the appropriated water or only a portion thereof. The court agrees, as contended by the plaintiffs' attorneys, that additional inconvenience in administering the water of Kings River would occur, but declares that such inconvenience is not a sufficient reason for an injunction.

One of the chief contentions of the plaintiffs was that the pumping operations as proposed would induce such an amount of seepage from Kings River and the area included in the canal system of the plaintiff companies, as to cause a depletion in the underground waters to the detriment of the plaintiffs. In making this contention the plaintiffs had maintained that there was no separation of underground water zones as contended by the defendants' attorneys and numerous experts, engineers and geologists were called as witnesses by both sides to attempt to prove the contention.

Regarding these contentions, Judge Rector states in the decision that he has been unable to conclude that any witness was right. He declares that "the matter of the formation of the Kings River fan must be placed in the category of the 'unknown.'"

He further states that the testimony does not disclose an impervious stratum of several hundred feet beneath the Conejo well field, as maintained by the defendants.

After stating that the underground conditions can only be determined by an actual test which he says the defendants are seeking to make at their own risk and expense, Judge Rector holds that they should be permitted to make such test, and if they discover that there is not the well-replenished water zone beneath the Conejo well field that they expect then the loss would be theirs only.

"In holding that the defendants must be permitted to proceed with their proposed development the court will reserve to itself power to enjoin defendants to whatever extent as may be necessary, should it hereafter be proven upon a proper proceeding instituted by plaintiffs or any of them, that they are being damaged by the acts of defendants, under their exchange agreement.

"The plaintiffs were justified in bringing this action to preserve their rights against possible future encroachment thereon and also justified in diligently prosecuting the same unless they have, before or during the trial, rejected just and reasonable offers of settlement. For this reason, the plaintiffs being found without fault, the court feels that there should be some admeasurement of costs between the parties whereby the whole expense of the litigation would not fall upon the plaintiffs; for it's possible that even in this action they will yet procure an injunction. This matter of costs can be adjusted at the time of settlement of findings."

When asked regarding an appeal from the decision, H. Scott Jacobs stated today that he could not say just what course would be taken. He, with his associate, Attorney W. H. Bailey of Visalia, will hold a conference with the heads of the ditch companies.

Arizona Woman Found Murdered

TUCSON (Ariz.) June 21. (AP)—Mrs. N. H. Batchelor, 48 years of age, operator of a store and gasoline filling station six miles north of Tucson, was found dead tonight on the floor of her store with four bullet wounds through her head. Her husband, a local barber, discovered his wife as he returned to his home after the day's work.

Ayudante de Hoover que Va a Toda Prisa a la Cabecera de su Hijo

WASHINGTON, Junio 21.—Walter H. Newton, ayudante administrativo del presidente Hoover, viajaba hoy a toda prisa rumbo a su casa en Minneapolis, para llegar a la cabecera de su hijito de seis años, John Marshall, que se halla en crítica condición debido a un accidente de tranvía del que fué víctima ayer a última hora.

El hijito del señor Newton fué atropellado en los momentos en que iba de paseo en una bicicleta, y, según los informes llegados aquí, los cirujanos decidieron que era necesario amputarle una pierna, y que sería, tal vez, menester amputarle la otra más adelante.

Se Recomienda como Eficaz el Nalgueo a los Jovencitos

Se Ha Llegado a un Acuerdo Entre Portes Gil y los Prelados Mejicanos

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Junio 21.—A las 5:30 p.m. de hoy, en el palacio presidencial, ha anunciado el presidente Portes Gil que se ha llegado a un acuerdo entre la Iglesia Católica Romana y el gobierno de Méjico. El presidente de dicha nación ha dado a la publicidad las tres condiciones que forman la base del acuerdo.

I. El gobierno mejicano autoriza a los jerarcas católico-romanos para que designen aquellos sacerdotes que hayan de registrarse en cumplimiento con las leyes mejicanas.

II. La instrucción religiosa, si bien no permitida en las escuelas, como lo especifica la constitución, será permitida dentro de las iglesias.

III. Reservaseles el derecho a los prelados católicos mejicanos de gestionar, en cualquier época futura, la modificación de la constitución, derecho de que disfrutarán en común con todos los ciudadanos mejicanos.

Este convenio pone las relaciones de Méjico con el clero sobre el mismo pie en que se hallaban antes del 31 de Julio de 1926, fecha en que cesaron los servicios sacerdotales en las iglesias. El acuerdo actual no es, en realidad, sino una interpretación liberal de la constitución mejicana de 1917, cuya puesta en vigor determinó una crisis religiosa en Méjico.

Priscilla Dean and New Mate Held Not Legally Wed Separate at Once

Priscilla Dean, motion-picture actress, and Leslie P. Arnold, former army aviator, started romancing again yesterday, and they will until he gets a legal divorce. In consequence of the setting aside of his divorce at Atlanta, Ga., this week, Miss Dean and Arnold came to a temporary parting of the ways.

LESLIE P. ARNOLD

It was not until early yesterday that the couple learned of the sad news from Georgia, following their arrival from a short pleasure trip by motor to San Francisco and Yosemite Valley. When informed of the court's action they decided to separate immediately in obeyance of the ruling, they said.

Arnold announced he will start divorce proceedings again in the immediate future, but when and where he will file the suit he does not know yet. The first Mrs. Arnold, who lives in Greton, Ct., had the decree granted to Arnold about four years ago set aside on the ground she was not notified.

Arnold declared the action of his former wife from whom, he said, he separated about ten years ago after a week, speaks for itself. "She had to wait until I married Miss Dean," he said. "I intend to get another divorce that will satisfy everybody. There won't be any mistakes this time, I assure you. We will just have to be sweethearts again and I am sure Miss Dean will say yes when I propose the second time."

Arnold and Miss Dean were married last September in Tia Juana, Mex.

OVERSEAS WOMEN TO MEET

Los Angeles will be represented by Mrs. Henry Snure, Miss Louella Bender and Miss Edith Wells. Miss Elizabeth Hill is chief chef of the Sunday morning affair.

NEW MISTAKE IN CREMATION

General Hospital Accused of Carelessness

Sworn Statement Made to Prosecutor

Second Error in Week to Speed Jury Quiz

Revealing the story of how six women gathered in the chapel of the General Hospital at 3 p.m. Monday to attend the funeral services for a friend who had died at the county farm on the 13th inst., only to be informed that the remains had been cremated by mistake three hours before, Miss Rose Kenney of 123 North Grand avenue appeared at the District Attorney's office yesterday and made a sworn statement before Daniel Beecher, chief trial deputy.

SECOND IN WEEK

The startling statement came as the second charge of careless cremation during the week at the General Hospital. It followed the complaint made Thursday by Mrs. Ruth Iffland, of 115½ East Fifty-fifth street, that the body of her grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Ashenfelter, had been cremated "by mistake," although relatives had requested that it be prepared for shipment east.

The two reports have added new weight to the grand jury investigation into the asserted promiscious cremation of bodies without the consent of relatives and friends at the General Hospital, which already has revealed other similar "mistakes."

MISTAKE REVEALED

Miss Kenney went to the District Attorney's office prepared to go before the grand jury and tell her story, but due to the absence of Percy Hammon, deputy District Attorney in charge of grand jury matters, and a full calendar of business for the day, Chief Beecher took her sworn statement, which will be read into the records at a later stage in the investigation.

According to Miss Kenney's story, Miss Ruth Sanderson, 70 years of age, died at the county farm on the 13th inst., following a prolonged illness. Miss Kenney and several other friends visited her in a cottage at the county farm a few hours before her death. Later that night they were informed by telephone of Miss Sanderson's demise.

The friends then took up the matter of funeral arrangements, according to Miss Kenney, and at 8 o'clock Monday morning a General Hospital attendant advised them by telephone that the services would be conducted at 3 p.m. on that date.

SECRECY URGED

When the six friends gathered in the hospital chapel at 2:45 p.m., it was empty, Miss Kenney said. After waiting some time a minister appeared and when asked about the services and the whereabouts of Miss Sanderson's remains he said, "They must be over there in the morgue," pointing to another building.

A moment later a woman attendant came to the chapel and called one of the friends to one side, telling her that the body had been cremated "by mistake" three hours before and that consequently there could be no funeral, according to Miss Kenney.

In the indignant demonstration that followed, Miss Kenney said, the woman attendant pleaded with them not to report the matter, for it would cost her her position. The saddened party of friends finally left the hospital grounds without having been accorded the privilege of seeing the body of their friend or attending her funeral rites.

TWO OTHER CASES

This case, with two others of a similar nature, occurring at the General Hospital during the last thirteen months will be placed before the grand jury for consideration at an early date, according to Fred Shelley, who is assisting Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hammon in handling grand jury matters.

Upon receipt of these reports officials recalled the complaint of Otto R. Phillips in May, 1928, who told authorities that his wife, Flora Belle Phillips, had died in the General Hospital, and when he called to see her body, was told that it had been cremated "by mistake."

BUILDING OF CHAPEL TO START SOON

Word Concerning New U.C.L.A. Campus Edifice Given by Bishop Stevens

Bishop W. B. Stevens of the Episcopal diocese yesterday authorized an announcement that construction of the Bishop Johnson Memorial Chapel at the University of California at Los Angeles campus in Westwood, will be begun shortly. A fund for the erection of this $75,000 chapel for university students is being raised among friends of the late Bishop Johnson.

Architect's plans of the chapel were exhibited publicly for the first time at a dinner of the Diocesan Men's Club in St. Paul's Cathedral on Wednesday night. Bishop Stevens presided as toastmaster. The plans were drawn by Reginald Johnson, son of the late bishop, who also designed St. Paul's. The plans designate a Spanish-Moorish type of chapel adapted in shape to a hillside lot. The structure is to be of stucco-stone and, in addition to the formal church auditorium and rooms, there is provision for rooms intended for special gatherings of the student body.

An $18,000 lot, three-quarters of an acre in size, has been acquired. It adjoins the Y.W.C.A. building site, opposite the main entrance of the Westwood campus. Construction will be pushed in order to permit occupancy during the coming university term.

REHEARING FOR HARDY CASE ASKED

California State Bar in Appeal to Supreme Court for Review of Decision

Appeal for a rehearing in the Judge Hardy impeachment case was filed yesterday in the State Supreme Court by the California State Bar. The bar seeks, it was set forth in a seventeen-page appeal, a more liberal interpretation of the State Bar Act, recently held constitutional by the court.

The decision held that judges are not members of the State bar and that Judge Hardy was within his rights in refusing to testify before a special committee of the bar, appointed to investigate his conduct in accepting a check for $2500 from Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist.

Judge Hardy's stand was upheld by the Superior Court and, on appeal by the State bar, the lower court ruling was affirmed. It is on this ruling that the State bar seeks a rehearing.

Scouts to Give Demonstrations in Aid of Fund

In order to aid the United Jewish Welfare Fund campaign for $200,000 the Knights of Scouting, representing every Jewish scouting organization in the city, are sponsoring a benefit affair to be given tomorrow evening at the Jewish Alliance Auditorium, 1225 South Union avenue.

Arnold Muehlstein and Ludwig Rheinstein, scout leaders, are in charge of the program, and announce that the entertainment will include scout demonstration of first aid, life saving and other features of the Scout work. Musical and dance numbers will also be featured. The Scout troops represented are from Temple B'nai B'rith, Temple Beth El, Temple Emanu-El and City Temple.

TRUCK CRANKED IN GEAR HURTS DRIVER

Frank Green, 19-year-old truck driver, of 950 Camulas street, forgot one of the fundamentals of automobile operation yesterday, and his absent-mindedness landed him in the hospital with a broken leg. Returning to his truck from an alley at Seventh and Los Angeels streets, where he had made a delivery, he cranked the machine while it was in gear, the way he had left it. The heavy vehicle lunged forward and knocked him down, one of the wheels passing over his leg. He was given emergency treatment at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, and removed to Golden State Hospital.

AMELITA GALLI-CURCI, opera's foremost concert soprano, returned yesterday from her triumphant tour of the Near West. She arrived via Honolulu aboard the Lassco liner City of Honolulu. After spending the day here at the Biltmore, Mme. Galli-Curci, accompanied by her husband and accompanist, Homer Samuels, left last night via the Santa Fe to spend the summer at her New York home in the Catskill Mountains.

She recalled her visit to Los Angeles four years ago, when she sang in the Hollywood Bowl while Alfred Hertz conducted the Philharmonic Orchestra.

"I enjoyed the greatest thrill of my life that night under the stars. I feel sure that the Hollywood Bowl is the only outdoor location in the world where the voice of a singer is given proper reception."

Mme. Galli-Curci said that she will return here in November, for a series of concerts at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

GADD SEEKS PIPE-LINE FRANCHISE

Seven-Mile System for Reclaiming Land Proposed to Santa Monica

Application for a franchise to lay a seven-mile pipe line runnig approximately north and south through Santa Monica has been made by Peter Gadd, Los Angeles contractor, and the final completion of the deal is scheduled for July 10.

The formal notice of the application to the Commissioner of the city of Santa Monica is dated May 28 and sets out that the twelve-inch line is to be used for a period not to exceed twenty-five years for the purpose of transporting oil, gasoline, water, earthy materials, minerals and hydrocarbon products.

The application has no connection with the Alphonzo Bell cement project, according to Gadd, but is for the purpose of filling in tracts of lowlands in Venice and also the old canals. The dirt is to be sluiced from along the Pacific Palisades, which also involves the leveling of some hills into residential sites.

On completion of the development project, which is expected to cover six or seven years, the franchise and line, under the Gadd plan, is to be sold to some oil or gas company, which would utilize the line and avoid the present lift over the Conejo grade.

Additional police officers to patrol the Wilshire district are asked in a communication received by the Council yesterday from the Wilshire Community Council. The plea was referred to the Finance Committee.

HALDEMAN CLEARED IN USURY CASE

Jury of Women Returns Not-Guilty Verdict as Instructed by Court

Harry M. Haldeman was acquitted of Julian usury charges yesterday by a jury of women in Municipal Judge Pope's court. The court instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, following lengthy arguments between City Prosecutor Nix and Oscar Lawler and Lawrence W. Beilenson, defense attorneys.

The defense contended that the agreements to which Haldeman was a party, known as those of Julian Pool No. 1, in connection with which several prominent persons were indicted and the indictments later dismissed, were sale and repurchase agreements which are common practice in the stock market. The facts, which were stipulated to by the defense, showed that Haldeman put $20,000 in the pool September 21, 1926, which was returnable November 9, 1926.

The money, plus the amount which the State contended was usurious interest and the defense held was legal stock profit in conformity with the sale and repurchase agreement, was not returned until December 10, 1926. The State contended that the additional month changed the status of the agreement, the contention being opposed by the defense, which Judge Pope sustained, instructing the jury to return a verdict in conformity with his ruling, which it did.

Curb Near for Outlaw Well

A chamber sixty feet below the surface around the pipes of the blazing McKeon oil well No. 2, at Santa Fe Springs is expected by engineers to be completed this morning and work will start on tapping off through a side line part of the gas and oil now roaring from the mouth of the well.

Next Monday the underground crew expects to divert most of the force through the underground tapping and will co-operate with the surface crew in placing a huge bell over the mouth of the outlaw well, engineers in charge of field operations stated last night.

FOUR RECORDS IN AIR SOUGHT

New Burst of History-Making Attempts Opens Today

Local Pair Will Try to Cut Coast-to-Coast Time

Three Refueling Flights and Chute Jump on Card

Four air records are to be bombarded by roaring motors and trim airplanes within the next five days by local pilots. Two of the flights are scheduled to get under way today and the other take-offs will be made as soon as the record-seeking planes get their final tunings.

CAPT FRANK HAWKS

Lieut. Lee Schoenhair, veteran of several transcontinental attacks on time, was scheduled to nose his Lockheed plane toward New York from the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport before dawn this morning in an attempt to lower the coast-to-coast record of 18 hours, 21 minutes and 59 seconds now held by Capt. Frank Hawks.

While taxiing Schoenhair's ship down the Metropolitan runway late last night, a mechanic misjudged his distance and swunf the plane into another one. A hole about three feet long and six inches wide was ripped in the leading edge of the right wing and the plane's propeller was broken.

Mechanics and repairmen were routed out of bed, however, and Schoenhair expected to take off following a short delay.

Hawks will pick up the gauntlet thrown down by Schoenhair when he climbs into another Lockheed at 6 a.m. next Monday at the Metropolitan field and also will race against time to the east coast to regain his record—if Schoenhair breaks it.

Both flyers will attempt a return trip from New York a few hours after they touch their wheels at Roosevelt Field, N. Y., if they succeed in piloting their planes through the 2446 air miles between here and their goal.

REFUELING FLIGHTS

Three endurance refueling flights are on tap from local airports.

LEE SCHOENHAIR

The first, a Buhl Airsedan, powered with a 100-horsepower Warner motor, will take to the air from Metropolitan Airport at 6 p.m. today with Leo Nomis and Maurice Morrison at the controls. They plan to shatter the present record of 172 hours, 32 minutes and - second, made recently by the Fort Worth (Tex.) flyers, Reg Robbins and James Kelly.

The latter is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow and go aloft for a waving visit to the two local men who want to bring back the endurance record to Southern California—the first having been set here by the Army's Question Mark.

Nomis and Morrison expect to be above ground when Lieut. L. W. Mendell and R. B. Reinhart climb into the air aboard another Buhl Air-sedan from the Culver City Airport next Tuesday morning on the second local attack on the refueling endurance record.

FAHY IN NEW ATTEMPT

A third plane, a giant tri-motored Albatross, also will get away early next week on a similar flight with a woman co-Marjorie Crawford, at the controls. Homer Weber will act as chief pilot on the flight with a third pilot and a mechanic completing the crew. The take-off probably will be made from the Midway Airport.

HERBERT J. FAHY

It is possible that all three of the planes will be in the air at the same time—something of a record in itself, a trio

HERE was a story we missed. Old Sol Barth, one of the greatest characters of the frontier, spent his declining days in Los Angeles, but came back to his old home in Arizona to die.

His son, Isaac Barth, a well-known attorney of Phoenix, told me the story in a hotel at Flagstaff. It is such a story as never can happen again anywhere.

THE FIRST POSTMAN

Barth came out west in the sixties.

One of his first jobs was a mail contract for the government. He rode from Albuquerque to San Bernardino through the heart of the hostile Apache country.

The pony express riders had relays of fast horses and rode at full speed from station to station. Barth rode alone. He had an old white horse and carried the first-class mail in his saddlebags.

Behind came two mules. In the saddlebags of one he carried the second and third-class mail. The other packed his bedding and supplies.

He was about twelve days and nights on the road.

CAUGHT BY APACHES

On one occasion another man went along with him for company. In a canyon the White Mountain Apaches suddenly swooped down upon them. They were carried away to the Apache camp, stripped of all their clothes and lashed naked to posts. In the morning they were to provide the piece de resistance of a grand party. They were to be burned to death.

TENDER-HEARTED SQUAW

In the middle of the night a squaw came to them. She was one of the young wives of the chief.

Without a word she cut their thongs and turned them loose.

Naked, without food or water, they had to run for their lives.

In the daytime they hid in the underbrush. At night they walked as fast as their strength would stand the pace.

DOG MEAT

A little mongrel dog had followed them from the Indian camp. It saved their lives. They decided to kill and eat him. They had no weapon, not even a knife or a club. They finally cut his throat with a piece of sharp flint. They had no way to cook the dog flesh. They ate him raw.

SAVED

After eight days two emaciated, half-dead naked white men staggered fainting into the pueblo of the Zuni, far to the south.

They were received with open arms. The fact that they were running away from the Apaches was a good introduction to a Zuni.

AN HONORED VISITOR

Barth grew rich in Arizona.

After he was a wealthy man there came sometimes an old Apache woman to his door—smiling, inarticulate . . .

Her arrival was always the signal for the biggest feast that could be crowded onto one table. It was the squaw who had saved his life.

NEW COUNCIL HEAD PRESENTED FLOWERS

President-elect Sanborn, who will preside over the Council beginning July 1, next, was presented with a basket of flowers at yesterday's session by his colleagues. The presentation was made by Councilman Davis and seconded by Councilman Martin, both of whom had been candidates for the post to which Sanborn was elected.

THREE KILLED IN TRAFFIC

Two Die Instantly When Car Hits Truck and Woman Succumbs to Injuries on Street

Two men were killed outright last night in a motor crash, a woman pedestrian died shortly after being struck by an automobile, and another woman was reported in a dying condition following a collision of two cars in which four other persons were hurt.

Police report the two motorists who were killed instantly as Bert J. McIntee, 687 Shatto Place, a salesman for B. H. Dyas Company, and Dr. Alexander Finlay, 7911½ Norton avenue, said to be connected with one of the two local universities. A driver's license issued to McIntee was found on the body of the man believed to have been driving at the time the men met their deaths.

THIRD MAN MISSING

The two men, in company with Earl S. Ammerman, 5317 Longfellow street, who disappeared after the crash, but telephoned his wife of injuries and said he was going to an emergency hospital, were riding in a sedan on Riverside Drive when, in the 1900 block, the speeding car struck a broken-down truck and trailer loaded with feed. According to police the truck driver, H. Page, 1527 Walnut street, Newhall, had left the truck to seek a service station for aid. Detective Lieutenant Geise of the Lincoln Heights police reported that the sedan, going at high speed, crashed into the stalled truck and trailer, killing the two motorists. The bodies were taken to the County Morgue and police were searching for Ammerman as he had not reported for medical treatment.

Mrs. E. Marie Nye, 60 years of age, 942 West Forty-ninth street, was injured fatally when she was struck by a car while she was walking across the street at Vermont avenue and Forty-ninth street. She died a few minutes after being admitted to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Police of the University division reported that the car which struck her was operated by Walter Fleming, a marine broker, 916 Elm street, Long Beach, who was held

BEERY'S ARMY WINS SKIRMISH

Ditch War Invaders, Otherwise County Surveyors, Easily Repulsed by Film Actor's Guards Without Firing of Single Shot

The first skirmish in the war of Beery's Wash began and ended yesterday without a shot being fired. Today the guards Noah Beery has placed around his property to prevent county authorities from constructing a flood-control channel across his land in San Fernando Valley are resting on their arms after successfully repulsing a party of flood-control surveyors who attempted to reconnoitre the premises.

"Halt! Who goes there?" questioned the guards menacingly as the surveyors approached.

"Pish! Pish! Put away those big guns before you hurt yourselves!" the invaders are said to have replied. "We are only a little band of surveyors sent out by E. C. Eaton, flood-control engineer, to obtain a bit of topographical data before a contemplated condemnation suit is instituted . . . this being the usual custom of our organization."

"If you mean what we think you mean, none of us knows what you're talking about," growled the guards, "and you better git before we find out."

One of the surveyors, at this juncture, opportunely paraphrased a famous statesman with a remark about it being "too warm to fight." So they went away.

The next move of the valley campaign will be made by Flood-control Counsel Downs. Yesterday afternoon he began the preparation of a condemnation suit on orders from County Counsel Mattoon. When that is done Sheriff Traeger, field marshal of the county armed forces, will be prepared to move against the Beery troops. It is the duty of the Sheriff to protect county sur-

LONGEST DAY NICE AND HOT

Sun Gets Up to 94 Deg. But Will Try Again Today; Heat Accounts for One Casualty

Citizens of Los Angeles may have wondered why the hours yesterday seemed so interminably long. The explanation is that yesterday, in addition to being one of the hottest days, was the longest day of the year. The only consolation offered in the forecast of officials of the United States Weather Bureau which indicates that today and tomorrow also will be very warm is the fact that they will not be warm as long as yesterday.

The thermometer rose to 94 deg. maximum at 11:30 a.m. in Los Angeles as compared with 93 deg. maximum the day before.

One casualty resulted from the heat wave in its sweep over Southern California, according to reports. Walter Hapgood, foreman for a construction company in Pasadena, collapsed while directing a street paving crew in that city. He was treated at the Pasadena Emergency Hospital for sunstroke, and later transferred to the El Monte Hospital. Hapgood lives at 1821 Baldwin avenue, El Monte.

The extreme heat of the recent wave lasts for only a few hours each day. The coolness of sea breezes sweeps over Los Angeles in the afternoons and lowers the temperature. It is impossible to determine accurately how long the present warm wave will last, Weather Bureau officials declare. According to the official forecast, there is likely to be a gradual lessening of temperature over a period of several days, with slight fluctuations. The peak of the heat so far was reached Wednesday when the mercury rose to 98 deg. in Los Angeles.

The weather was near normal in Fresno, it was reported yesterday. Temperature of 99 deg. was reached at noon. Reports from other Southern California towns indicated that the heat wave has reached its height and now gradually is lessening.

The prediction is for cooler weather tomorrow, but visiting Missourians insist that is what the weather man said last night.

JACOBSON CASE WITNESSES SHY

Mrs. Grimes, Her Sister and Lawyer All Silent

Councilman Himself Will be Heard Next Tuesday

After calling three witnesses, all of whom refused to testify on legal grounds, the county grand jury yesterday continued until Tuesday its investigation of charges that Councilman Jacobson sought to influence the testimony of Mrs. Callie Grimes during her trial with five police officers on a charge of having "framed" the Councilman's arrest on a morals charge.

At that time Councilman Jacobson, the only remaining witness, will be called to give his version of the affair.

ALL KEEP SILENT

The first witness to be called was Leo Daze, attorney for Mrs. Grimes, who declined to reveal any details regarding the charge he recently made during the trial on grounds that it was a confidential statement made to him by his client.

Mrs. Ida Russell, sister of Mrs. Grimes, who stated on the witness stand during the trial that Jacobson had sought to have Mrs. Grimes tell the 1928 grand jury a story that would coincide with his, also refused to testify on grounds that she might incriminate herself. Mrs. Grimes refused to discuss the matter before the grand jury on the same grounds.

EXPLOSION INQUIRY

James Cruze, motion-picture director, and Frank Madigan, explosive expert, were called before the grand jury to testify regarding an explosion in the filming of "Old Ironsides" which resulted in the death of an actor. The grand jury has been investigating the case to determine whether there was any criminal negligence.

Last night it was revealed from authentic sources that the grand jury probably will close the case without action.

Mr. Beery asserts that the route of the flood-control ditch, as surveyed through his property, will damage his land seriously. Engineer Eaton insists that a flood, similar to that of 1912, will damage it much more. "For a distance of 2000 feet on either side of Mr. Beery's property owners have donated land for the flood-control channel," Engineer Eaton said. "Mr. Beery is the only property owner who opposes the route of the ditch."

MONTE BLUE TO MARSHAL ELK PARADE

MONTE BLUE

Plans for the final presentation of the motion-picture electrical pageant during the Elks' convention received impetus last night with the announcement by Jack L. Warner that Monte Blue, film actor, has accepted the appointment of grand marshal. The motion-picture industry will present the spectacle in the Coliseum Thursday night, July 11, as the climax of the sixty-fifth national Elks' convention in Los Angeles July 7 to 13.

Under the supervision of Frank N. Murphy, electrical engineer in charge of the pageant lighting effects, work is being rushed on the reconstruction of floats. Virtually all floats seen in the Shrine pageant are being remodeled and given new colored lighting schemes.

The pageant will be made up almost entirely of illuminated floats, with but one band and one drill squad marching between each float, it was stated by Harold W. Roberts, in charge of bands and drill teams. The latter will not execute maneuvers inside the Coliseum, he declared.

Tickets admitting to the Elks' dress parade on the afternoon of Thursday, July 11, to the electrical pageant on that night and to the polo game preceding the pageant may be obtained at B. H. Dyas stores and at the Elks' Temple, opposite Westlake Park.

TURNVEREIN WILL FEATURE PROGRAM TODAY

Today's program at the National Sports Exposition will feature the Germania Turnverein, a gymnastic society numbering 2000 women, girls and boys. Beginning at 8 p.m. the Turnverein makes its debut with a grand entry and parade of 800 picked participants.

Following will be such events as rope exercises, flag drill, ladder pyramids, iron ring drill, ber-bell drill, chorus singing, dumb-bell drill, esthetic dances, Indian club drill, horizontal bar, etc.

At 9:15 p.m., a basketball championship between the Hollywood Athletic Club and a team from Elks Lodge No. 99, will be held. Women basketball teams from the Pasadena Athletic and Country Clubs will compete.

The early part of the afternoon will be devoted entirely to Boy Scout activities featuring camping and tent-pitching.

Dr. Ingersoll's Funeral Today

Funeral services for Dr. Herbert James Ingersoll, who died Thursday of a heart attack at his home, 11937 Beverly Boulevard, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the Ruppe Mortuary, 950 West Washington street. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Mausoleum.

Dr. Ingersoll, who was 62 years of age, had been a resident of Los Angeles for seventeen years, coming here from Seattle. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Alice K. Ingersoll, a sister, Mrs. Emily Beachey, and a brother, Robert Ingersoll of Sturgis, Mich.

MANXMEN TO PICNIC

Manxmen living here were notified yesterday that the Los Angeles Manx Society will have a picnic on the 29th inst. at the sunken gardens, Sycamore Grove Park. Secretary T. Donald Bain extends the society's invitation to all former residents of the Isle of Man and announces that the organization will serve tea, coffee and ice cream.

Cocoanut Grove Music Makers Prove Just as Peppy in Pool

Whole Orchestra Takes to Water

JACKIE TAYLOR'S new Cocoanut Grove Orchestra went into the Ambassador pool yesterday and kept cool.

The grove's new musicians demonstrated that just as much harmony can emanate from a swimming pool and swimming suits as from the music platform and tuxedo suits. It's the same instruments, the same talent and the same leadership in any case. And when the Cocoanut Grove's gala summer opening rolls around next Tuesday night dignity and full-dress suits will have supplanted the more comfortable and cooling regalia shown herewith.

THREE OFFICERS SUBDUE GRIEF-CRAZED HUSBAND

It required the combined strength of three policemen yesterday to subdue John Ciccinarro, 33-year-old fruit dealer, when he became violently hysterical a moment after the sudden death of his wife in their home at 617 East Seventy-third street.

The officers, Stolp, Robbins and Aiken of the Seventy-seventh street division, rushed to the house in response to a riot call telephoned by neighbors. As they entered the place, they reported, Ciccinarro was on the floor, against which he was beating his head, and screaming at the top of his lungs. When he resisted the efforts of one of the officers to quiet him the other two joined the fray, but it was several minutes before they were able to convey him to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

There, after an hour, the surgeons succeeded in calming him. Then he told them his wife arose in good health yesterday morning, but shortly after noon she was seized with an attack of paralysis and died a few minutes later. The death of his wife leaves Ciccinarro with four small children.

LONGEST DAY NICE HOT ONE

The hottest day of the year was recorded today when the government thermometer climbed to the dizzy heights of 108 deg.

The warmest day in the history of the city was recorded on June 22, 1922, when the official reading was 109 deg.

EL CENTRO MELONS JUMP AT 115 DEG.

EL CENTRO, June 21. (Exclusive) Imperial Valley residents experienced their first real summer temperatures of the present season yesterday and today. The official thermometer reading yesterday was 113 deg., and today it reached 115. No heat prostrations were reported. Cantaloupe growers predict a sharp increase in the melon output as a result of the high temperatures, the crop having been retarded during much of the season by unusually cool weather.

MERCURY DROPS IN EASTERN CITIES

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—The heat wave which has kept the East sweltering for over a week was broken today. The temperature held within the 70's in New York City during the day, and other parts of the East reported corresponding cool wealther. The temperature had remained in the 60's during the night, giving New Yorkers their first comfortable night in some days.

NEW HEAT RECORDS ATTAINED IN INTERIOR

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (AP)—Torrid gusts swept California today and new heat records were established in nearly every section. The heat wave began four days ago and although slightly cooler weather was predicted in some sections tomorrow, Weather Bureau officials expected even higher temperatures in some parts of the State within thirty-six hours.

Drowning of a prison road camp convict near San Simeon while swimming in the ocean was attributed to the heat in Northern and Central California.

WARN AGAINST FIRES

Danger from forest fires was virtually the only potential damage feared. With turf, brush and timber becoming as dry as tinder under the scorching sun, State and Federal forestry officials issued warnings to motorists and campers against carelessness with matches, cigarettes and camp fires.

Intead of harming crops, the heat will prove beneficial to peaches, pears and farm and orchard crops generally, said Weather Bureau officials.

In San Francisco the temperature reached a maximum of 95, the warmest June day since 1925 and one of the hottest on record. Elsewhere in the State temperatures above 100 were common. San Francisco's all-time heat record, 100 deg., was threatened.

VALLEY RECORDS SET

In Sacramento the day's maximum of 102 was not reached until 4 p.m. In the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys the heat is expected to intensify tomorrow.

Santa Maria's maximum of 100 deg. marked it the hottest day of recent years in that vicinity. Modesto with 104 also set a new record.

Other temperatures recorded today were: Oakland, 98; Fresno, 110; Santa Rosa, 100; Red Bluff, 99; Bakersfield, 98; Stockton, 98; Salinas, 90; Eureka, 62.

Forestry officials in issuing a warning against smoking in national forest areas, said man-caused fires in the forests have been more numerous this year than last. Since the 1st inst. the national forests have been closed to smoking and campers are not allowed to build fires unless they have permits and are equipped with a shovel and ax for each automobile.

Playful Chase Ends in Death for Pursued

By a Times Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 21.—A playful chase along Fair Oaks avenue near California street early tonight ended fatally for Ramon Balderrama, 17-year-old basketball player of 48 Allesandro Place.

Balderrama grabbed the cap of Esau Mendibles, a local boxer, and dashed down the street, a police report states. Mendibles pursued him, laughingly shouting for his cap.

The youths had sprinted only a short distance when Balderrama pitched forward in collapse. He was dead when admitted to the Pasadena Receiving Hospital. Attendants there said death was due to heart failure. His body was removed at the Turner & Stevens mortuary.

Coast Guard to Conduct Quiz on Death of Sailor

The body of Marvin C. Mays, 21 years of age, a seaman on the Coast Guard cutter U.S.S. Montgomery, was found floating in the harbor off San Pedro yesterday. Following a court of inquiry tdoya, it will be sent to Birmingham, Ala., his home, for burial.

Mays is believed to have fallen off the dock on the night of the 7th inst., a short time after he was seen by members of the crew as he was making his way to his ship. He was under the influence of liquor at the time, according to the report of the captain, and efforts to get him aboard failed.

Two Taken on Check Charges

Two men accused of passing worthless checks were arrested last night by detectives of Georgia-street division and were booked on charges of suspicion of forgery. Joseph H. Dawson, 31 years of age, 641 West Ninety-sixth street, is accused by Acting Captain Friedenberg of having posed as a representative of Don Lee motor car distributors while passing checks on hotels. Capt. Friedenberg asserted that the total amount of the checks is approximately $2500.

Detective Lieutenants Gorman and Miller also arrested Daniel G. McCormick, 32, 1750 1-4 South Bonnie Brae street on charge of suspicion of forgery. The detectives assert that McCormick passed many worthless checks for $5 and $10 on druggists and tradesmen. One complainant is L. Fink, druggist, at 1229 Venice Boulevard.

of planes all out after the same record at the same time.

Just to make Southern California's sudden burst of attempts complete, Lieut. Herbert J. Fahy, who set a new solo non-refueling record here recently, will try to ease a Lockheed up to 30,000 feet for a new record of this commercial plane's class. This attempt will be made from Metropolitan Airport next Wednesday.

And just to make the picture complete, Bert White, local chute jumper of the Irvin Airchute Company plans to accompany Fahy to an altitude of 26,000 feet—and then "bail out."

This jump will be made in an attempt to knock the present chute-jumping record of 24,200 feet off the boards.

Possibilities of a race to New York and back blew up yesterday when Capt. Hawks stated that regardless of Schoenhair's unexpected early start he will stick to his former takeoff time.

"My plane won't be ready," Hawks said, "but I plan to take off Monday regardless of what Schoenhair does or the time he makes."

Both flyers are long-time friends and aviators are waiting with intense interest to see the assaults against time on the long cross-country jumps. Both ships flown by the men are powered with 400-horsepower Pratt-Whitney Wasp motors, equipped with speed cowlings and are capable of cutting the air at approximately 180 miles an hour.

The pilots will be forced to leave the controls of their ships several times during the long hops and let them fly themselves while gas is pumped by the flyers.

Schoenhair will carry 500 gallons of gasoline while Hawks plans to fill his tanks with 615 gallons. The latter's ship has been named the Texaco and Schoenhair's the Goodrich Silvertown. A newly-developed rubber paint covers the wings and fuselages of the latter plane and one of the objects of the flight is to test this wing "dope" during long sustained flight.

Forty-eight hours after his landing wheels stop spinning from the local takeoff Schoenhair plans to be back at the Metropolitan field. He said he hopes to make the eastern jump in less than sixteen hours—possibly in thirteen. The flight this way will take at least two hours more, he predicted. He will stop only six hours in New York before starting on the return trip.

When Hawks reaches New York he plans to have a radio installed in his ship before trying the western passage.

FRATERNITY CARAVAN LEAVES FOR PORTLAND

Headed for the thirty-ninth biannual convention of the Sigma Chi Fraternity which opens in Portland on the 26th inst., a caravan of twenty-five automobiles will leave Los Angeles this morning. They are scheduled to arrive in Sacramento tomorrow where they will be joined by the San Francisco delegation. Only five cars left San Diego yesterday but by the time they arrived in Los Angeles late yesterday four more had joined in the trek. A. P. Thomson, an attorney, will head the Los Angeles delegation. Thomson is slated for election to a national office in the fraternity at the convention this year.

Jurors Acquit Doctor Trapped by State Agent

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, June 21. (Exclusive)—Dr. R. L. Buffum, Long Beach physician, this evening was acquitted by a jury in Department A, Superior Court, on charges of violating the State Poison Act. The jury deliberated less than ninety minutes before reporting to Judge Desmond. The jury accepted the defense's assertion of entrapment through working on the physician's sympathies.

Defense Counsel Cohen used only one witness, Natalie Waale, a nurse in Dr. Buffum's office. She testified that she entered the office and saw the young woman operative who was the principal witness for the prosecution almost kneeling as she tearfully begged the physician to sell her morphine.

It was brought out in the testimony that the woman operative of the State Medical Board represented to Dr. Buffum that she had to deliver morphine to a man in jail or that the prisoner would betray her to her husband. The woman operative testified that she was paid $50 a day to obtain evidence.

PEACEMAKER'S NOSE BITTEN BY REDSKIN

With his nose bitten almost off last night Joseph Berger of 721 Schumacher Drive went to the Hollywood Police Station and made a complaint of mayhem against a man he said is an Indian. Berger, a disabled World War veteran, said that he was walking along North Ardmore avenue when a woman in a house screamed for help, crying that a man was killing her. Berger said he rushed indoors to confront the man, who proved to be the woman's husband, an Indian. The latter whooped and then, said Berger, bit the would-be rescuer's nose. Berger had to choke the Indian before he could free himself, he said. After being treated at the Dickey & Cass Hospital, he complained to the police. Detective Captain Baldridge started in search of the asserted Indian.

MUSIC CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

Mrs. John A. Balsley, president of the Poetry and Music Club, announced that the organization's last meeting for the season will be held at 8 p.m. tonight on the eighth floor of the Majestic Theater Building. The program includes L. E. Behymer, speaking "Musical Memories," Ben Field in readings from his poems, piano selections by Mildred Knowles, and contralto solos by Dorothy Shaw, accompanied by the 'cello.

ROBBINS TO BE GREETED BY AVIATORS

Navy's Flyers Will Meet Refueling Record Pilot on Arrival in Southland

With Lieut. Esten B. Koger at their head, a squadron of navy seaplanes will act as a special guard of honor to Reg L. Robbins, world-record endurance flyer, who will arrive here tomorrow in his Fort Worth monoplane in which he and James Kelly, cowboy-aviator, recently set an endurance mark of 172 hours, 32 minues, 1 second.

An aviation banquet will be given in Robbins's honor at the Roosevelt Monday evening.

Robbins, in a dispatch to this city, announced his intention of relating intimate details of the long, grueling flight. His speech will be broadcast over radio KFWB.

The flyer and the accompanying ship, flown by Capt. George B. Freddell, former army pilot, will be met at the Long Beach Airport by the navy flyers. After a salute over this city Robbins will fly directly to Grand Central Airport Terminal.

Jim Kelly, who with Robbins set the refueling endurance record, will not accompany the latter to this city. Kelly is confined in a Fort Worth (Tex.) hospital, recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident.

Quiz on Beating of Man Started

Detectives of the homicide squad last night began an investigation of the asserted beating of George Revell, manager of the Hotel Clark Coffee Shop. His skull was fractured and he was reported in a grave condition at the Golden State Hospital where doctors called in the police.

It is reported that Revell was found unconscious in his room at the hotel last evening and was sent to the hospital without any notification to the police. The detectives were of the opinion that Revell had been beaten some time Thursday night. Doctors said he probably will die.

"Atten-shun!"

Have you ever seen a battalion of soldiers jump to attention at a word of command? When you lift your telephone receiver, every idle telephone in this city—and millions of other telephones, connected to a network as long and broad as the nation—stands ready to obey.

When you lift your receiver, there moves to attention for your exclusive use whatever portion you need of hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of telephone equipment.

You may wish to talk with someone in a distant city, or you may desire to talk only to your neighbor across the street. Whatever your wishes may be, all our facilities must be ready. When you lift your receiver, it is as if a command went down all the regiments of the telephone army: "Atten-shun!"

Millions of dollars' worth of telephone equipment and thousands of telephone people must be ready at all hours, month after month and year after year, in order that you may lift your receiver at any time and speak to almost anyone at any place.

Millions of dollars' worth of equipment is in readiness now for conversations that you may wish to hold tomorrow, next month, or next year, with persons whom you do not yet know!

Every hour, day and night, the telephone's sentinels are keeping watch.

Woman Police Aide Gets Her Diploma

MODERN youth may take its hat off to Miss Florence Bernou, chief record clerk in the Police Identification Bureau at Central Police Station. Yesterday, at 53 years of age, Miss Bernou received her diploma as a graduate from the Polytechnic High School.

Just what the youth in the bureau thought of her achievement was told in a bouquet of roses. Fingerprint Expert Barlow made the presentation.

Receipt of the diploma represented four years' constant attendance at the high school, five nights out of each week. For five years Miss Bernou has been employed in the Identification Bureau, working daytimes.

Miss Bernou said yesterday that she already has made arrangements to take a course in personnel management and business administration at the University of Southern California.

SUMMER SESSION POPULAR

Record Enrollment for U.C.L.A. Twelfth Annual Midseason Term Expected

With indications of a record enrollment, the twelfth annual summer session of the University of California at Los Angeles is preparing to register more than 3700 students when its six-weeks' term opens Monday, July 1. Inquiries on file at the office of Dean Putnam reveal a widespread interest at the session among eastern States, and students are expected from nearly every section of the United States.

The faculty of nearly 150 teachers is also being recruited from a large number of eastern universities this year, bringing to Los Angeles some of the foremost educators in psychology, science, languages, literature, philosophy, physical education and other branches.

Among the important teachers that will come from eastern schools to teach at the Los Angeles summer session are Dr. Floyd Allport of Syracuse University, authority on social and political psychology; Dr. Stockton Axson, professor of English at Rice Institute, Texas; Dr. William Morris Davis, geology, Harvard; Dr. Warren E. Forsythe, professor of hygiene, University of Michigan; Frederick H. Koch, professor of dramatic literature, University of North Carolina; Dr. Herman Levy, economics, University of Berlin, Germany.

The courses of the summer session are designed to meet the needs of teachers, school supervisors, graduate students, undergraduate students, high-school students, housewives, social workers, and all adults who are qualified to pursue with profit any course given.

A FESTIVAL OF LIGHT

A gorgeous Festival of Light will be held in Atlantic City, N. J., during the first week in June in connection with the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the first practical incandescent lamp and the fifty-second annual convention of the National Electric Light Association. It will also serve as an occasion to do special honor to Thomas A. Edison, the founder of the light and power industry. It will be given an entirely new setting and the visitor will not receive a complete education in the history of the industry, but a detailed picture of the tremendous progress which has been made during the past few years. This exhibition will prove an educational opportunity of no small importance, showing, as it will, a wide variety of heavy apparatus and appliances which are the very backbone of the generating and distributing systems supplying customers of electricity with light and power, in addition to the thousand and one devices for use in the home, the store and the factory. There will be the usual number of technical papers for the delegates and a great many popular features to interest the general public. The event will take place in the new auditorium which will be used for the first time and dedicated during the progress of the convention.

COLISEUM'S PLAN AIRED FOR COUNCIL

City Attorney Stephens Details Negotiations for New Members

For the benefit of the six men who will become new members of the Council on July 1, City Attorney Stephens yesterday spent more than an hour in outlining the history of the construction of the Coliseum, the contract between the city and county, and the Community Development Association, and the proposed agreement whereby the structure will be enlarged and given permanent construction.

Mr. Stephens also explained that the objections of Mayor Cryer to the new contract, which will extend over the period during the amortization of the additional costs, have been met in a document now in process of being drawn up by himself and the Council Finance Committee.

BABY KNOWS BEST

It is pleasant to find doctors admonishing the laity to think less about health and sickness. We are all likely to rush to a physician, imagining something dreadful is the matter with us, if a small pain overtakes us. Doctors naturally likes to keep their practice active, but are now speaking openly about the folly of concentration on one's physical condition. In American Medicine for April is a statement by the editors that we Americans are morbid over vitamins, minerals, laxatives, roughage, periodical medical examinations, dietetic systems, therapeutic dogmas and health "isms."

This comment occurs in an article on Dr Cowgill's experiments with appetite and bodily capacity for making good use of the food taken. It has been found that dogs voluntarily regulate their food intake to maintain "a fixed body weight, a constant state of nutrition and a constant energy intake." Cows and other animals on deficient diet quickly start a search for the missing food element. A cow has been known to come to a tragic end because of bits of cement and wire ingested in the search for something more nourishing than timothy hay.—[New York Times.

BOOKS IN SETS

Certain sets one must have; no gentleman's library is complete without them: sets of Dickens and Scott, of Parkman, or Motley, and hundreds of others. . . . There are, however, other books which give perpetual delight; these vary with the wealth of learning of the collector. In my own case a fine copy of Benjamin Franklin's "Cato Major" in the original binding, the first classic translated and published in America (in Philadelphia in 1744,) would do it; . . . The only "set" of first editions I ever bought, complete in binding, is my set of Trollope. I bought it years ago before the renaissance of this great Victorian had set in. I am glad to have it, many of the books are practically unobtainable in their original condition, but it gives me no feeling of pride. When, not long ago, Michael Sadleir, an ardent English Trollopean, wrote to ask me a question as to the original binding of one of Trollope's early books, I was obliged to confess that as my set was in binding I could not answer his question. . . —[A. Edward Newton.

Penny's Last Stronghold

Five-year-old Mary was teaching 3-year-old Audrey the value of different coins: "That's a dime; it will buy lots of candy. That's a nickel; it will buy an ice cream cone. That's a penny; it's only good for Sunday-school."

HAWAII TO TEACH HULA RITUAL

Delegates Arrive en Route to N.E.A.

Island Educators

THE colorful customs of ancient Hawaii are to be preserved by their inclusion in the curricula of the Territory's public school system, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Emma K. Sharpe, head of the Hawaiian delegation to the National Education Association, at Atlanta from the 27th to 30th inst., who arrived here yesterday aboard the Lassco liner City of Honolulu.

Mrs. Sharpe, a student of the ancient ceremonial hula, is a teacher in the picturesque elementary Kamehameha III School at Lahaina, a seaside village on the Island of Maui, where her ancestors have lived under the shadow of Haleakala for centuries.

"Hawaii's school system is modeled closely after that of California, and where you recently have added the study of California history, we are paralleling your system with our teaching of Hawaii's early customs," she explained.

Other members of the party of eighteen delegates included Samuel K. Toomey, noted Hawaiian tenor, who is principal of the Likelike School, in Honolulu; Miss Maud Farden, Mrs. Sharpe's sister and instructor in economics at Kamehameha III School, and E. K. Lindsey, principal of the elementary schools at Kohala.

UNIVERSAL SETS HUGE PROGRAM

Laemmle Concern Will Make 332 Films This Year

Three Superproductions Find Place on Agenda

Sound and Silent Pictures Projected by Director

Three hundred and thirty-two pictures will be produced during the 1929-30 season by Universal Pictures Corporation, at a cost of $12,000,000, according to announcement made yesterday by Carl Laemmle, president. The program will be in charge of Carl Laemmle, Jr.

The pictures of the new program range in length from twelve-reel superproductions to single-reel comedies. Three superproductions, two of them, "Broadway" and "Show Boat," already released, and a third, "The King of Jazz," to star Paul Whiteman, are included in this program.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Headed by "The Storm," Universal will produce six specials, including "The Men in Her Life," by Warner Fabian; "The Cohens and Kellys in Scotland," with George Sidney and Charlie Murray; "The Last Performance," by James Creelman, costarring Conrad Veidt and Mary Philbin; "The Shannons on Broadway," with James Gleason and Lucille Webster Gleason, and "Tonight at Twelve," Owen Davis's stage play, directed by Harry Pollard. Fabian's story, "The Men in Her Life," will be published as a novel.

Seven stars will appear in a series of all-talking pictures. Laura La Plante will be starred in three of these, "Hold Your Man," "Soft Shoulders" and "Kiss Proof."

John Boles will be starred in two all-musical pictures, "The Song of Passion" and "Moonlight Madness."

Joseph Schildkraut will appear as star in three, "The Man About Town," "The Bachelor Husband" and "The Mississippi Gambler."

Reginald Denny will appear in two, entitled "Embarrassing Moments" and "No, No, Napoleon!"

The blond Mary Nolan will be starred in four talkies, "Mademoiselle Cayenne," "The Come-on Girl," "Ladies in Love" and "Lipstick."

Glenn Tryon and Merna Kennedy, featured in "Broadway," will appear as a team in three pictures, "Barnum Was Right," "Anything Goes" and "The Times Square Kid."

George Lewis and Barbara Kent also will appear as a team in "Flaming Daughters" and "Keep on Dancing."

There will be five all-star, all-talking productions, comprising "The Drake Case," a murder trial sensation; "The Climax," Edward Locke's famous stage play; "Girl Overboard," "Brawn of the Sea" and "She Belongs to Me," by Paul Sydney.

Hoot Gibson will make eight productions, probably all in sound, entitled "Rodeo Days," "Hand 'Em Over," "The Acre Rider," "The Montana Kid," "Howdy, Cowboy," "The Mounted Stranger," "The Long, Long Trail" and "Galloping Winds."

Ken Maynard also will produce eight talking westerns for Universal release: "The Wagon Master," "Lucky Larkin," "Songs of the Saddle," "Hidden Valley," "Tall Timber," "The Lost Canyon," "The Trail of the Pack" and "Crimson Courage."

RED GRANGE, TOO

In addition to these announced features, "Red" grange, the "Galloping Ghost of the Gridiron," has been signed to do a college picture entitled "College Heroes," which is now being written. "College Love," a special all-talking and sound feature, will be released for the coming season.

Replacing the popular "Collegians" will be a series of twelve all-dialogue two-reelers, called "Sporting Youth." The Rooneys will appear in a series of six talking two-reelers. There also will be a series of six Benny Rubin one-reel talkies. There will be five chapter plays, all in both sound and silent versions: "Ace of Scotland Yard," "Tarzan the Tiger," "The Jade Bix," "The Lightning Express" and "Terry of the Times."

The Universal news reel, marking the re-entry of Universal into this field of production after ten years, will start in July, with two issues weekly.

In addition there will be forty two-reel comedies, twenty in sound and twenty silent, featuring Sid Saylor, Arthur Lake and "Sunny Jim;" twenty-six two-reel westerns, thirteen "Pioneer Kid" pictures, with Bobby Nelson; twenty-six Oswald animated cartoons and twenty-five single-reel comedies.

Universal Pictures Corporation started from the old "Imp" company, organized in 1909, the full name of which was the Independent Motion Picture Company. Imp's first release and Carl Laemmle's first offering as a producer was "Hiawatha," an 890-foot picture made in Fourteenth street, New York, and at Minnehaha Falls, near Minneapolis.

CHURCH WILL EMPLOY CITY'S PICNIC BUREAU

Taking advantage of a new picnic service recently established by the Playground and Recreation Department, three churches will hold outings today with the assistance of the new picnic bureau of the department, according to D. W. Lott, who has charge of the new service. The Temple Baptist Church will hold its picnic at Brookside Park; the Chesterfield Square Church will picnic at Griffith Park, and the St. Paul Church will hold its all-day outing at South Park. More than 3000 persons are expected to attend the Temple Baptist picnic with similar attendances at the other two outings. Picnics will be held tomorrow by the Pico Heights Christian Church at Exposition Park and the Congregational Church at South Park with large attendances scheduled for both events.

When you have your rugs cleaned you want to be assured of having them done carefully and in the most satisfactory fashion. May we not then urge you to send them to John Bloeser, City Steam Carpet Cleaning Works, who has been in business over thirty years, thus proving his reliability. You may buy your carpets from him, too, at a considerable saving. His phone number is TRinity 4739.

Leave the heat and dull care behind you and start right away, this very day, for San Clemente, "the Spanish village by the sea," where Travaglini's Cafe San Clemente is! It is here you are going to enjoy food of the finest—the kind epicures are wont to rave about, and mere civilians find themselves at a loss for adjectives which will do justice to the repast. You are going to love the drive down...you know San Clemente is just half way between Los Angeles and San Diego, a beautiful two hours' drive with a gladsome welcome awaiting you at Travaglini's when you arrive. It's just a question of how soon can you start, isn't it.

Face wash—will protect skin from sunburn and aid in keeping it smooth and white if used frequently: Take equal quantities of Bergamot and powdered snowflake magnesia and put them into two cupfuls of rainwater; add a little oil of lemon and bay rum. Shake these together thoroughly and bottle; shake well before using and apply with soft linen cloth.

Don't attempt to make your draperies yourself, there is so much difficulty in getting them cut correctly and then hanging them properly is another problem. What you should do is have them made by the West Coast Slip Cover Co., 1245 W. 8th. (DRexel 6728.) They make also the most satisfactory slip covers imaginable.

Your most precious old treasured silver which is worn beyond recognition and badly in need of repairing may be taken to the Peerless Platers, 239½ S. Spring, where it will be repaired so reasonably and in such a way that it cannot be told from new. Don't delay going in with it, will you. VAndike 5417 is their phone number.

Do you realize that if you will give all your discarded clothing and odds and ends to the Children's Hospital salvage department it will be a real charity and save some little tot's life, perhaps? The address to send all such articles to is 713 Maple ave. Phone number TUcker 1203.

To remove road oil. Kerosene is best to take out road oil on most fabrics, as it evaporates and does not injure the goods.

The best looking Fluff Rugs can be made out of your old rugs at an extremely modest cost by the Hoffman Rug Works, 2914 W. Jefferson. (EMpire 2048.) They make as well Colonial rugs from your old rags. Phone them today, why don't you.

To remove perspiration stains from clothing soak the garments in strong salt water before laundering. Perspiration stain may also be removed with diluted oxalic acid; also by soaking them in cold water to which a little carbonate of soda has been added.

If you are interested in living in a penthouse—as everyone seems to be at the moment—and want it furnished in the most "ultra ultra" fashion why don't you buy unpainted furniture "moderne" and paint it yourself. It will be no end of fun to do and the color effects you can achieve are ever so alluring. Tell you where to go for the paint: To Mathews Paint Company. They carry Pratt & Lambert's "6X" lacquer, which goes on like magic and dries in the twinkling of an eye! Mathews Paint Company have three stores for your convenience. One is at 1245 S. Hill, another at 1559 Vine (Hollywood,) and the third at 740 E. Green, Pasadena.

Glue or fly-paper stickiness can be removed with the white of an egg. Rub it over the soiled article and the glue will roll up and wash off. These stains also quickly disappear if sponged or soaked in kerosene, turpentine or benzine.

It is difficult to describe the utter deliciousness of Hughes Ice Cream so utterly good is it. What you must do is taste it—then if you don't find yourself repeating your order daily for a quart or so I very much miss my guess. You know how it is made, of course . . . namely of thick cream, fresh fruit juices and the very best chocolate and vanilla obtainable—now if that isn't enough to intrigue into buying Hughes nothing will! Won't you look up right away your nearest Hughes dealer?

To remove ink from a carpet soak up as much of it as possible with blotting paper. Then saturate the spot with plenty of milk and after some time, having removed the milk with blotting paper, rub carpet with a clean cloth. Ink stains of long duration in a carpet must be treated with oxalic acid.

After a long period of time, the Bims break into print again and how do you suppose it happened? Not wishing to keep you in suspense any longer than possible we'll tell you the story:

It seems Mrs. Bim was giving a garden party and like all clever hostesses, she wanted the repast served to be just a little out of the ordinary. If you know what I mean. Her originality was going to evince itself in the punch that was served but how to do it was the burning question. Then her attention was called to Guasti concentrated grape juice (which makes the finest punch you ever hope to taste) and at once this same Mrs. Bim had an idea! She would make her party the talk of the town with her "Old Virginia" punch. Needless to say Mrs. Bim is the most popular hostess in her set now and Guasti concentrated grape juice will never want for boosters.

Have you tried it yet for cooling summer beverages and desserts as well? You may buy it from your grocer but in case he can't supply you phone the order department of the Italian Vineyard Company (who give us Guasti concentrated grape juice) and they will attend to your request at once. The number to call is MUtual 2124—the address 1248 Palmetto street, Los Angeles, have sent with your order one of their free booklets the name of which is "Grape Drinks and Desserts."

For the informal "feed" after the evening party try sandwiches made of sweet pickles chopped fine and mixed with plain cream cheese; spread between thin slices of whole wheat bread and serve with iced ginger ale.

This is exactly the kind of weather you want for the long deferred beach parties and picnics you planned long ago. Now have as many as you wish with no trouble at all because the Sur-Val Box Lunch Company of 808 Mateo street pack the very finest box lunches and sandwiches you could ask for at an extremely small cost! Why, to prove how popular their sandwiches are think of this: They make as many as 25,000 a day, while their box lunches are equally in demand. Phone them now for today's picnic repast. FAber 1176 is their number.

To remove indelible ink from linen soak the spots in salt water, then wash them in water to which ammonia has been added.

Don't tell me you haven't tried that mighty good country style sausage made by the Western Sausage Company, I have been telling you about. Think of it! It is made from government inspected eastern shoulder pork and when it is ground all that is added to it is the finest seasoning. But why don't you go down to the nearest most convenient shop and see it made? Here are the three addresses: 300½ S. Broadway; 302 S. Hill; 6400 Hollywood Boulevard.

AIRPORT'S LIGHTS TO SHINE

Mines Field to be Ready for Inspection July 1 With Formal Ceremony Later

Mines Field, the Los Angeles Municipal Airport, will be open for public inspection July 1, next, it was announced yesterday by Woodruff De Silva, Assistant Director of Airports. Offices of the Department of Airports will be located at the field, but the executive offices will be maintained at the City Hall.

In connection with the move, Mr. De Silva made the following statement:

"The municipal hangars will be completed and ready for occupancy. The entire lighting facilities, including night flying equipment, flasher beacon, and boundary lights, will be completed by the first week of July, making the municipal airport one of the best lighted in the United States.

WELL LIGHTED

"Every obstruction around the field will be lighted by the necessary obstruction light from sunset to sunrise. Attendants will be on duty twenty-four hours each day.

"The flasher beacon is the only one of its type on the Coast, having a visibility of sixty-one miles.

"The Park Department is planning extensive landscaping and every effort is being made to have a dustless airport and provide every comfort possible for the public, including restaurant, free parking, etc.

"There will be an ambulance at the field at all times, as well as fire truck and personnel trained in rendering first-aid and responding to fire calls.

MUCH ACTIVITY

"There is considerable activity at the municipal airport. The Curtiss Flying Service have a hangar 150 by 150 feet well under way. L. C. Thornton will start construction on a hangar 100 by 100 feet by July 10, and also will open complete machine shop facilities in one of the municipal shops. The city has several other leases being prepared between private companies and operators, who will erect hangars and other structures.

"It is planned to have an official opening of the port around July 20, however the exact date will be announced later."

WRITER RETURNS HOME

Dorothy Farnum, who has been enjoying a two months' leave of absence from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, returned home yesterday. She was accompanied by her husband, Maurice Barber, motion-picture producer. They have been traveling in France and Spain during their holiday.

Suicide Blamed on Lost Health

A week ago William H. Bucher, 73 years of age, who resided at the Ascot Hotel, 803 South Figueroa street, told his landlady, Mrs. S. W. Briggs, that he was going to shoot himself, Mrs. Briggs told police.

Late last night Bucher was found on the rear steps of the hotel with a bullet hole in his head. He had shot himself with an old revolver, police declared, and died a short time after he was admitted to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Harold T. Bucher, a son, of 2742 South Van Ness avenue, told investigating officers that his father had been in ill health several months.

Few Antarctic Plants

The Antarctic regions support only two species of flowering plants, as against 400 in the Arctic regions. This is probably due to the shortness of the Antarctic summer and the low temperatures, for no month appears to have a mean temperature above the freezing point. As a rule, it is not until in December that the sun lays bare what little soil occurs in a few places, and the vegetation—with the exception of lichens on cliff faces—is exposed to sunlight for only a month or six weeks. The ground thaws to a depth of several inches on a few clear days, but even then is saturated with ice-cold water.

Railroads Lose on "Diners"

There is active competition among railroads to see which can lose the most money on its dining car service. The New York Central makes known the gross earnings of its 156 dining cars in 1927 were $5,760,000. But it spent more than $7,000,000. The net loss was about $1,272,000. Yet this is good business for good dining-car service brings the passenger hither. "One hand washes the other."

Retail Prices on Gas Stable

Retail gasoline prices of the major brands of fuel remained stabilized at 19½ cents yesterday despite the rise in the wholesale price of 1 cent on last Wednesday.

Officials of the major companies and an independent retailers' organization stood pat on their previous predictions that there will be no retail price flurry.

SEVEN COUSINS JOIN IN ATTACK ON WILL

The seven cousins of the late Mrs. Annie E. Burns, disinherited of her $11,217 estate in a will recently filed for probate, brought a contest yesterday, asserting their cousin, who died December 15, 1927, was of unsound mind. Mrs. Burns left her estate to C. O. Burns, Mrs. Rose Whelan, Miss Teddie Du Crow, the Los Angeles Orthopedic Foundation and the Los Angeles Orphans' Home.

MAJ. SHEPARD BRINGS BODY OF WIFE HERE

Maj. C. A. Shepard, United States Army, arrived here yesterday from Fort Riley, Kan., with the body of his wife, Mrs. Zenana Shepard, who died a week ago at the army post. Funeral rites will be conducted at 11 a.m. today at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Besides her husband, Mrs. Shepard leaves a brother, Curtis E. McCaskey of Los Angeles.

JAMES CAST AS TAILOR

Wharton James, who is one of the supporting players in "The Old Shoe," starring Percy Haswell, coming to the Egan Theater Tuesday night, has a tailor-made role as Maj. Pembroke. James has a [illegible] for military men on the stage. During the revival a few years ago of "Old Kentucky" given at Kansas City, he played the colonel.

Give Us Muskogee

A survey last month by the American Automobile Association showed seventy-seven different gas prices charged for gasoline in the United States. The lowest was 12 cents a gallon at Muskogee, Okla. The highest, 24½ cents at Wallace, Idaho. Maybe there's only one oil station in that Idaho town.

Today's Bible Text

There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love. 1 John v:3.

THEY LOOK BAD

Anybody studying husbands through the medium of the divorce court would wonder how any woman could fall for those buzzards.

THEY'RE ALL RIGHT

Also it appears that Mrs. Coolidge is writing something for the magazines. With this sort of teamwork it isn't worth while worrying about what is to become of the country's ex-Presidents.

IN THE RING

An American matador killed two bulls in one day in the arena at Seville in Spain recently. This is not exactly our sport, but when Americans take to throwing the bull they go it wholesale.

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS

Constable in a Maryland town claims to have ridden 170,000 miles on his bicycle in the last twenty-five years. At that there is nothing to show that he got anywhere. He is still in the old town.

THE PARTING

According to overseas gossip Pola Negri's princely husband wanted to go to Monte Carlo and she wouldn't let him. He went anyhow. No wonder there is a divorce. If that isn't ground where do you find it?

GOING SOME

The sky pilots seem to be speeding up. The other day one of these birds flew from Los Angeles to Kansas City in twelve hours flat. This beats pushing a wheelbarrow all to nothing. Likewise another flyer negotiated the clouds between here and Fort Worth, Tex., in eight hours and twenty minutes. This is a little better than 150 miles an hour. Fine stuff for folks who are in a hurry.

THE COLDEST EVER

Scientists tell us that the real zero in temperatures is 460 deg. below the line we call zero on our ordinary thermometer. It represents the point at which heat would absolutely cease to exist. It has never been quite attained and would be no use to us if it had. We are fairly well satisfied with the climatic range of California at the present time. Any time we want to cool off we can telephone for the ice man.

DOUBLE HEADERS

Premier Ramsay MacDonald has his son with him as a member of Parliament. Lloyd George and his daughter both have seats in the same body. Stanley Baldwin and his son are another family pair. Lord Astor has had his wife in Parliament a long time. The English make their politics a family tea party. Nothing like having two or three legislators available at the breakfast table.

THROUGH THE SKIN

One does not have to take nourishment by way of the palate. The human body can be fed through the pores of the skin—at least to the extent of keeping the breath alive. A Vienna physician tells how he was able to administer twenty-six ounces of fats and eight ounces of sugars to a patient by the simple method of rubbing it into his back. The first thing we know men will be wanting their porous plasters lined with hamburger and will live forever. This Austrian doctor asserts the ability to keep a patient alive when the usual processes of feeding are impossible. It sounds good.

CROSSING THE CHANNEL

If the new government in England constructs a tunnel and railroad under the English Channel from Dover to Calais it will have accomplished the most impressive physical feat in the history of the empire. Some connection of this kind has been dreamed of ever since Julius Caesar crossed the channel, but nothing much has ever happened. Plans have been in preparation for some time and there is really no great obstacle in the path. It is mainly in finding the money and the men for the job. This should not be very difficult, as the project can be made a measure of profit if it be so willed.

YOUNG AS LEGISLATOR

The record of Gov. Young as a legislator, disclosed by the list of bills which he signed and which he vetoed, will in many particulars prove disappointing to Southern California. Vetoes and pocket vetoes killed a number of measures concerning which there was no controversy and which were desired by the communities sponsoring them. Granted that the system is wrong which requires the Legislature and the Governor to pass on many matters of only local importance, still in many cases the local importance is great and such bills should receive favorable attention. There was a long list of county government bills so killed.

Among those interesting Los Angeles was a measure granting right of way for a highway through grounds of the Norwalk State Hospital. The veto blocks an important traffic artery. Another was a bill amending the Olympic Games Commission act to make clearer the duties and powers of the commission. Another was to make more certain the collection of personal property taxes on automobiles. Such measures lacked approval, so far as can be judged, merely because the Governor did not get around to them.

More important from a State standpoint was his veto of the Weller bill, appropriating $400,000 for watershed fire protection. This would have been matched by an equal amount of local funds. Another bill vetoed would have greatly aided the apprehension of criminals by providing for the beginnings of a State-wide teletype system, connecting the police departments of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland with the State Bureau of Criminal Identification at Sacramento, and permitting a rapid interchange of information. Still another, growing out of the Collins case in Los Angeles, was the bill forbidding holding, without a warrant, of persons suspected of being insane. Still another was the bill for an intermediate prison located in Southern California, to relieve pressure on San Quentin. Still another provided for the continuation of the survey of California's water conservation situation. Still another would have set the county contribution to salaries of Superior Court judges at $4000—a relief to the smaller counties.

The Santa Monica yacht harbor bill also was vetoed. While some of the Governor's objections to the measure appear plausible, a recreation harbor is one of Southern California's greatest needs and it is a pity it could not be provided. A bitter fight was waged against this bill by selfish personal interests, but it was meritorious in intention and should have become law in some form.

The valley counties won their fight against the mountain counties in the veto of the bill permitting resumption of hydraulic mining, under safeguards.

Several bills of a more or less freakish variety met their end in the Governor's wastebasket. Among these was the turkey-branding bill, providing penalties for changing marks on these birds; the bill requiring automobiles to be provided with receptacles for cigarette butts; the bill requiring protection for dogs riding on automobiles, and the bill permitting fines to paid in installments at the discretion of the judge.

The Lyons bill, penalizing the misbranding of kosher meats, also was vetoed. This measure was asked for by the people of the Jewish faith and there seems no ground for objection to it.

The Governor vetoed during the legislative session the bill to transfer San Francisco Harbor to local jurisdiction. There is no more reason why San Francisco Harbor should be under the fostering care of the State than any other harbor; but acceptance of the bill would have deprived the State machine of political patronage.

All the bills for increasing the number of Superior Court judgeships were turned down. This affects Los Angeles, San Diego, Santa Barbara and Alameda counties.

Among the 891 bills which the Governor signed, there were many no more meritorious and many less meritorious than most of those vetoed. Altogether, this is three or four times as much legislation as California needs. The number could be reduced with benefit all around by giving all the counties a larger measure of home rule. Why should the Legislature, for instance, fix the salary of the Sealer of Weights and Measures in Santa Clara county? Or the salaries of the judges' stenographers in Riverside county?

MUCH FOR LITTLE

Here comes the skirted apostle of a new religious cult with an offer of forty to one to the followers who hand their money into her keeping. The details are not wholly clear, but it is asserted that the lady made a definite promise of $100 profit to all those of the flock who tossed $2.50 in her lap. This percentage of gain has Wall street looking like Poverty Row. The time required to work this magic is not declared, but the impression left was that it would be a matter of but a few weeks. But it is evident that unless the leader has a plant for counterfeiting the new currency it would keep her humping to make good. But the lady was said to have been doing quite a business until the police interfered. Any get-rich-quick scheme is attractive, whether it is brought forward as a religion or a sport.

FROM DISTANT TIBET

Kermit Roosevelt has added the pelt of a massive panda to his collection of animal trophies from the Tibetan wilds. To those who have never met this beastie it may be mentioned that a panda is a raccoon that thinks he is a bear. He is carnivorous in his mode of living and would not be selected as a nursery playmate, although it is quite possible that if taken young and reared in an atmosphere of kindness he might become a boon companion. But the panda is very rare and it is many moons since a white American has met one face to face. He is reddish brown in color, with black feet and a white face. The tail is rather long and bushy. It is said that the Roosevelt specimen weighed 300 pounds, which is rather ponderous for the family. The boys in the museum will shake hands with panda with enthusiasm.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

HAVE you noticed the increasing number of "dollar days" and "97-cent days" and sales of articles at 95 cents or 89 cents or similar prices in some of the big stores?

FOR 50¢ I HAVE ONE BETTER!
DOLLAR STORE

It's because of the "dollar" stores. Every big department store is trying to create the impression that what a dollar store sells for a dollar can be bought from it for a little less.

Every store which comes in competition with the dollar stores and the numerous other chain stores which have copied the Woolworth red front so accurately as to have made the red front as significant of the kind of store behind it as the cigar-store Indian used to be, is out for blood. Indeed, it may be a war for existence with a good many of them. People have got the idea that the red front means a "cut-price store," even though in some cases it means cut quality also.

Supply Not Inexhaustible

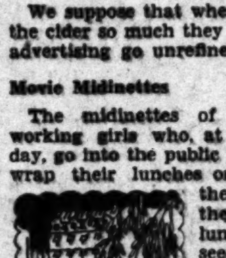
Beaumont Cider Doubley Refined.
Not a Bellyache in a Barrelful.

We suppose that when they refined the cider so much they had to let the advertising go unrefined.

Movie Midinettes

The midinettes of Paris are the working girls who, at midi, or midday, go into the public parks and unwrap their lunches on the benches there, and spend the rest of their luncheon period seeing their beloved city. But Los Angeles has a kind of midinette all its own—the shop girl who tosses off her toasted sandwich and chocolate ice-cream soda in five minutes and then dashes to a motion-picture theater for the remainder of her lunch hour. And sometimes, when pay day is far off, they cut out the lunch rather than the picture.



This practice is so well established that in most of the downtown theaters the "feature" is timed to reach the screen shortly after noon whenever that is possible. So there are thousands of girls who rarely get to see an evening show yet have seen every important feature shown downtown in years, and no important star can go shopping in the stores in which they work without being recognized. The most famous figures of the spoken drama are to them unimportant, but time cannot fade nor custom stale the infinite allure of the famous folks of filmdom.

Our Royalty Incog

Incidentally, you might imagine that film stars like to be recognized and pointed out when they go shopping, but most of them go to great pains to avoid being conspicuous. Aided by hats and veils, they can pass unnoticed through great department stores, most of the time, in downtown Los Angeles. But Hollywood knows its own. Many a star thinks she is passing unidentified until she is deferentially addressed by name by some sales girl. And one of them tells us she feels more complimented by that recognition, in spite of her hat and veil, than when she is loudly announced at a premiere.

How the Other Half Eats

A long, rangy man from Texas wandered into a health-fad restaurant on Hill street yesterday and began looking over the bill of fare with growing sadness.

WHAR IS MY HORSE?

"I'm hungry," he said. "Bring me a big, juicy steak and—"

"But we serve no meats of any kind here, sir."

"Gosh! Then bring me some hot cakes and syrup and—"

"But we serve nothing cooked here, sir, except what is sunbaked. And nothing containing sugar."

"Ouch! Well, bring me a good meal for a hungry man, then. And how about coffee?"

"We wouldn't allow it on the premises, sir. Would you care for fruit juice?"

"I'll try to. Bring me something to eat, anyway."

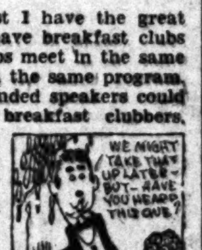
"Golly!" sighed the Texas man. "I sure wish my horse was here. He sure would enjoy this."

Possible Solution

Leeside: At last I have the great idea. Why not have breakfast clubs and luncheon clubs meet in the same dining-room, with the same program. Then the long-winded speakers could start in on the breakfast clubbers, who could pass out at their fixed hour of adjournment, and then the luncheon clubbers could come in, and no speaker would have to be cut short, and nobody would have to stay longer than he wanted to. The continuous movies have the right idea. Eh, what?—J. Fuller Prunn.



WE MIGHT TAKE THAT UP LATER—BUT—HAVE YOU HEARD THIS ONE?

THE PRIZE BEAUTY

In the international beauty contest at Galveston a Miss Lisle Geldarbeiter of Austria was the winner of supreme recognition while a Rumanian girl ranked next with the judges. For the first time America did not place in the tournament. The name of the winner strongly suggests a gold-digger, but it seems that the girl is particularly reserved and modest. She doesn't even come in silk. She wears Lisle.

LOOKING BACKWARD

By James J. Montague

Our grandfathers managed to worry along
With what we deem little indeed,
They did not require and had no desire
For the things that we think that we need.
On Sundays they took out the kids for a ride
Behind the good trusty old mare,
And when harvest was done they got plenty of fun

Which they saw maybe three times a year,
They rarely stepped out and regarded with doubt
The gallants who boldly drank beer.
If they'd seen a young girl tuck a highball away
They'd have summoned the minister in
To tell the young minx that all forms of strong drinks
Were decoctions compounded of sin.

We have many things that our grandparents lacked,
Like movies and speakies and cars,
The radio croons to us beautiful tunes
While we sip at our dining-room bars.
We can go in a day where they did in a week,
Spend a dollar where they spent a dime,
Yet between me and you, it is probably true
That we don't have a much better time.

But we cannot go back to the days of the past
Sentimentally seeking to find
An age that was bent upon peace and content
The age of the calm tranquil mind.
And if we could trade—which we know we cannot—
All the gifts of our time, just to see
How the folks carried on in those days so long gone
We'd find 'em no better than we.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

WANTED: AMERICANS!

[Detroit Free Press]

The cryingest need in the United States today is for more Americans. This fact has never been made more evident than by the spectacle of groups in both houses of the Congress attempting to trample the Constitution under foot in a mad struggle for special privileges for their own States, whatever the consequences may be to the rest of the Union.

The country has people enough. What it is short on is men and women big enough to realize that the good of the whole is of more importance than that of any of its parts.

Americans whose patriotism is sporadic, with respect to time as well as to place, are Americans only in name. They are not Americans in fact or feeling. They lack the essential quality of Americanism, which is the ability to see that the great socio-political experiment going on in this country cannot succeed unless the citizenry is as patriotic in peace as it is in war.

UP TO CALIFORNIANS

[San Francisco Chronicle]

The unthinking person who persuades a friend to send him some Florida grapefruit from a State where it is on the markets is putting California's entire fruit industry to deadly peril. The menace from the fruit fly, now in Florida, demands the co-operation of every Californian to prevent its entry here. The fruit fly will not get in if all Californians stand together to guard the prosperity of their State.

DRY ENFORCEMENT REFORM

[Chicago Tribune]

Certainly the American conscience and the American intelligence will not tolerate much longer the crimes of lawless law enforcement. Dry bigotry and hypocrisy approve and defend, as it inspires and initiates, them. But dry bigotry and hypocrisy, though they are well organized and vociferous, do not represent the American conscience and intelligence, or our traditions, principles, or spirit. Prohibition is a departure from our tradition and our principles. It defies the American spirit, but it cannot establish in our system of law and public justice, under any pretense, the right exercised by government agents to kill a citizen because they suspect him of an offense whose legal penalty is not death, the right to enter our homes without warrant with brutal threats and violence, the right to tramp with bloody boots over the guaranties our forefathers established for the protection of the citizen.

THE FIFTEEN CRUISERS

[Philadelphia Public Ledger]

Some are saying that Mr. Hoover will be embarrassed in his negotiations if, at the same time, the United States is laying down more cruisers. Why should we be embarrassed any more than the British? For ten years they have discussed naval disarmament to the tune of hammer on steel, to say nothing of the launching of eleven big cruisers while the United States has launched only two, and those not yet in commission.

THRIFTY, LYING AMERICANS

About one-half of the homes in the United States are owned by men with incomes less than $2000. So, after all, this thing of saying Americans are not thrifty is based on imagination instead of facts. We guess that about 99 per cent of what we Americans say is untrue. We have developed into a race of liars, we regret to say.

Against Sicily Lemons

NEW PORT RICHEY (Fla.) June 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I feel sure that all Floridians who have read your editorial, "Might Be California," feel grateful for the kindly feelings expressed therein. At one time it seems as though an indemnity bill might have an easy passage through Congress. At this time there is a doubt and our State leaders are now at Washington in an endeavor to help it through. If the California delegation at Washington holds the same views as does your editor no doubt Florida may expect their help.

This is not alone Florida's fight nor the fight of individuals. If a foreign army had landed in Florida the State nor the residents would have been called upon to alone resist the invasion, all the States and all the citizens of the country, through the government, would have been called upon to help. Florida would be the battleground, just as it is in this fly invasion and will suffer the most, but every fruit and vegetable-growing section of the country is in danger unless the pest is stamped out in Florida. If the fly will live and propagate in Paris, France, as it does, it may live and propagate even in our northern apple States.

May I call your attention to a phase of the situation that deserves the consideration of the lemon interests of California? Sicily has been a host for the fruit fly since 1863 and yet Sicily lemons are imported into this country without restriction or inspection and it is not impossible to conceive that the fly was brought to Florida in a box of Sicily lemons, which are the only lemons to be found in Florida, as we raise none ourselves and California lemons are not admitted.

The highest scientific authority (see bulletin No. 640, United States Department of Agriculture) admits that the Mediterranean fruit fly lays its eggs in lemons, though the claim is made that the larvae never reaches the pulp unless the fruit has either been injured or is decayed and that such fruit is never offered for shipment to this country. I am assuming that the peel of a green lemon is too thick for the larvae to penetrate, but I offer the thought that during the curing and coloring process the skin shrinks very materially and that, during the process of packing, these cured lemons might be open to attack by the fly, which might lay eggs in a lemon just before it was placed into the box for shipment to this country. Prof. J. R. Watson, Florida State entomologist, states that while ordinarily it takes from ten to eleven days for the egg to develop into larvae, that under refrigeration this might be delayed for sixty days. This cured lemon that may have been impregnated just prior to packing would be immediately placed under refrigeration in the hold of the ship, would reach New York in a few days and be again placed under refrigeration by the receiver. In another few days it might be shipped with other lemons to fill orders from some part of the country, perhaps Florida, again under refrigeration.

In answer to a question Prof. Watson says: "Undoubtedly lemons are a possible source of introduction of the fly. It is stated that the fly was introduced into Bermuda through a ship, loaded with lemons from Sicily, which was obliged to put in, there on account of a storm, the fruit being in a bad state of decay." Prof. Watson, however, argues that such method of introduction would be uncommon, otherwise the fly would have been introduced years ago.

Prof. H. J. Quayle, University of California and connected with the Graduate School of Tropical Agriculture and Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside, Cal., was, in 1913, sent by the United States Department of Agriculture to study the fly. In his bulletin, No. 134, "Citrus Fruit Insects in Mediterranean Countries," he recites his experiments in artificially impregnating lemon with Mediterranean fly larvae, thus proving that the larvae will live and mature inside a lemon.

In a letter to the writer under date of May 27, 1929, Prof. Quayle states that all the lemons he found in Sicily infested with the larvae of the fly were badly broken down with decay and would not have been shipped even to a by-products factory. "However," he says, "there might be a possibility of the pupae of the fly being carried on a box and there might be a remote possibility of the fly coming in through lemons."

It seems to the writer that if there is even a remote possibility of introduction through lemons that the Department of Agriculture has been remiss in its duty in that it has exposed the whole country to this danger, also opening up a vast market for foreign lemons that rightly belonged to California-grown lemons. It will no doubt be difficult to get the authorities to admit this danger, after so many years of acquiescence to the admission of foreign lemons without inspection, for to now admit there was a danger would be to admit guilt of negligence.

FLORIDIAN.

THE DESERTER

BY EUGENE BROWN

Having once worn a Wilson collar—made in Troy—I have been asked to join in the movement to perpetuate the Democratic party; to give it a home and social recognition.

The leaders propose to operate it as a going concern—like the Woolworth stores or the Trojan track team. But why do they pick on me? Let George do it.

Somebody must have seen me in the old days when I blew a flambeau or carried a torch. The slogan then was, once a Democrat always a Democrat. If you got hooked up with the organization they would keep you carrying baggage for the rest of your life. You were expected to work your fingers to the bone for the general cause and then bring in a mess of oats for the Democratic donkey.

You performed political stunts that you wouldn't do on a bet for the wife and family. You might carry a picture of Grover Cleveland in your watch, but you said your prayers to William Jennings Bryan. If you had twins in the family you named one of them Thomas Jefferson and t'other Andrew Jackson.

In the heat of a campaign the party would have two or three parades, with fervid oratory on the side. There would be a lot of noise and much red fire would be burned. If you rounded up a hundred fuzzy Democrats and kept them in a sober line until after the procession passed the Courthouse you might have a chance for a place on your precinct committee.

The Democrats got a lot of work out of their followers and do unto this day—although there nothing in it. When they once tag a voter they think he stays on the reservation until the place is sold for taxes.

Maybe I did go to conventions with Democrats and slept with them when they snored, but is that a sign I can't grow up and get some sense? Can't I chip in a few bucks to help keep the organization out of the red without being mistaken for Josephus Daniels?

I told them I didn't care whether they kept open house or not—in fact, I couldn't see any use for it. Not a hoot. I said I wouldn't go all the way to Washington just for a dinner. I'm not hungry, anyhow, and I can always fish a snack out of the ice box. As a matter of fact I am on a diet and a Democratic dinner wouldn't even interest me.

So far as I am concerned the organization can shut up its quarters or lease them as a poolroom. I don't even care what happens to John Jacob Raskob. If the Texans try to chase him into the brush it will be all right with me. Neither am I deeply concerned in the future of Al Smith. If he opens a bank or a brewery it will be no skin off my back. If he thinks he is running for President I should worry! I don't have to vote for him. Also the next time the bosses write me for money there won't be any.

On the mailing list I might be mentioned as a bum prospect. Let them sue me for separate maintenance and see what happens.

There is absolutely nothing doing.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Calculating Machines?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

A twenty-weeks course in the operation of calculating machines is offered free by the Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock. Machines taught are: Burroughs calculating machine, the Comptometer, the Monroe and the Marchant.

Topics covered are addition, subtraction, multiplication and division, and the application of these fundamentals to invoicing, pay-roll work, balance-sheet work, discounts, cost work, sales summaries, pro-rating and more advanced calculations.

"A cool head and dexterity are the main requisites for success," says Coleman Hall Bush, the instructor.

Bush studies psychology as a hobby and has written several books on its use in the business world. He is interested in rehabilitation work for the handicapped, and has trained many such students for successful work in civil service and other positions.

NASTURTIUMS

Cheerful geraniums and their courageous habit of blooming everywhere, regardless of moisture and care, have had their pean of praise, so I rise to a tribute to the nasturtium. Up the trellises and back fence they clamber, their cool green stems, their flat emerald leaves and their gay little faces a joy to observe. A flower plucked, and the slender stem thoughtfully chewed brings the pungent cress, of which this is a member, to mind, and the tiny pickled fruit, which tastes like capers, brings a welcome tang to the jaded palate. If the flowers are not watered, count on the bright nasturtiums to bloom anyway, jostled by exquisite orange-tinted blossoms, or lemon-yellow, or dark velvety russet. Plucked and placed in water, they peer over the edge of their glass vase in a charming manner, bringing a splash of bright color to a dark shelf, not the least lovely thing about them being the glimpse of pale graceful stems seen through the glass sides of the bowl, in crystal water.

UNIVERSITY SELECTS NEW VICE-PRESIDENT

Dr. Frank C. Touton

DR. TOUTON ADVANCES AT SCHOOL

Director of Educational Research at U.S.C. Named to Be Vice-President

Announcement is made by the executive committee of the board of trustees of the University of Southern California of the appointment of Dr. Frank C. Touton, director of educational research and service, as vice-president of the local university, effective with the beginning of the school year, July 1. Dr. Touton will have the title of vice-president and professor of educational research and service, according to President Von KleinSmid.

Prof. Touton came to the University of Southern California in 1922 as professor of education. In 1925 he was appointed educational secretary to President Von KleinSmid, becoming a member of the administrative staff of Southern California. In 1927 he was made director of educational research and service.

The new vice-president introduced at the university the Thorndike intelligence tests in combination with a diagnostic bulletin. This guide indicates whether superior work may be expected of certain students in specific subjects, and what remedial measures are necessary.

Dr. Touton has had wide educational experience as a high school and junior high school principal in Missouri; as instructor of mathematics at Galesburg, Ill.; as professor of school administration at Ohio State University; as State supervisor of high schools in Wisconsin, as lecturer in secondary education at the University of California at Berkeley, and as professor of education at the University of Southern California.

Dr. Touton serves, on occasion, as a personal representative of the University of Southern California with other colleges of the State and county. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Tau.

Girl Blames Bad Check Charge on Poor Arithmetic

Three checkbooks and three names brought nothing but unhappiness and trouble to Orvia Helen Christi, 20 years of age, who was held in the County Jail yesterday charged with issuing checks without sufficient funds.

ORVIA HELEN CHRISTY

The girl was taken into custody by Pasadena officers following the complaint of her bankers that she had issued checks against her accounts after the supply of money was exhausted.

Officers charge that Miss Christy used her own name and also that of Mrs. Helen Knoles and Mrs. Minor Van Arsdale.

Pair Arraigned on Dope Charge

Frank Lawrence, 29 years of age, and his wife, Mary Lawrence, 33, asserted by police to be members of a narcotic smuggling ring, were arraigned before Municipal Judge Ambrose yesterday on two felony charges of violating the State Poison Act. The court set preliminary hearing next Wednesday and fixed bail at $30,000 each.

BACH UNIT REBUILDING SPEEDED UP

Portion of Plant Razed by Fire Will Be Ready for Occupancy Soon

Bach Aircraft Corporation yesterday began rebuilding the third unit of its huge construction plant at Metropolitan Field, which was damaged by fire Thursday. Rush construction was ordered by President George R. Bury.

Immediate effect of the fire on the annual production of the Bach plant, which is fifty ten-place, trimotored transports, will be a theoretical reduction in the year's output, amounting to two ships. In thirty days the factory will be under normal operating conditions as the assembly building was the only unit of the plant damaged, President Bury said. Fire loss to building, equipment and destroyed planes is fully covered by insurance.

Among the ten-place transports burned was the second plane constructed by Bach Aircraft, which was in the passenger service of West Coast Airlines on the San Francisco-Seattle run. This plane had flown approximately 260,000 miles, and was being overhauled. Bach engineers and Department of Commerce inspectors estimated the cost of overhauling the ship at less than $1000, or .00385 cents per air mile. The performance of this Los Angeles-made transport is declared by experts to have established a new record in the aviation world for durability and economy of operation.

Twelve ten-place, trimotored planes have been delivered by Bach Aircraft to Pickwick Airlines, West Coast Airways and Santa Maria Airlines, and twelve transports now are under construction for Pickwick and eastern airlines.

AIR SCHOOL GRADUATION TO BE TODAY

Two Thousand Boys Will Gather for Exercises at Figueroa Theater

More than 2000 boys in Los Angeles, from 10 to 16 years of age, will attempt to show older folks that juvenile aviation is a serious business when they gather at the Figueroa Theater at 9 o'clock this morning to compete for honors in the graduating exercises of the Los Angeles Times-National Second Free Aviation School for Boys.

Three silver trophies valued at $300 will be awarded by Maj. Moseley, vice-president of the Curtiss Flying Service of California, for the best-built scale model of the Curtiss-Robin cabin plane; nineteen silver and bronze medals for efficiency in flying and glider planes will be presented by the Los Angeles Times and three scholastic honor awards will be given by Mrs. U. S. Grant McQueen, president of the Women's Aeronautical Association of California.

The Times now is preparing plans for the third free aviation school, to be conducted by the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department under the supervision of Jack Henderson.

The entire show at the Figueroa Theater is free and any boy interested in aviation is invited.

City Held Ideal Training Place for Aeronauts

Dr. Ford A. Carpenter, manager of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce's department of meteorology and aeronautics, last night delivered an illustrated address at Scottish Rite Cathedral, his subject being lighter-than-air transportation in this region. The preparation and training in progress for the Los Angeles-Honolulu airship service formed the basis of his remarks, which dealt with rigid, semirigid and nonrigid dirigibles.

Southern California, said the speaker, is the ideal place for training airship crews because of the lack of storms and high winds here. Airship transportation to Hawaii means reduction of the present five or six days' steaming to forty-eight hours' flying.

Dr. Carpenter said the inauguration of airship passenger service should not be regarded as a rival which will supplant existing means of transportation. Rather, it should be regarded as an addition and different service which travelers may choose.

VETERAN TO EXPLAIN DYNAMITE DETONATOR

Deputy Sheriffs last night were ordered to search for Robert O'Hara, a member of Company 10 at the Sawtelle Soldiers' Home, and to obtain from him an explanation of the possession of an electrical dynamite detonator found in his belongings at the hospital yesterday.

JUDGE MARCHANT STRICKEN

Presiding Municipal Court Jurist Collapses on Bench Because of Indigestion Attack

Stricken with acute indigestion, Municipal Judge Thomas W. Marchant yesterday collapsed on the bench in his courtroom and was removed to his home at Hermosa Beach, where he was under a physician's care last night.

Judge Marchant, who is Hermosa Beach police judge, has been sitting in the Municipal Courts for more than a year on a temporary appointment. He has been carrying on the duty of presiding in criminal jury court for the last week. Thursday night he was at work until after 11 p.m. when he dismissed a jury which had failed to agree.

His collapse on the bench yesterday followed one on the street car while on his way to the courtroom in the morning. At that time he was given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. He again partially collapsed in an elevator in the Hall of Justice and was assisted to his chambers by Clerk Bert Kiersey and Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday, where, after an hour's rest, he attempted to assume his duties on the bench. Shortly after taking the bench he collapsed for the third time and County Jail Physician Benjamin Blank was called and administered treatment. Dr. Blank ordered Judge Marchant to his home. He declared the collapse was due to indigestion and was not in any way the result of the heat wave.

All cases scheduled for his court yesterday and today were continued until Monday by order of Presiding Judge Turney.

George A. Brock was elected chairman of the nominating committee for directors. With him will serve George Mosbacher, H. O. Wheeler, D. F. McGarry, Nathan Newby, E. Avery McCarthy and Roy Jones.

E. A. Meserve was elected chairman of the advisory committee. William Lacy, Ben R. Meyer, Joseph Scott, James G. Warren, Victor H. Rossetti and W. L. Brent complete the committee.

Mr. Lacy announced that the executive committee would consist of himself as chairman, Ben R. Meyer, Victor H. Rossetti, W. L. Brent, W. H. Holland, James G. Warren, J. A. H. Kerr, E. A. Meserve, Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, Mrs. E. Every McCarthy and Mrs. Albert Crutcher.

PRESERVING MONOCACY

The battle of Monocacy is worth commemorating, and the breastworks and other defenses of the Union Army should be preserved. For that purpose a bill introduced by Senator Tydings of Maryland passed the Senate on Tuesday. Gen. Grant in his Memoirs had this to say about the rout of Gen. Lew Wallace by Gen. Early:

Gen. Wallace contributed by the defeat of the troops under him a greater benefit to the cause than often falls to the lot of a commander of an equal force to render by means of victory.

Wallace delayed the advance of Early on Washington, and its defenders had timely notice of the Confederate commander's design. In his autobiography he gives a chapter to Monocacy. Wallace's strength he estimated at 8000 to 10,000 men. The Union defenses appeared to him so strong that he decided "to take the enemy in flank," crossing the river in force above the blockhouses and earthworks. Gen. Early's flanking movement forced the Union Army from its position at Monocacy Junction, and it retired in the direction of Baltimore. Pursuit was soon discontinued, as Early, who meditated a descent on Washington, did not wish to be embarrassed with prisoners. While it lasted, Monocacy was a brisk engagement. The Confederate losses in killed and wounded were about 700; the Union casualties "very heavy," according to Early. His troops had marched fourteen miles before going into battle. During "the operations at Monocacy a contribution of $200,000 in money was levied," he says, "on the city of Frederick." Previously Hagerstown had been mulcted of $20,000.

Monocacy was fought on July 9, 1864, and by the 11th the Confederates were well on their way to Washington. James Ford Rhodes thinks that Early "missed a great opportunity" in failing to surprise and take the capital, but the Confederate leader found works of an "impregnable character" in his front, and spent much valuable time in reconnaissance. Moreover, the enemy was ready for him, and poured shot and shell into his deployed ranks. A surprise was impossible, an attack on the fortification "worse than folly." "I had, therefore," says Early, "reluctantly to give up all hopes of capturing Washington, after I had arrived in sight of the dome of the Capitol and given the Federal authorities a terrible fright." Washington was weakly garrisoned on the eve of Monocacy, but the news of the battle brought the corps of Wright and Gilmore double-quick into the capital. It was touch and go, and Early lost.—[New York Times.

SERMON TOPICS ANNOUNCED

Dedication of New Edifice by Presbyterians to Be One Feature of Church Services

Dedication of the first unit of the $330,000 temple being built by Wilshire Crest Presbyterian Church, Country Club Drive at Mansfield avenue, will be conducted at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow with Rev. Thomas Holden, the pastor, presiding. The dedicatory sermon will be by Dr. Herbert Booth Smith of Immanuel Presbyterian Church. The public is invited. The program will include selections on the new $5200 organ by Ripley Dorr, organist of Wilshire Presbyterian Church, and hymns by the Wilshire Presbyterian Church Boys' Choir.

The first unit of the church, recently completed at a cost of $30,000 and known as Christ Chapel, is a beautiful Gothic temple, containing several Sunday-school rooms and a well-furnished auditorium, equipped with art-glass windows depicting episodes in the life of Jesus. Mr. Holden and his congregation expect to build in the near future an educational unit to cost $100,000, and a large auditorium to cost about $200,000.

Wilshire Crest Church was organized three years ago as a branch of Immanuel Presbyterian Church. In 1927 Mr. Holden resigned the pastorate of Tropico Presbyterian Church at Glendale to take charge of the Wilshire Crest branch, and six months later organized it as a self-supporting church. From 142 charter members the church has grown to a membership of 250. Mr. Holden announces that the preacher at the new church tomorrow morning will be Dr. Lewis B. Hillis, student pastor of the University of California at Berkeley.

REV. CHARLES H. FUNK

"Dying to Live" and "The Home Well" are subjects of sermons to be preached tomorrow morning and evening, respectively, by Dr. Charles Hume Funk, B.D., of Clarksburg, W. Va. Dr. Funk and his family are spending their vacation in Southern California, and are guests at the home of Brown Funk, Dr. Funk's brother, at Long Beach. Dr. Funk is pastor of the Christian Church at Clarksburg.

REV. C. H. FUNK.

DR. HUGH K. WALKER

Short summer sermons will be the order of the day tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church. In the morning Dr. Hugh K. Walker will speak on "Finding Treasure in Dark Places." The challenge of the difficult, the discipline of disappointment and the benefit of limitations will be discussed. In the evening the topic will be "The Prophetic Significance of a Postponed Funeral," in which the more cheering aspects of our present-day situation will be emphasized. Dr. Walker is resuming his "Pulpit Pen Points." In a ten-minute prelude he will express his opinion on "A Tempest in a Teapot," treating the question of Mrs. Hoover and her critics. He also will pay his respects to Ambassador Dawes and Premier MacDonald under the heading, "A World-Beating, Peace-Making Record." A half-hour organ recital by Prof. David L. Wright will precede the evening service.

DR. ROBERT A. HADDEN

Dr. Robert A. Hadden, president of the Christian Fundamentals League, will be the guest preacher tomorrow at the First Fundamentals Church, 942 Grandview avenue. ONE THING OBSERVED

All the great detectives of fiction, from Mr. Bucket on down, have placed great emphasis upon the value of observation. What seems a trifle to the ordinary eye or even escapes the attention of thousands of eyes may be a clew which, when properly observed, will lead the most resourceful criminal to his undoing. This is as true in real life as in romance. A striking reminder is contained in a sketch of the life work of the late Dr. Joseph Goldberger which has just been issued by the Public Health Service. It was by noticing a single circumstance which had been visible to countless others but still was overlooked that Dr. Goldberger was able to make discovery of the cause and cure of pellagra.

This disease had been known to medical science for almost two centuries—it was mentioned in medical literature in 1735. Studies had been made of it, countless articles had been written about it. The disease did not appear noticeably in the United States until 1902; Dr. Goldberger was not officially assigned to make a study of it until 1913. One of the first peculiarities which forced itself upon his attention was that in institutions where there was much pellagra among patients doctors, attendants and nurses did not contract it. The more he thought over this the more firmly the doctor became convinced that the then widely accepted notion of a germ origin was untenable.

Even then it was supposed that diet had something to do with pellagra, but the assumption was that this was because of a harmful something in food. Experiments soon convinced Dr. Goldberger that the real trouble was not the presence of a harmful something but the absence of a needful something. As soon as he had been able to produce pellagra in human beings—with their consent—by restricting them to certain kinds of diet, his case was proved. From that point diagnosis and correct treatment became a mere matter of routine.

Nobody can tell how many hundreds of thousands of persons have died from this disease in the last 200 years, to say nothing of the millions who have suffered from it in mild form yet have escaped its extreme exaction. Noboby can tell how many thousands of trained eyes had passed unarrested over the phenomenon which Dr. Goldberger did notice. Perhaps some of the other unsolved mysteries of disease are hidden only in some unsuspected place which a glance may at any moment reveal. Merely noticing the place will not in itself avail back to the seeing must be a mind capable of thinking the whole thing through.—[New York Sun.

JAPANESE SKETCHES

Of the gentlewomen's apartments attached to the Empress's own quarters, those along the Narrow Gallery are the most agreeable. When the wooden blinds at the top are rolled up, the wind blows in very hard, and it is cool even in summer. In winter, indeed, snow and hail often come along with the wind; but even so, I find it very agreeable . . .

In the fifth month I love driving out to some mountain village. The pools that lie across the road look like patches of green grass; but while the carriage slowly pushes its way right through them, one sees that there is only a scum of some strange, thin weed, with clear, bright water underneath. Though it is quite shallow, great spurts fly up as our horsemen gallop across, making a lovely sight. Then, where the road runs between hedges, a leafy bough will sometimes dart in at the carriage window: but however quickly one snatches at it, one is always too late.

Sometimes a spray of yomogi will get caught in the wheel, and for a moment, as the wheel brings it level, a delicious scent hovers at our window.

I love to cross a river in very bright moonlight and see the trampled water fly up in chips of crystal under the oxen's feet.—[From "The Pillow-Brook of Sei Shonagon." Translated from the Japanese by Arthur Waley.

SOAKING THE MAFIA

Mussolini may have banished liberty from Italy, but the good he has done the country may more than counterbalance that. If Italians must suffer curtailment of their liberty for a period, they should be thankful for the economic revival and other valuable results of Il Duce's reign. The smashing of the criminal society of the Mafia by the dictator seems to be a recent feat.

The government gathered in 160 of these criminals from three provinces, convicted 150 of felonies including murder, highway robbery, blackmail and arson, and convicted the rest of inferior crimes. Hundreds of years of imprisonment was meted out to them. Law-abiding Italians should be grateful for that.—[Montana Free Press.

COMIC TEAM TO PLAY BASEBALL

Van and Schenck to Costar in M.-G.-M. Opus

First National Will Produce "Song of the Flame"

Alvarado Signed for Part in "Rio Rita"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Not only must Van and Schenck be good comedians; they must also be good baseball players, for a time at least.

The first comedy in which the comedians will costar for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will be a baseball story, it was learned yesterday. A. P. Younger and Bugs Baer are writing the story, and Sarah Mason is doing the continuity.

No director has yet been assigned although it is said that either Jack Conway or Chuck Reisner will probably get the assignment.

FIRST NATIONAL TO PRODUCE OPERETTA

Promising to be one of the most brilliant productions of the year, is First National's operetta, a screen musical version of "The Song of the Flame," to be made all in Techni-Color, with lavish detail.

The star of the singing film will be Alexander Gray, who is completing the leading male role in "Sallie."

Alexander Gray is a Broadway stage favorite in musical comedy, having sung in "The Desert Song" and other metropolitan musicals. We hear that Gray will probably be signed on a long-term contract with First National.

Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein II wrote "The Song of the Flame," a New York success of a season or two ago.

Don Alvarado With R.-K.-O.

It does seem entirely right that Don Alvarado should be playing a role in "Rio Rita." That is actually what is happening. Alvarado was signed yesterday by R.-K.-O. to play the role of Roberto, which is to be made a featured part.

Bebe Daniels and John Boles are to have the star parts, while other new players signed are Charles Stevens, Fred Burns and Sam Nelson. Players previously announced are Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Dorothy Lee and Helen Kaiser. Luther Reed is directing the rehearsals.

EXTRA SHOW PLANS MADE BY THEATER

Rube Wolf Leads Jazz Band at Chinese as Feature of Midnight Matinee

First of the series of special Saturday midnight matinees of the "Hollywood Revue of 1929," to be staged tonight at Grauman's Chinese Theater, promises to take on the character of a second gala opening night.

The late-hour show will be ushered in with an elaborate electrical display, and Rube Wolf will direct a jazz band of seventy pieces as the feature of a program of extemporaneous presentations which he will introduce as master of ceremonies.

Headed by Cliff Edwards and Polly Moran, stars of the "Hollywood Revue," Bobby Watson and others, a galaxy of artists from stage and screen will be seen and heard in impromptu offerings on the stage.

Beginning tonight the Saturday midnight matinees will be regular features of the engagement of the "Revue" at the Chinese.

Warner Presents Stage and Film Stars on Stage

A brilliant array of stars of both stage and screen will perform tonight at the last of the midnight shows held in connection with the showing of "On With the Show," the first all-natural color screen musical comedy, at Warner Brothers Theater. Not only those appearing in the current picture, which is ending a successful run tomorrow, will take part in this event, but the services of many others have also been enlisted.

Irene Bordoni, noted commedienne, late star of "Paris," in New York, and now engaged in making the screen version of that musical show will be one of the actresses introduced by Frank Fay, who is acting in the capacity of master of ceremonies for the third time.

Other persons of the show world he will introduce are Edward Everett Horton, Lupino Lane, Jack Buchanan, Alice White Marion Nixon, Lupe Velez, Johnny Arthur, Raquel Torres, William Courtney, Pauline Garon and Pert Kelton.

"Noah's Ark," Warner Brothers' Vitaphone spectacle of the ages, starring Dolores Costello, George O'Brien, Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Guinn Williams and a cast of 10,000 others, starts at Warner Brothers Theater Monday for its first popular run.

Helen Hayes Returns in "Coquette"

Helen Hayes, who is starred in the original stage version of "Coquette," the drama by George Abbott and Ann Preston Bridgers which comes to the Belasco for a limited engagement starting July 1, has played but one other engagement in California. She appeared here in 1917 in the title role of "Pollyanna."

The actress, a star of years standing, has confined her activities almost exclusively to New York since her debut at the age of 9, in a Lew Fields extravaganza, "Old Dutch."

"The Batchelor Father," the comedy which carries on under the banner of David Belasco, starts on its fourth and final week at the Belasco Monday. "Coquette" and "The Batchelor Father," which ran simultaneously in New York, both came from that city direct to California for their local engagements.

"Jealousy" Has Selected Cast

The A. H. Woods production of the drama "Jealousy," the present attraction at the Mason Theater, beginning its third week Sunday, is an interesting event of the current season with Fay Bainter in the central character and John Halliday playing the opposite feature role.

The production belongs in the inner circle of first appearances of original casts. So far, Los Angeles, New York and Chicago have seen this play. The drama is said to find a perfect quintessence in concentrating upon the two characters and admitting no one else.

Robert Edeson Talks on Drama

Robert Edeson will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at the Hollywood Plaza Salon Wednesday night and will discuss the drama.

Mrs. L. A. Irish, general chairman of the Hollywood Bowl, is to be the hostess and Ruth S. Denis also will be present. Charles Wakefield Cadman, California's noted composer, will talk on music. Others who will contribute are Mme. Maria Gerdes and Munya Cherniavsky.

FILM TITLE SELECTED

"River of Romance" has been definitely selected as the final title of Charles "Buddy" Rogers's Paramount starring vehicle, an adaptation of Booth Tarkington's "Magnolia." Mary Brian has the leading feminine role of Lucy. Wallace Beery, June Collyer, Henry B. Walthall, Natalie Kingston, Fred Kohler, Walter McGrail, Anderson Lawler and Mrs. George Fawcett are featured in the cast of the production. Richard Wallace directed the romance.

COMEDY AT PLAY SHOP

"Lifers," three-act collegiate comedy-drama, will play a return engagement at the Cordova Play Shop starting Tuesday. The play was written by Madeline Blackmore and Charles Crouch. The cast includes Marion Aye, Cleve Moore, Duane Thompson, Adeline Andres, Marjorie Bonner and others.

Nordic Brightens Indian Drama

Esther Ralston
Occupies a dynamic role as the colonel's wife in "The Wheel of Life," current feature film at the Paramount Theater.

CAST SELECTED FOR "HINDU"

For the chief feminine role, that of Clarice Cartwright in "The Hindu," Henry Duffy has chosen Franc Hale, who, for the last two seasons, has been Walker Whiteside's leading woman in "Sakura," "The Arabian" and "The Royal Box." The actress will again appear opposite Whiteside when the distinguished actor is seen under the Duffy management in the comedy of the Orient, starting at the President the 30th inst.

Franc Hale was chosen by Walker Whiteside after he had witnessed her performance in a stock company at the Fordham Theater in New York. Before that she had played in stock and had toured with May Robson in "Ma Pettingill."

The balance of the cast for "The Hindu" has been selected and Edwin H. Curtis is directing the rehearsals. The role of Denton Morgan will be enacted by Charles Penman. Donelda Curry will be Shirza, the Indian girl; the Princess Yashda will be portrayed by Gladys Earlcott. Edward Wade will be Ghinzi, the beggar; Frank Henderson will be the servant, Hari, and others in the cast will be Walter Law, Frederick Wallace and Richard Earle.

Indians Begin Engagement in Variety House

Their primitive bare-backed steeds discarded in favor of iron horses, eighteen full-blooded Indians representing sixteen different tribes and comprising the United States Indian Band, arrived here last night for an Orpheum engagement starting today.

His inclinations, however, were more classical. The natural inaptitude of the Indian as concerns music hindered Shunatona not at all. After graduating from Carlisle, he studied music in American and European conservatories, composed many songs woven with the traditions of his race, then organized the orchestra which was acclaimed a musical sensation at the Hoover-Curtis inaugural ceremonies in Washington.

Like other members of his band, Shunatona is purely and thoroughly Indian. A. R. Snyder, Indian Field Service superintendent, asserts the versatile band leader is lineal descendant from old Chief Shunatona of the Pawnee and Otoe tribes. His preliminary education was attained in the Chilocco government Indian School in Oklahoma.

"Madame X" to Start Shortly

The Fox Movietone Follies entered its last week today at the Fox Criterion Theater. M.-G.-M.'s all-talking dramatic classic, "Madame X," makes its appearance Thursday.

"'Madame X' is the greatest emotional talking drama of all time," in the opinion of Louis B. Mayer, head of the M.-G.-M. studios. "Moreover," adds Mr. Mayer, "I sincerely believe that we have assembled for the Criterion's talking picture the first really perfect cast of dramatic actors. I know that before we decided upon any one member of that 'Madame X' cast we spent hours and weeks of discussion before making a decision. We wanted the best possible artists."

Horton Portrays Butler in Play

The ease with which Edward Everett Horton portrays the role of a butler of whom all Mayfair stands in awe in "Serena Blandish," comedy-drama being produced by Horton at the Majestic Theater, is interesting to those who have seen the actor in other roles.

Horton actually lives the character of the butler in the household of an eccentric countess in the current offering. Subtle epigrams and urbane comments come from his lips to gain him the reputation of being the wisest man in London, yet Horton is said to enact the role with restraint and subdued emphasis.

Included in the comedy of sophistication include Sylvia Field, Rose Dione, John Litel and others.

"Jonesy" Will Commence Run

That remarkable American family, the Joneses, will come to town tomorrow night. Its members at that time are scheduled to begin living a series of exciting and somewhat hilarious episodes in their lives on the stage of the Vine Street Theater.

Franklin Pangborn is formally presenting the Joneses to Los Angeles playgoers. That well-known actor-producer has combed the dramatic talent of the town to obtain a cast which would adequately portray the characters in "Jonesy."

The opening of "Jonesy" is expected to attract its quota of celebrities to the Vine Street.

James Spottswood heads the cast in the role of Henry Jones, treasurer and alleged head of the Jones family. Jane Winton and Pauline Garon, film stars, will also play prominent roles.

"Jonesy" himself will appear in the person of Kenneth Gamet, whose love affairs almost completely disrupt the Jones family.

DENNY STARTS

Reginald Denny has started work on his last Universal production, temporarily titled "No, No, Napoleon," based on his original story. The screen comedian wrote the picture version and dialogue for this all-talking production which is being directed by William Craft. A prominent supporting cast has been assembled to support Denny.

NEW COMEDY SEEN AT THEATER MART

Smooth Portrayals Offered in June Terry and Elaine Sweet Play

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

All our pet California superstitions, our weaknesses and our delectable idiosyncrasies are exposed, the bubble of our pride is pricked, with a delightfully naive drollery in that sparkling little comedy, "California," from the pens of June Terry and Elaine Sweet, now playing at Theater Mart.

We are so utterly superb in our sang froid, so sure of ourselves, of the impeccable quality of our California ideal. Our candor is appalling. With lavish hand we apply the gilded varnish of our enthusiasm to the garment of truth—and if our veracity is questioned, we invariably fall back upon the "unusual" California orthodoxy.

The intrinsic mode of the Chambers of Commerce and the countless exploiting committee is pictured with cryptic perspective. And if the temper of the country is variously represented, so the temper of the newcomer is more or less variously tried, through sudden rains which pour through French windows, precipitating messy pools of water upon rug and polished floors, heatless apartments and fireless fireplaces. The fact that just these things do happen, and just such people do come to California, and just such real estate men do exist as those represented, makes it all diverting and highly amusing entertainment.

The situations are humanly appealing and the character drawing is convincingly real. Life's little ironies are eventually nicely ironed out, and the eastern contingent becomes "Californiacs" ad libitum. The actors were called upon to perform feats of real manual labor in this comic opus, in the packing of numerous household goods, decorative and otherwise, and the continual mopping of the rain-swept floors was work of no mean persuasion. If there was perhaps a shade too much amplification of theme in spots, and if Uncle's California cold became too obstreperous and continuous in its pursuance of atmospheric effect, there was a pretty little love melody which lightly winged its way through, the dialogue was spirited and brightly tricked out, and the play brought genuine merriment to the critical palate of the assembled first-nighters.

A well-balanced cast gave a sympathetic and humorously adroit interpretation of the comedy. Jack Leyton Leigh, in the role of Uncle Daniel Winthrop from Rhode Island, was delightfully human and played the part with finesse. As Marian Bradley, the mother, Clarice Wynn brought charm of diction and a nice sense of modulation. Aunt Emma, whose keen eyes never missed any trouble, was portrayed with fine comedy instinct by Noreen Gammill. Betty Baker as the girl of the family gave a spirited account of herself, and John Francis Dolan pleased as the lover. Earl McCarthy, as a flaming youth of sporting proclivitives, handsomely realized the part.

CONKLIN IN "VIRGINIAN"

Chester Conklin, the screen comedian who made the walrus mustache known, has been cast as Uncle Hughey in Paramount's all-talking picture version of the American classic, "The Virginian." Announcement of Conklin's addition to the cast, which already includes Gary Cooper, Walter Huston, Richard Arlen and Mary Brian, was made by B. P. Schulberg, Paramount's general manager of West Coast production.

ACTOR VACATIONS

Taking advantage of an opportunity to enjoy a belated vacation preparatory to starting on his next assignment, Lucien Littlefield, character actor, has departed for his mountain cabin, accompanied by his family. Upon his return Littlefield will appear as the featured character actor in First National's Vitaphone production, "No, No, Nanette."

STAR REWARDED

Alice White is shortly to be rewarded by First National with a new starring contract, calling for an increase in salary.

SAFETY-AT-SEA DATA DUE SOON

Report on New Convention Slated for Next Week

Increased Radio Safeguards Likely to Be Feature

Latest Regulations Signed by Eighteen Nations

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Complete details of the convention, adopted at the conference on safety of life at sea, held in London from April 16 to May 31, last, will be made public some time next week. They are expected to show material increases in the requirements for radio equipment on ocean shipping.

The United States was represented at the conference by a delegation headed by Representative White of Maine, who has been more or less prominent in the enactment of radio legislation in this country.

The convention just adopted, signed by all eighteen countries represented at the conference, is a revision of the convention drafted in 1914 following the Titanic disaster, which was signed by thirteen nations but ratified and made effective by only one.

SENTIMENT CHANGED

The other twelve nations refused to ratify the convention on the ground that it imposed an unreasonable burden on shipping. A decided change of sentiment, however, brought about by the extremely valuable services which radio has rendered during the past fifteen years in ocean disasters, has developed since then. It is probable that no difficulty will be encountered in having the 1929 convention ratified by every nation whose delegation signed the agreement.

The convention deals with all phases of safety at sea, many of its recommendations being based on the experience gained in the Vestris sinking late last year.

One entire section is devoted to radio equipment, which is to be required on all passenger vessels and on all cargo vessels above 1600 gross tons. This covers more ships than are included under even the present United States law, which requires radio only on steamships having fifty or more persons on board.

TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS

The new convention will require radio installation on the recently developed motor vessels, which have been held to be exempt from the provisions of our own law, and even on sailing vessels if they carry passengers or are of more than 1600 gross tons.

Many of our cargo ships, it has been pointed out, are not required to have radio equipment because the personnel carried is not in excess of fifty.

The convention also deals with the technical requirements of instruments and operators, in every instance, it is understood, equaling or exceeding the standards required by United States law.

CHURCH SERVICE OVER KEJK ANTENNA

Every Sunday from 6 to 6:30 p.m., over KEJK, Beverly Hills, the choir of the Church of Latter Day Saints is heard by the radio audience.

Besides numbers by the choir, consisting of sixty mixed voices, there also are solo numbers.

A brief sermon is included in the broadcast. This usually is given by Dr. James E. Talmadge, former president of the University of Utah, who is one of the members of the Council of Twelve Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

This vesper half hour from KEJK is the only religious service broadcast from the station each week and the audience has been estimated as running into the thousands.

NEW POST FOR DEAN METCALF

Dean Metcalf, well known in radio activities, has been selected by the board of directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce as director of all radio activities, according to announcement by Kennedy Ellsworth, president.

Metcalf will be in charge of the junior chamber's weekly broadcast, at which time sportsmen from the various fields are heard. His new duties start at once.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

GOOD TIMES

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

"I have tried so hard to be a good mother to my boys and now they are growing away from me. They are not even out of high school yet, but they might as well be away at college for all I know of what is going on.

"I don't see how it happened; I've always been wrapped up in them, and I've always done for them everything I should. It's hard to realize that already they have slipped away from me and that there is no way for me to call them back even now."

I am sure that you did in fact do for them everything that seemed wise and important, but I think you perhaps forgot one thing which is vital—to have good times with them.

Psychiatrists tell us that it is the kind of good times we have while we are children that we spend the rest of our lives trying to re-experience. So if you want to exercise a wholesome guidance over your child's formative years, be sure that you are identified in his mind with the occasions when he had the very best sort of good time.

Remember, too, that it is the things we enjoy with our children which hold the home together. The home which is the scene of grand good times is not too soon deserted.

If you hope to keep your children's confidence and to earn their friendship through the years of adolescence you must enjoy things with them. Be interested in their interests. Go places with them. Welcome their friends. Accept their enthusiasms. Cultivate the old-fashioned institution of the family excursion. Play with them their own games in their own way.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

BEWARE OF READY-MADE DIAGNOSIS OF ANY CONDITION

In this ready-made age, its ready-made phrases, its pat proverbs, its catchy slang and canned conversation, people are stimulated to do less and less thinking. There is always someone to suggest a ready-made idea that seems to fit every condition.

If the young people want to use canned conversation and clever slang phrases in lieu of thinking up words to fit their ideas, then we just have to stand for it, but when it comes to blinding one's self to what may be the matter with the baby, because someone thinks up an explanation that seems to answer the problem we feel that we must blow the horn.

We all know the baby can't sleep nights. The child who tosses and turns and "can't relax," so his parents tell us, who demands to be nursed a half-dozen times, or who must be held and rocked or swung into insensibility. Instead of scrutinizing baby's environment, or his diet for the cause of these unnatural actions, the mother takes counsel with her friends and relatives and soothes her anxiety thus: "I was so nervous before baby was born and never got a decent night's sleep, I guess he takes after me."

So long as parents satisfy themselves with such absurd ideas, then there is little chance for the baby's diet or his environment to be improved. In one such case the mother admitted that the baby spent most of his daytime in a swing, which he just loved, but that he could never get to sleep at night. How could he—after having his nerves stimulated all day by such activity? But she was sure it was an inherited tendency!

Another explanation we hear frequently has to do with constipation. The mother says, "The baby is terribly constipated and never has a movement without the use of some kind of medicine. I am constipated, too, and so of course, she would be."

Why "of course?" The mother forgets that baby is now a separate organism, nourished by her, it is true, but with his own intestinal system, working under its own power. Her constipation has nothing on earth to do with baby's. His is due to laziness of the muscles which eject the movement, or her failure to regulate the baby to have a daily movement without the use of drugs, or too little food, or a dozen other reasons, all having to do with baby's own nutrition and habits, not his mother's.

Conditions which might easily be altered, if the parents would look at them closely with the idea that of course they can be bettered, continue to exist because people so readily snatch at these offered suggestions which seem plausible to them. So long as we have mothers who are ready to tell other mothers that when the baby protrudes his tongue constantly he is looking for something to eat which she ought to have in her diet, just so long will a remedial condition of gland deficiency go uncared for. Or the perfectly normal activity of the tongue, as of all other muscles of the body, will be looked upon as abnormal when baby is only preparing it for the day when he will use it in speech.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy
author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

ESTIMATING PROPER WEIGHT

Weight is no longer considered an indication of health. The fashion of today favors thinness. Weighing machines abound in every public gathering place, and they are well patronized, according to statistics. Many of these machines have charts attached to them to show how much one should weigh according to height and age, but these standards cannot be accurate. The correct weight is largely an individual matter, according to build. Some people are naturally slender and others are stocky. It would be foolish to try to make a slender person as heavy as a stocky one, or to reduce a heavier built person down to the weight of a smaller boned type.

Those of the muscular type can carry a good deal of solid weight, but an excess of fat can certainly not be considered healthful. I therefore advise those suffering from obesity to reduce the quantity of food and to exercise a great deal. It is not wise, however, for the thin person to attempt to gain weight by stuffing with rich foods. A thin person should use a well-balanced diet, avoid worry, sleep soundly, and attempt to gain by building muscle.

The standards given in weight charts have usually been taken from the average of a great many people and cannot be considered as health standards. The weight may also vary, according to age, temperament, heredity and occupation.

No one should go to foolish extremes, either in trying to gain or reduce. The best weight for an individual is the weight at which he has the greatest amount of energy, regardless of all charts. I do not usually try to estimate a person's correct weight until I have studied his bony framework and a number of other factors. Frequently people write in asking for an estimate, and I am very glad to give this if they have given me their present weight, height in stocking feet, age, occupation and full-length picture, preferably in a bathing suit.

If any of my readers wish me to give them an estimate about their correct weight, I would advise them to have two photographs taken—one a front view and the other from the side. Small kodak pictures will do. Write the present weight on the backs of the pictures. I can give you my opinion based on years of experience and observation of thousands of patients. Many will be surprised when my estimate states that their weight should be perhaps twenty or thirty pounds lower. This is especially true with stout women who frequently talk themselves into the belief that Nature intended them to be heavy. Very few women are tall enough to weigh over one hundred and forty pounds, while men of the same height can weigh as much as two hundred pounds because of their larger bones and stronger muscular tissues.

If those who are interested will send me their photographs at once, I will be glad to give an extra amount of time to answering these letters and sending detailed information about either increasing or decreasing the weight to the normal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Mrs. G. H. J. writes: "For the past year my husband has been affected with what is called spasmodic torticollis. Will you please explain something about it, and tell me if there is any way to relieve him?"

Answer: Torticollis, sometimes called wry-neck, is a contraction of the cervical muscles caused by some infection of the spinal accessory nerve. In females, it may be a hysterical condition, especially liable to occur in those of a nervous family history. It may appear following a cold or a blow. The back portion of the head is pulled toward the shoulder on the affected side. The face is raised and rotated to the other shoulder. In long standing cases these muscles may become very rigid or even atrophied. The best treatment seems to be simply the aplication of heat, and osteopathic treatments. I would also suggest the use of a fasting and dieting regime, instructions for which I will be glad to mail to you.

IS LEPROSY CURABLE?

Q.: Ralpk K. writes: "I have suffered for years with a bad case of eczema. My body was almost entirely covered with scales, and no remedy seemed to help me. Since taking the fasting and diet treatment which you recommended I have been entirely cured. What I want to know is, could not leprosy be cured in the same way?"

A.: I have not had the chance to treat a case of leprosy, but several cures have been reported by physical culturalists who understand the fasting cure and have given this treatment to cases with which they came in contact. I would be glad to get in touch with anyone suffering from a true case of leprosy, as I am eager to demonstrate my belief that leprosy can be cured if the blood stream is made perfectly pure through fasting and dieting.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

MACARONI AND NUT PUDDING

Two cups of milk, one teaspoon of cinnamon, one-half a cup of chopped nut meats, two tablespoons of sweet sherry wine, one cup of macaroni, measured after being put through the food chopper, one-half a cup of sugar, two eggs, one-half a cup of seedless raisins, scald the milk in a double boiler, add the macaroni and cook until tender. When the consistency of thick custard, remove from the fire, add the well-beaten yolks of the eggs, cinnamon, sugar, nutmeats, raisins and wine. Mix thoroughly, then fold in the stiffly-beaten whites of the eggs, pour into individual molds that have been oiled, filling them three-quarters full, set in a pan of hot water, and bake about twenty minutes, serve with a fruit sauce.

CHICKEN WITH SOUR CREAM GRAVY

Cut up a chicken, the same as for fricassee, cover with water, and cook until tender, adding a slice of onion, a sprig of parsley, and one half of a bay leaf. When nearly cooked, add the seasoning of salt, remove to a hot platter, which has been covered with buttered toast, or crisp baking powdered biscuits split, make a sour cream gravy of the following ingredients, one and one-half cups of chicken broth, three-fourths of a cup of sour cream, and a tablespoon and a half each of butter and flour; cream the butter, rub the flour into it, add slowly to the broth and bring to a boil, then add the sour cream, reheat, and season with salt and pepper; do not allow to boil after the sour cream has been added.

JELLIED VEGETABLE RING

Two tablespoons of gelatine, one-fourth of a cup of cold water, one cup of boiling water, two tablespoons of lemon juice, one teaspoon of salt, one tablespoon of sugar, one cup of cooked peas, one-half a cup of cooked string beans, one-half a cup of cooked carrots, cut in thin strips, one-half a cup of shredded cabbage; soak the gelatine in cold water for five minutes, dissolve in the boiling water, add the vinegar, lemon juice, salt and sugar, allow to cool until slightly thickened, combine the vegetables, and fold into the gelatine mixture, turn in a ring mold and chill until firm; turn out on a bed of crisp lettuce, garnish with radishes and serve.

BLACKBERRY PUDDING

Beat one well-beaten egg with half a cup of sugar and one cup of milk; add to the mixture two cups of sifted flour, sifted with three teaspoons of baking powder and half a teaspoon of salt; mix well, pour half the batter into a well-buttered baking dish, add two cups of blackberries that have been sugared, cover with the remaining batter and bake in a moderate oven; serve with a lemon sauce.

PASADENA TO SIFT CHARGES

Discharged Inspector's Statements Start Quiz; City Engineer to be Called in Case

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 21. (Exclusive)—City Engineer Warren C. Earle and other members of the City Engineering Department will be asked to appear at the District Attorney's office within a few days in connection with reports made by a former street inspector of asserted overcharge on paving contracts, it was revealed tonight by J. A. Burwald, special investigator for the District Attorney.

Following a meeting of the Board of City Directors called today to consider charges of irregularities in city paving contracts, Chairman R. L. Daugherty announced that while a technical irregularity had been discovered in the department's records, no evidence of any kind reflecting upon Earle's integrity has been unearthed.

In connection with an asserted irregularity in the Linda Vista paving contract, Daugherty explained that the charge resulted from the fact that when it was found necessary to install larger drains than the contract provided for the extra financing was obtained by charging the difference to the paving.

"This may have been illegal technically," said Daugherty, "although ethically correct and for the best interests of taxpayers."

G. C. Allen, former paving inspector, whose report of irregularities following his dismissal precipitated a thorough investigation of the engineering department records, is asserted to have declined to make his accusations in writing. He will be brought face to face with Earle at the District Attorney's office, according to Investigator Burwald.

What to Do

One pound of cheese equals two pounds of meat in food value.

A few drops of glycerine added to the starch will make linens glossy.

Give your hands a daily bath in lemon juice to keep them soft and white.

Whole cloves will answer the same purpose as moth balls when sprinkled through stored clothing.

Knives will polish more quickly if they are warmed before the cleanser is applied. Dip in boiling water, dry, and apply polish immediately.

THOUSANDS OF EYES ON SOUTHLAND

All-Year Club Reports Flood of Inquiries from Contemplated Visitors

Thousands of inquiries about pleasure trips to Southern California have been received by the All Year Club monthly from last October 1 to May 1, from every State in this country, Canada, and numerous cities in various parts of the world. This announcement was made yesterday by Don Thomas, executive secretary, to show some outstanding results of the national advertising campaign conducted by this organization in newspapers and magazines.

The ten leading States and the number of inquiries received from them during the foregoing period are: New York, 6425; Pennsylvania, 3190; Ohio, 3095; Illinois, 3071; Michigan, 2419; New Jersey, 2396; Massachusetts, 2393; Texas, 2091, and Wisconsin, 1813.

Foreign countries from which inquiries have been received by the club during the last six months about pleasure trips to Southern California are: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, British West Indies, Canal Zone, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Czecho-Slovakia, Denmark, Dutch East Indies, Dutch West Indies, Ecuador, England, Egypt, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Guatemala, Hawaii, Holland, Hungary, India, Irak, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Jerusalem, Mexico, Netherlands, Newfoundland, Nigeria, Norway, Palestine, Panama, Paraguay, Persia, Peru, Philippines, Porto Rico, Portugal, Russia, Scotland, Spain, Straits Settlements, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, Uruguay and Venezuela.

LINDBERGH WILL PILOT ON NEW RUN

Air-Rail Coast-to-Coast Forty-eight-Hour Service to Start on July 8

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will be at the controls of the Transcontinental Air Transport plane City of Los Angeles when the air liner takes off here the morning of July 8 on her maiden trip over the forty-eight-hour air-rail route between Los Angeles and New York. He will be in the pilot's seat of the City of San Francisco the following day when she arrives as the first westbound plane over the route.

Definite word that the flying colonel will carry through the schedule proposed for him in connection with dedication ceremonies of the new line was received here yesterday by H. W. Beck, western traffic manager of the company.

"According to definite advice from our St. Louis office, Col. Lindbergh will pilot the first ship from Los Angeles, leaving here at 8:45 a.m." said Mr. Beck. "In all probability he will be present at the dedication ceremonies July 7. He also will pilot the first ship into Los Angeles, July 9."

Masquers' Club Returns Hardy

Sam Hardy is the unanimous choice of the Masquers' Club to succeed himself as president of the organization, the election to be held Tuesday. This is the first time in the history of the club that a president or harlequin has headed the ticket for the second time.

For the jesterate the new nominations are Robert Armstrong, Melville Brown and Albert Ray. Harvey Clark and Lawrence Grant, members of last year's board, will continue in office. John M. Sainpolis is the new selection for pantaloon, succeeding Earl Fox.

WIFE GETS DIVORCE

Story of Other Woman Sitting on Husband's Lap Wins Suit

Thomas Ramsey Tipton sat in his office with a woman in his lap, Mrs. Florence Tipton testified in Superior Judge Hanby's court yesterday, and in the woman's lap was a bottle of liquor. This conduct, it seemed to Judge Hanby, constituted cruelty. He granted Mrs. Tipton's divorce.

Other evidence adduced by Mrs. Tipton included testimony that her husband pointed a gun at her, that he choked her and handled her roughly, and was drunk continually.

Tipton, in court to oppose his wife's charges, said she nagged and annoyed him and once tried to hit him with a pickax.

LINKING OF JOBS URGED

City Engineer Shaw yesterday suggested to the Council that the proposed widening of the roadway in Flower street, between Venice Boulevard and Washington street, be combined with the Olive-street and Twenty-third-street improvement district. The recommendation was filed with the Public Works Committee.

MRS. NIGH NAMES ACTRESS

Director's Wife on Stand in Separate Maintenance Suit Accuses Motion-Picture Man

Declaring that her husband, William Nigh, film director, whose real name is Emil Kruschke, was too friendly with Jeanne Jarvis, motion-picture actress, Mrs. Citta Kruschke, yesterday gave testimony in Superior Judge Schmidt's court in her separate maintenance suit against Kruschke.

The director will take the stand Monday, his attorney said, for the purpose of denying his wife's accusations. In his cross-complaint, in which he asks a divorce, Kruschke says that even if he was too friendly with the actress his wife has since forgiven him.

Kruschke and Burt Trowbridge, his chauffeur, in December, 1927 were charged with a felony over the asserted beating of Edward Usher, Jr., former Michigan football star, when Usher and Miss Jarvis were attacked while leaving a home in Laurel Canyon. Usher charged that the beating was caused by Kruschke's jealousy over the affections of the actress. The felony charge against Kruschke was dismissed after he went into Justice Court in El Monte and paid a $100 fine after pleading guilty to simple assault.

Later a new felony charge of assault was brought against Nigh and Trowbridge, the director being charged with assault with a deadly weapon and the chauffeur with assault to commit murder. These charges also were dismissed when Dep. Dist.-Atty. McKay appeared before Superior Judge Craig with a dismissal motion. The Trowbridge charge was dismissed for lack of evidence and the Nigh charge on grounds that the defendant already had been once in jeopardy, on account of his appearance before the El Monte court.

Mrs. Kruschke, under provisions of a temporary order, gets $75 per week. Kruschke testified he receives $1500 a week salary, so the court order that he spend $75 on himself, $600 for entertaining purposes, and put the rest in the bank pending trial of the divorce action.

Visitor Declares Asserted Wife Slayer Got Weapon from Garage and Fired

Lee A. Wirt, 2759 Marengo street, yesterday heard A. R. Ramos, a visitor at his home at the time Mrs. Frances Wirt was shot to death last Saturday, describe events leading up to the tragedy. Ramos, who resides at 221-A South Avenue Eighteen, declared he was in the next room with another visitor and partially overheard a quarrel between Wirt and his wife.

Questioned by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Bialock, Ramos said Wirt went through the room in which he was and outside to the garage, returning in a few moments with a shotgun which he was loading. The shot was fired an instant later, he declared.

Following the shooting, Wirt fled, and was captured two days later in the home of a friend in Stanton. The hearing was continued by Municipal Judge Ballard until Monday at 10 a.m.

Frankness Wins Probation for Owner of Still

Epifanio F. Ayala thought he knew a good method of meeting the financial responsibilities of a property owner, and apparently everything would have worked out all right if the officers had stayed away.

But the officers didn't stay away, so yesterday Ayala was before Judge Aggeler on a charge of possession of a still. He pleaded guilty and asked for probation.

"What were you doing with that still," asked Judge Aggeler.

"Why, your honor," said Ayala, "I was just trying to pay off the assessments on my lot."

"Your frankness is at least deserving of some consideration," the court remarked. "If I grant probation will you go back and start another still to pay those assessments?"

"No," said Ayala, "my friends have agreed to pay them."

Judge Aggeler ordered Ayala placed on probation for three years.

Public Invited to See Antiques

A collection of antique furniture, silverware, ceramics, textiles and paintings, representing a lifelong search in all parts of the world for rare and beautiful things, has been placed on public exhibition, it was announced yesterday, in the galleries of the Los Angeles Museum at Exposition Park. It is the collection of Mrs. Edwin Greble of 1219 West Fifth street, and aims to stimulate the interest of residents of Los Angeles in the preservation of worthwhile historical material and objects of art.

The exhibit includes an Astor piano made in England in 1790, a piecrust table of the eighteenth century, miniatures of Marie Antoinette and Mme. Pompadour and a portrait of Robert Burns.

ENGINEERING GRADUATES SAID TO LACK CULTURE

"During the past thirty years there has been a steadily increasing curriculum of technical subjects in our colleges, which has crowded out English, economics, philosophy and languages, subjects which the engineer of earlier days included in his education. The result is that we have overspecialized engineers—diligent, practical, serious and technically efficient, it is true, but otherwise uncultured, and thus handicapped in the economic struggle of today. I believe the pendulum already has begun to swing back and we may soon have engineer graduates with a better balanced education," said Philip Schuyler, editor of Western Construction News of San Francisco, in a lecture at the University of Southern California yesterday before a class of sanitary engineers attending the summer course in public administration. Mr. Schuyler's topic was "How to Write an Article for a Technical Periodical."

"The two shortcomings of the engineer of today are his inability to express himself clearly, concisely, and therefore convincingly in speech and in writing, and his lack of salesmanship," he said.

"It's worth going to Europe just for the thrill of getting home again!"

RAMON NAVARRO.

Talking pictures are the talk of Europe, says Novarro, and in Germany, France and England producers are making plans for films in their own languages. He predicts a boom year for films all over the world.

Novarro passed several weeks in Berlin, where he had planned to make his operatic debut in "Tosca." He was seriously ill there, however, so the operatic appearance was postponed until next season. He was on the trip three months.

BRITISH CONSUL AIDS SEARCH FOR MISSING

Henry Bancroft-Livingston, acting British Consul in Los Angeles, yesterday announced he has received inquiries from relatives regarding the whereabouts of the following persons: L. J. Davis, J. J. Emmett, Owen James Callum, R. A. Lewis, Ellen Manns, Mrs. John Melia, Annie L. Miles, G. T. Owen and James Rutherford. He requested that any information concerning them be communicated to the British Consulate at 117 West Ninth street.

WIDOW ENDEAVORS TO END HER OWN LIFE

The combination of financial worry and despondency over the death of her husband last February, yesterday led Mrs. Pauley Rutledge, 30 years of age, to attempt suicide, according to a police report, by drinking poison at her home, 1103 West Forty-second street. Neighbors rushed her to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where after emergency treatment Police Surgeon Saverien reported she will recover.

QUEENS HIGH

The late Ambassador Myron Herrick said at the Winterhalter exhibition in Paris:

"Winterhalter was the fashionable painter of his day. His day was the second empire and how vividly this Winterhalter portrait of the beautiful Eugenie brings the second empire back to us.

"It brings back, too, the bon mot of a republican of those days.

"'Royalty,' the republican grumbled, 'is a nuisance, but if you must be ruled by royalty a queen is better than a king.'

"'Yes? Why?' they asked him, and their thoughts turned to England and Victoria.

"'Because,' the republican answered, 'when a queen is on the throne the country is ruled by men, but when a king is in the saddle it is ruled by women.'"

TEACHING THE CHINESE

Many are Learning to Read and Write Their Own Language

Mr. Y. C. James Yen, popularly called "Jimmie," who carries the degree of A.B., Yale, 1918, and of A.M., Princeton, 1920, is one of the greatest educators that China ever has produced, for through his mass education movement he has gained international fame as its founder and he and his assistants have provided the means by which 5,000,000 illiterate Chinese have learned how to read their own language.

Mr. Yen, in the Asia Magazine, points out that China is a nation not of big cities, but of 1835 fundamental units, called hsien. They are akin to large-sized American counties. More than 85 per cent of the 400,000,000 people are a rural population living in these hsien. And the hsien is the key unit in this reconstruction of China. The life in one hsien is in principle the same as the life in another. Create a pattern of life in one and it may be extended through mass education to the other 1834.

Mr. Yen's object is to raise the intellectual, economic and moral level of the farmers. "Four years ago we decided to develop a modern Chinese rural community as a pattern in a typical hsien," Mr. Yen explains. "We selected Ting Hsien, about six hours' train ride from Peking, as a representative Chinese rural unit. It contains approximately 400,000 souls, living in about 400 villages. An outstanding man and scholar, Mi Ti-kang, residing in that district, gave Mr. Yen much valuable assistance.

According to Mr. Yen, his movement had to start in the villages. The villages are controlled by the village elders, and they are very suspicious of anything imposed on a village from without. Mr. Yen, therefore, had to get the support, first, of the village elders and thus pave the way for his scheme of education.

The village elder is generally a man well known for philanthropy, for scholarship and integrity of character. He is elected by the heads of families, who also choose a vice-elder. These two men run the whole village government.

"The village folk in China have been sadly neglected," says Mr. Yen, "but they are for this very reason more teachable than the townspeople. The Chinese farmer, in fact, together with the artisan and merchant, has been for centuries under a handicap of which those who have heard of China's reverence for learning are little aware. It is true that education is held in the highest esteem. But the ability to read and write has been traditionally regarded as the special possession of the scholar class, just as medical knowledge is the special possession of the doctor. The four traditionally worthy classes of Chinese society are the scholar—the reader of books—the farmer, the artisan and the merchant. Worthy as all four classes are, the idea of a farmer's being also a reader of books, a mechanic or an artisan a scholar, was alien to the Chinese conception. Who but the scholar should learn to read? The farmer, the artisan, the merchant, take it fo. granted that people of their class should not read. They look upon their illiteracy not as a shame or a disgrace but as a natural part of their life.

"We came to the village, as we had gone to artisan and merchant of the town, with a different idea. Under the republican regime, we believe, every Chinese man, woman and child should learn to read. 'Scholar' and 'farmer' should no longer stand in separate categories. We perceived a new union — the 'scholar-farmer'—developed in the 'people's school,' a school not for 'common' people but for 'equal' people, as the Chinese idiom has it. We have no such term as 'common' people. Pin, which we have adopted as our national watchword, stands for equality—equality of man, equality of opportunity. It also means peace. The term 'Pin Min Chiao-yu,' the name of our movement, is more significant, therefore, in its literal translation, 'Equal People's Education,' than in the more idiomatic 'Mass Education.'

"There was good cause, then, for the astonishment of the village elder over our plan. There was something resembling magic in our proposal. We would say to the elder: 'Give one hour a day to this school and, after ninety-six hours in the classroom, you will have completed the readers. Your village is not the first upon which we have tried this plan. We have already taught several thousands of village people and hundreds of thousands of city people. Are you willing to give us a chance in your village? Won't you call together the heads of the families of your village? You preside, and the rest of us will speak.'

"The venerable elder would be visibly impressed. He would go out and call on a few of the important members of the village, who would meet with us. 'These fine gentlemen have come to our village to try to help every one of us to be a reader of books,' the elder would tell them. 'We can still go on with our farming, without putting down our plows or wasting our time. We shall spend just one hour a day, and it will not cost us more than 3 cents for a book, with only four books to be bought. These gentlemen say they have already taught thousands of people. Shall we cooperate with them in their school?'

"Then this group of venerable villagers would be organized into a committee of about ten, whose business it was to finance the school, get the classrooms and the students and then continue and develop the work."

Then the committee would get out the village gong and beat it, and the entire village would assemble in a mass meeting in front of the open-air stage that every Chinese village of any size, however poor, possesses. The elder would preside, the committee would sit on the platform and Mr. Yen would explain the organization of the school. Maybe only one or two out of 1000 or more could read their own language. But Mr. Yen, in his magazine article, says that though the Chinese masses may be uneducated or illiterate, they are not unintelligent; that their recognized skill as intensive farmers is one of many evidences; that overseas Chinese, most of whom went out from the illiterate classes, have established themselves, and that 70 per cent of the trade in the Philippine Islands today, for instance, is in the hands of the Chinese.

ART IN SOUTH [illegible]

Frank Brangwyn, the [illegible] artist, who is known [illegible] for his splendid drawings [illegible] structures, bridges, buildings [illegible] drals, etc., has written to the [illegible] ernors of South Africa's National Gallery at Cape Town [illegible] he will shortly forward [illegible] of his choicest etchings to [illegible] lery and that fifty or a [illegible] others may follow at some [illegible] date.

The gallery, which is in a [illegible] lic garden at Cape Town, is [illegible] dized by the Union [illegible]. For a new institution [illegible] especially fortunate in [illegible] famous English painters [illegible] pictures to it of late. [illegible] number is Augustus John.

South Africa has during [illegible] decades been the recipient of [illegible] noteworthy artistic [illegible]. Most important of these is the [illegible] of old Dutch masters that Sir [illegible] Michaelis, a German South [illegible] gold-mining magnate, [illegible] the city of Cape Town. At a [illegible] of about $1,000,000 he obtained [illegible] ty-eight choice paintings, including work by Franz Hals, Van [illegible] Ruysdael and other great [illegible] landers.

Apart from the Michaelis [illegible] for which a beautiful [illegible] constructed in a picturesque [illegible] teenth century house, Sir [illegible] nated to the Cape Town Art [illegible] a large and priceless set of [illegible] by Raphael, Leonardo da Vinci [illegible] other immortals.

Johannesburg is now [illegible] extensions to its municipal [illegible]. Most of the pictures in it are [illegible] ern, but good judges, like the [illegible] Sir Hugo Lane of Ireland, [illegible] the collection to be one of the [illegible] of its kind anywhere. [illegible] gent and Whistler are among [illegible] American artists whose [illegible] shown.

Apart from imported [illegible] South Africa buys the [illegible] her own painters. Several of [illegible] have acquired a reputation [illegible] Europe and America, notably [illegible] liam Timlin, whose fantastic [illegible] city drawings have appeared [illegible] American publications and [illegible] "Ship That Sailed to Mars" [illegible] soon be filmed at Hollywood. [illegible] average white South African [illegible] pictures of his own country. [illegible] quently art sales in [illegible] Johannesburg are well [illegible].

As in most new territories [illegible] ernist ideas meet with [illegible]. Even local artists who paint [illegible] manner get no support, and it [illegible] not till two of them, Edward [illegible] and Irma Stern, went to [illegible] and Berlin, respectively, that [illegible] art met with approval.—[San Francisco Chronicle.

KERCHIEFS AND PE[illegible]

The ancient and homely [illegible] "It is ill to drive black hogs in the dark," is confirmed by [illegible] recently conducted by [illegible] the General Electric Company [illegible] determine the visibility of [illegible] ans on an unlighted road. [illegible] proverb, to be sure, [illegible] long before the invention of [illegible] mobiles, and at a time when [illegible] practice of driving hogs in the [illegible] was so well known, and its [illegible] tudes so generally understood [illegible] the wisdom of the saying [illegible] to the success of any [illegible] immediately perceptible.

There is at present talk [illegible] legislators in several States [illegible] the practicability of compelling [illegible] destrians to carry a light [illegible] they travel in their [illegible] over unlighted roads. [illegible] such legislation is easier to [illegible] than it would be to enforce [illegible] idea invites humorous [illegible] which, however, probably [illegible] prevent some pedestrians from [illegible] ciding for themselves and taking [illegible] sensible precaution of [illegible] panying lantern or electric [illegible] when they adventure [illegible] roads. The engineers were [illegible] cerned with lanterns or [illegible] with examination of the [illegible] which affect pedestrian [illegible] under the glare of automobile [illegible] lights. A white-clad pedestrian [illegible] discovered, was visible [illegible] than a dark-clad pedestrian [illegible] dentally they hit upon a [illegible] that any pedestrian may take [illegible] unlighted road without [illegible] ing himself with [illegible] pediments. The important [illegible] to remember when he leaves [illegible] is that he must not (as [illegible] happens even in broad [illegible]) forget his handkerchief [illegible] his handkerchief dependent [illegible] side the pedestrian will [illegible] vided himself with "one of [illegible] signals" for automobiles [illegible] ing from either direction [illegible] larger his handkerchief [illegible] the better; and better yet [illegible] carries it that it flares [illegible].

One wonders whether [illegible] servant driver, 300 or 400 [illegible] didn't hit upon the scheme [illegible] ing a white rag to the tail [illegible] black hog.—[Christian [illegible] Monitor.

COMPARING HOLIDAYS

California holidays are [illegible] tumultuous; the quietest and [illegible] tiest holiday-makers I know [illegible] the Japanese. The Japanese [illegible] he wants recreation, goes [illegible] at flowers. And when he [illegible] the flowers, he does not [illegible] enough tear them up by the [illegible] or sit down on them, or put [illegible] female companion's hat, or [illegible] a portable gramophone [illegible] even eat bananas, or shrimps [illegible] paper bags and throw the [illegible] on to the grass. No, he sits [illegible] on looking at the flowers [illegible] his humble wife and his [illegible] babies walk click-clack-click [illegible] their clogs, round and round [illegible] flowers, talking in soft [illegible] about the flowers. By and by [illegible] all take out of bright [illegible] handkerchiefs neat [illegible] bento—(rice mixed with a [illegible] pers or fragments of dried [illegible] and they neatly make [illegible] their chopsticks [illegible] the flowers all the time [illegible] one holiday and another [illegible] hear Japanese talking of a [illegible] tree in blossom as we [illegible] talk of a baseball favorite or a [illegible] winner.

The Chinese are a [illegible] people, but, like the [illegible] seem to have a [illegible] all their gayety [illegible] rather than [illegible] Chinese and the English [illegible] en notice, much in [illegible] it were not for the [illegible] guage, a Chinese [illegible] vendor and a London [illegible] could always enjoy each [illegible] jokes in perfect [illegible] so long as they were [illegible] jokes. But, like the [illegible] Chinese coolie on holiday [illegible] his stiff best clothes and [illegible] best manners [illegible] with his wife [illegible] self-conscious [illegible] and their wives [illegible] nese holiday [illegible] riably most [illegible] son in "World [illegible]
